

THE DARLINGTON NEWS.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1879.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Cock-fighting is growing beautifully small.

Collier first Monday in October—Judge Kerlan presiding.

There is a great deal of fever prevailing in and about this community.

Messrs Woods, McCall and Early have returned from their pleasure trip North.

It is the general opinion now that the cotton crop in this county will fall short of what was expected.

There are very few prospects of Darlington getting the town scales—and Timmonsville will not get weighed.

The market here tells you to the market to buy beef for breakfast—when there is any. This is the latest.

We are informed that in lower Darlington, where rice is cultivated to considerable extent, that the crop is particularly fine.

WANTED! QUICK! For particularly purposes! Every dollar we have earned during the summer just ended. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Mr. P. KAMES has received an endless supply of fall and winter goods, which he will advertise in the News next week; Mr. G. Richard likewise.

The cotton crop is already about two-thirds done. The race will soon be run; too soon, we fear, for many of us who hope to get our fingers pretty deep into the pie.

BEET—Messrs. W. B. McSwain & Co will furnish the market with good beef four days in every week. They certainly furnish the very best of beef, or have done so, thus far. See their notice.

OUR JEWISH CITIZENS will suspend all business operations for two days, next week—Thursday and Friday—for their New Year's Festival. Ten days later—Saturday, 25th instant, will be their Attonement Day.

Verily the country is growing rich, if we may judge by the numerosity of the fires and tents floating around in pursuit of a change last Saturday. You could not meet a man who didn't want a five or ten dollar bill changed.

We don't want to be troublesome, but the next man that scratches the face of this establishment by coming here to get his shoes half-sold will need medical aid. This is no half-sold establishment, and we don't intend it shall be patronized in any capacity whatsoever.

A MATEL ENFERMIER was arrested yesterday about 11 P. M. by the alarm of fire, which was caused by the burning of some clothes which had grown up the chimney to Mr. W. H. Huston's dwelling house and ignited while the suit was being burnt out of the chimney.

It is due to Mr. John Hutchinson to say that he is the happy possessor of securities of low and even higher value, and some of the most valuable investments made in these columns by a citizen. Mr. H. is a man of an average of any thirty business years, but we think he will be agreeably disappointed when he gets them.

A VERY BEING RECALLED and liberally subscribed to throughout the South, in aid of the education of Gen. J. B. Hood, who were left on a desolate condition at the recent death of a dear benefactor. The cause is a worthy one. Why not the Darlingtonites, ever ready to support the needs of the deserving ones, supply a press for the good purpose?

ATTENTION is called to the advertisement of Mr. W. B. Oakes, saddler and harness maker, which appears in this paper. Mr. Oakes knows his business exactly and does not mean to be "F." No one need have any fear of getting shod by work from him, for he has followed the business all his life, and does none but the very best work. His prices are very reasonable.

MR. J. FRANK EARLY is opening and carrying on his shrewd and dazzling array of new goods, purchased during his recent visit North, and described in his advertisement in this issue of the News. From Mr. Early's reputation for good taste and his historical disposition to buy close and keep up with low prices, it is very reasonable to suppose that the quality and prices of his stock could hardly be excelled in this market.

THE C. & D. RAILROAD COMPANY are making some much-needed improvements at their depot at this place. An extensive addition is being built to the freight platform, and a gateway opened by which vehicles may pass around or on either side of the platform for loading or unloading. It will add much to the convenience of that part of the public who patronize the road from this place, as well as of the efficient and popular station agent, Mr. H. L. Charles.

QUESTIONS: While the Town Council are doing most excellent work in grading the hill leading to Swift Creek, would it not be well for them, though beyond their jurisdiction, to repair the road opposite the fair grounds? Some ten horses, mules or ox, pulling a load of hen coops might fall in the wash, and cause mourning and lamentation among the denizens of our town. Think, too, of the danger of the bar sex in the hands of careless drivers while taking an evening's drive to or from our watering place.

THE SOUTHERN PLASTER AND FARMER for September, is an unusually good number. Every article it contains is of vital importance to the farmer. Interesting experiences in the cultivation of Wheat, Best Varieties, Fertilizers, &c., by a number of the best farmers in the country, is worth double the subscription. Also, Dr. Elleg's article on Gen. J. B. Hood's Campaign, and notes and Commercial Fertilizers—a strong paper, and ought to be read by every farmer. Sent 25c to Dr. L. B. DICKSON, Darlington, S. C.

MESS. MARCO & LEWENTHAL have shipped twenty-nine bales of new cotton.

COMPLAINTS are made every week of the failure of some of our subscribers at Cartersville to receive their papers. Some of them, to whom we are sure it is sent every week, affirm that they some times fail to get it for two months at a time. Mail-matter is liable to be misplaced occasionally where ever so much care is exercised, but when it is squandered by the wholesale every week there can be no excuse for it. If all the reports we hear be true Cartersville is very much in need of a new Post Master.

TAXPAYERS TAKE NOTICE—The books will be opened at the Treasurer's office on Monday next, at 9 o'clock A. M. Come up in one, so that you will not be crowded out in the least moment. See notice in another column of the days the Treasurer will be at different places in the office. He informs us that he will not keep the office open at night, that he will not receive taxes by mail or express, except from non-residents of the county, and that, in order to avoid mistakes, he will not make out receipts from lists of names, unless the party having the list is present.

Prices of Cotton for the Last Decade.

Table showing the range of the prices of cotton during the last ten years, with columns for year, price per bale, and other details.

TIMMONSVILLE ITEMS.

—Frost is looked for early.

—The weather has been excellent for picking cotton.

—The remains of Mr. Abel S. Jones, who was for years an inmate of the Lunatic Asylum at Columbia, arrived here on Thursday night last. They were taken in charge by the family of the deceased, for interment.

—Hon. Hugh S. Thompson, our accomplished State Superintendent of Education, spent a night with us last week, at the residence of Mrs. J. E. Keith, being on his return from Darlington to his official home.

—Mr. G. W. Coker and Mr. W. P. Woodham, it is rumored, propose going into business here soon. They were found recently at Dr. J. E. Byrd's office comfortably thinking over the matter. That is a good place to go to think over a new enterprise.

—Mr. W. M. Lewis, a young man in the employ of Mr. Theodore Kiker as book-keeper, has recently been taken sick, and found it advisable to resort to his home in Sumter until he shall recover, which it is hoped will be at an early day.

—Hard things are said about mothers-in-law. Sometimes there are grounds. But it looks rather extreme to become involved in an act of shooting one, no matter what the grounds. Such an instance is said to have happened the other day over towards Lynch creek.

—For rent—the Railroad Woodhouse. Call on the water-trunk man for details. It is not haunted, but will be rented just as cheap. If one applies it will be removed in the course of time. So shall the scribbles be obliterated—that which hath not been robbed of that which it seemed to have, and vacancy shall be made more vacant still.

—Mr. W. H. DeBerry, whose improvements on Railroad street were once before noted, has now moved into the building lately finished, a stock of merchandise consisting of his specialties as by him advertised. It is pleasant to see him come to the front. A man always has a chance to distinguish himself at the front, whether in war or in peace.

—Mr. R. M. Walker, has greatly improved that piece, parcel, or plot of ground situated between the warehouse and cotton platform, by depositing thereon several carloads of a reddish sand obtained not far from the Bee River. This would have been mentioned before, but it was thought best to wait until the sand should get out of its embryonic state of mud and slush.

—"All well that ends well," says Shakespeare. And because Shakespeare said it every body of course accepts it. But where's the advantage of the good end? It would always be preferable to arrive at a place where there shall be a continuation of good—not an end of it. After there is an end of a good thing, it is not so well, though it may have been ever so well before.

—The Estey Organ has arrived. Mr. M. Fletcher Horn has taken the agency at this place for the manufacturers. Let us see now if Mr. Horn has struck the people in a vulnerable place, or whether the people, in a general sense, feel rather too vulnerable all over to be able after they are struck to devote that appreciation to Mr. Horn's instructions which the case calls for. But the Estey Organ has a considerable reputation, and will no doubt be offered cheap by Mr. Horn.

—Cotton is changing the face of things wonderfully. Relations between merchant and planter are rapidly being transformed. The patronizing air which distinguished the former in his summer transactions with his customers, has given place to a bearing very expressive of solicitude. The planter smiles the most substantial smile he has allowed himself to indulge in the whole year, as he pockets his little roll of greenbacks at the cotton desk of the merchant, and the latter smiles so irresistibly back that almost invariably some of the little roll goes back where it came from. But human nature explains all this.

DIED: At his home, on Lynch's creek, on 6th September, 1879, Mr. James Carter, aged 70 years.

At his home, in High Hill Township, on 4th September, 1879, with an illness of about fifteen years, Mr. John Fowler, aged 70 years. Deceased was a consistent member of the Baptist church for many years previous to his death.

CARTERSVILLE ITEMS.

—Mr. R. Peel has finished his store and has it well filled with goods.

—Mr. T. J. Walker has built a gin-house, and has a large quantity of cotton now prepared to give in a month.

—Mr. K. Pennington has moved his stock of merchandise from his old stand to the store formerly occupied by Smith & Smith.

—There is a great deal of sickness in this section. Whooping cough is general among the children. One death is reported, the victim being a little son of Mr. G. W. Wintham.

—Cotton is coming in rapidly—eight bales having been shipped up to the 8th inst. Mr. S. Lane shipped the first bale from this place on the 26th ult. The crop will not be as good as was expected a few weeks ago; only two thirds of a crop will be gathered.

—Mr. James Carter, a respectable citizen, living a few miles above this place, died at his home on Saturday evening last. Mr. Carter was a strict member of the Baptist church and had the friendship of all who knew him. While we sympathize with his family and friends in their loss, we rejoice in the fact that they were not, as those who have no hope.

DOTS FROM DOVES.

—Business is quite lively here. Merchants have opened full stocks, and trade is becoming brisk.

—Mr. A. B. Dove will commence ginning today. He has rearranged his engine and has everything in good order now for ginning for his friends.

—Several M. D's. have been looking around seeing what arrangements could be made to locate here. It will not be long before we will report to you the coming Doctor.

—Cotton picking has commenced here in good earnest and farmers are reaping hands. Let all those who wish work come and they can get forty cents a hundred for picking.

—The usual Fall protest meeting commenced at Black Creek Church on Saturday 20th instant. Revs. Mr. Lide, Hart and others, are looked for to aid Mr. Dargan on the occasion.

F. W. WAGENER & CO., COTTON AND NAVAL STORES FACTORS, AND WHOLESALE GROCERS.

13, 15, 17 & 19 Vendue Range, 163 & 165 EAST BAY, AND 2 & 4 QUEEN STREET, Charleston, S. C.

We beg to return our sincere thanks for the liberal patronage bestowed upon us the past season, and can but assure our friends every endeavor will be made to merit a continuance of the same.

From all reports gathered, a very favorable season awaits us. We cannot advise the opinion of high figures, but the outlook bespeaks a steady tone and active competition, so would advise our friends to send forward their Cotton as fast as possible, as a general rule, would advise sales on arrival. Our charges are moderate, and we shall be happy to furnish Tags to those who intend shipping up their Cotton, if they will indicate the quantity wanted.

Our office is situated in the very centre of the Cotton Market; we do our storing in close warehouses, where cotton is safe from the weather and stealage; we have our own sworn Weigher, who looks closely after the interests of our patrons; and with every facility of handling Cotton, we are enabled to offer every inducement to those who will favor us with their shipments.

Mr. Henry Wagener will continue as our Superintendent, and from his long experience in the Cotton world, we feel assured that all Cotton entrusted to our care will receive every attention, and our desire shall be not only to obtain the highest prices, but to create a lasting confidence.

F. W. Wagener & Co. Sept 13-10

MORE NEW GOODS AND Others Coming!

Prices Lower than Ever! I have just received and opened another new supply.

DRY GOODS & CLOTHING FOR THE FALL AND WINTER TRADE.

to which I respectfully ask the attention of the public as to price and quality.

My stock is now considerably larger than ever before, and the quality of my goods I think will please the taste of the most fastidious.

As to Prices, I am confident that I can compete successfully with any country store in the State.

Which I don't pretend to say that I am selling my goods at "Cost," or as cheap as they can be bought at the Manufacturers. I do say emphatically that I don't mean to be undersold by any house in this section of country who sells as good a quality of goods.

I also have and keep constantly on hand, a full assortment of GROCERIES AND PROVISION, CONFECTIONARIES, TOBACCO AND SEGARS, LIQUORS, &c.,

Which I am selling at prices to suit the times.
