"UNTO THE LEAST OF THESE_"

If morons who drive their cars recklessly in school sones don't mend their ways they are going to feel the cold, icy fingers of the law just where it is most unpleasant, according to Ed. Blackwell, city manager and Police Chief Dowd.

These officials are issuing an appeal to all drivers to use common sense and judgment while driving when children are about. If the appeal to their betir the appeal to their better senses (if any) has no effect they declare they are going to give anyone caught in such an act all the law allows. In short they are going to throw the book at the hums.
