EDUCATE THE MASSES.

The character of a people is in a great measure estimated by the character of the government, nor can the rale be regarded as an unreasonable one. If the masser are virtuous and for a corrupt government to ensue than there is reason to expect corrupt forit from a good and sound tree.

If, however, the masses are ignorant and degraded, it is natural to expect their representatives to be similarly affected. It should therefore be the pride of the people to look well to the character of their government. Public opinion is a potent influence, and it is of the highest importance that it should be correctly formed. That public opinion which commends men for what is improperly called political shrewdness is utterly false, and inevitably tends to corruption and degradation, for this shiewdness is but a milder term for dishonesty, of which any rogue is capable. As long they are afraid to condemn the wrong with this issue. because it may be popular, or to support the right because it may be in a minority, we cannot expect a high tone either in morals or politics.

If we wish to correct the government, the surest and best plan is to correct the morals of the people.

The general diffusion of education is, therefore, our greatest need; and this education will fall short of the mark unless moral training is combined with mental culture, and inculcated by example as well as precept.

THURLOW WEED'S LETTER.

This veteran journalist has written a letter in which he discusses at great length the defeat of the republican party, and the situation generally. He denounces "third termism" as dangerous to any party, and while claims that the republican party is not responsible for the general stagnation in business, he admits that the administration has failed to do much that may have mitigated the evils which have resulted.

He thinks the administration was seriously weakened and wounded by the congressional "back-pay grab," by treasury department imbecilities, by Sanborn contracts, and Washington City Government frauds.

He says further:

As soon as the reading clerk uttered the words "unjust and unwarantable conclusions," Speaker Elliott violently rapped his gavel, and the virtuous House refused to hear the further reading of the letter.

The treasurer also farnished a list showing the disbursement of $112,000 on account of employees and contingent expenses, which did not seem to set so well on many of the General Assembly. At this juncture many whose names appeared arose to explain, among whom was Speaker Elliott, whose name adorned the list with a suffix of $1,000. He explained that he got it as a fee for assisting the special committee investigating the sinking intelligent, there is no more reason fund commission in 1873. These ugly threats of the State treasurer seem to have thrown a temporary damper over the patriotic ardor of the General Assembly."

The News and Courier reporter says that the chadbands are mad because the committee failed to recommend the impeachment of the fat tressurer.

The treasurer's reply to the committee report was made at the appointed time, and is regarded as conclusive on most points.

VALEDICTORY.

Finding that my increasing duties as teacher and surveyor demand my undivided attention, I feel called upon as men are such slaves of policy that to resign my position in the TIMES

In my editorial control of the paper I have endeavored, in my feeble way, to advance those principles of pure and liberal democracy, which, in the language of Jefferson, mean, "equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever state or persuasion."

As to the present popularity of these views I have never given any serious concern, being thoroughly satisfied with their soundness and ultimate triumph.

Of course, after this issue, I will have no influence in the conduct of the paper, but I can at least indulge the hope that the chair which I now vacate may be more worthily filled. STILES R. MELLICHAMP.

A COTTON FACTORY.

Some time ago a meeting was held n Orangeburg to take into consideration the feasibility of establishing a factory in this vicinity. A committee was appointed at this meeting to enquire into the matter and report at a subsequent meeting. These meetings were held at the time of the financial panic, and, on this account, the subject seems to have been dropped.

We are aware of the difficulty of inaugurating or sustaining anything founded alone upon patriotism; but in an enterprise like this of establishing a cotton factory, which must be a direct pecuniary benefit to our farmers, as well as every one else bwning property which they wish enhanced by increased population, we are at a loss to account for the apparent indifference. Everything is favorable for such an enterprise in Orangeburg, and if there is not capital enough in the community, why not organize and invite co-operation from abroad? We must help ourselves if we wish to prosper.

We would invite attention to the advertisement of the grand gift concert to be held in Greensboro', N. C. on March 17th. The object is the erection of an Odd Fellows' Temple, and the drawing is proposed to be done with perfect fairness. Mr. Thos. B. Boyd is the agent at this place, to whom we would refer for further information.

THE WAR AGAINST CARDOZO.

The committee of the General Assembly charged with the duty of examining into the financial condition of the State have made a report vigorously condemning State Treasurer Carodozo for certain measures and official actions. In answer there to the treasurer says that the full amount of the appropriation $112,000 was paid out, and that there was an over-issue of pay certificates amounting to $140,000; that of the $140,000 certificates presented to him he paid $112,000, and he is informed that there are full $50,000 now outstanding. He denounces the over-issue of the certificates as a fraud, and says that it was kept a secret from him until he found it out by the fact that the appropriation had been exhausted.

In another communication he says:

"J have carefully read the entire report, and deem it a duty to myself to reply to its unjust and unwarantable conclusions.

"I have also further important evidence to furnish, which will aid materially in the discussion and settlement of the questions raised in the report. I have also refrained from. on account of its probable injurious effects upon others."

THE GRANT PROGRAMME.-Writ-THE GRANT PROGRAMME.— Writ-ing from Washington to the New York Tribune, Mr. James S. Pike says it is not necessary to be a great while in the Capital city to ascertain that "all this Southern business means a third term." The President is after it, and Mr. Pike wouldn't be much surprised if he were to get it. To begin with, he is now certain of the negro and carpet bag delegations, who will represent the South in the next Republican Nominating Convention. These will be "the dead weight of the convention, not amenable to high pub-lic considerations." He is represented lic considerations." He is reasonably certain of the delegations from the Democratic States of the North-New York, New Jersey, Indiana, &c. He may hope pretty confidently to pick up more or less drift-wood from such doubtful States as Pennsylvania and Ohio. Mr. Pike doesn't see why his chances for carrying off the nomination from all competitors are not ex-cellent. Leading Republicans evigiving this evidence to the committee dentiy take the same view, and are prudently reticent. But the dividing line is "being siler thy drawn."

cause or not, for Mr. Cuttino is an able and interesting speaker on all subjects.

SALE-DAY

Was lively, our farmess turning out in strong force. Of course it is a busy time now with the planting community, but this day seems, by common consent, to be set apart as a time of relaxation by the tillers of the ground, the nations hope-and it is well for it to be so, for a pleasant gathering and interchange of views relieves the monotony of their quiet but happy occupation.

Mr. James Geraty, an estimable young white man who kept a store near Edisto landing, was brutally murdered on last Wednesday night by two negroes by the rame of Smith and Gibbes. The decd was done without any provocation whatever, the parties wishing to take their goods without paying for them.

Mr. Geraty was struck in the head with a large stick and died in about an hour. The murderers have been arrested.

THE YOUNG AMERICAS

Turned out again on Tuesday afternoon, and presented a fine appearance under their new officers, in spite of the disagreeable weather. President Samuel Dibble was in command, and we understand that a fresh impetus has been given to this useful organization.

The Comet Fire Company also turned out on the same afternoon, showing unabated zeal in the welfare of our good old Burg. This company deserves thanks for valuable aid rendercd in times of need.
