VOL. XXIII, NO. 3.

DARLINGTON, S. C., THURSDAY, JANUARY 16, 1896.

LOCAL LACONICS.

MATTERS IN AND AROUND THE TOWN OF DARLINGTON.

A Column of News, Tersely Told, of Interest to Our Many Readers.

Cotton is bringing 7.25 to 7.90 on this market.

Dr. McGirt's new dental office is over Davis' Drug Store.

Don't forget McCallough & Cooley's great horse sale on Saturday next.

The union services were held at the Baptist Church on Sunday night.

The annual meeting of the Bank of Darlington was held on Tuesday.

Mr. Earle Child, a son of the Rev. R. A. Child, is clerking for M. J. West.

Mr. C. S. Huggins has given up the position which he filled at Smoot & McGill's warehouse.

Mr. J. C. Mooney, who formerly clerked for Sligh & Rucker, is now with Minnaugh in Columbia.

F. H. Weston, Esq., a prominent Columbia attorney, was in town last week on professional business.

The signs of the times are that the amount of fertilizers used in this County will be largely in excess of last year.

The annual meeting of the County Pension Board will be held in the Court House on Monday. A full attendance is requested.

At the last meeting of the Darlington Guards, Mr. D. G. C. C. was appointed a Sergeant and Messrs. B. F. Smoot and L. J. Bristow, Corporals.

Mr. R. E. Andrews, who has been clerking for S. A. Woods & Co. for some time past, has returned to his home at Oats, where he will attend school.

Capt. J. W. Woodham, the County Treasurer, has moved to Darlington, and will occupy with his family the old Sexton house, opposite the Darlington Guards' Armory.

The regular literary meeting of the Epworth League was held at the residence of Mr. L. I. Parrott on Friday night last. The attendance was large, and all present seemed to enjoy themselves.

The Misses Fountain have for rent the large residence now occupied by Mrs. Spinks. The latter has not yet decided to what house she will move, but she will give up keeping a boarding house.

Mrs. Susan E. Crowell died at the home of her son at East-over, on the 6th inst., and was buried at Cypress, in this County, her former home, on the 8th. She was in the 65th year of her age.

The "Fabio Romani" performance at the Opera House on Monday night is said by all who witnessed it to have been unusually fine. The audience present was a large one, and they were delighted with the acting.

The Rev. R. W. Lide returned from Charlotte last Friday very much improved in health, but he was not able to preach on Sunday. Services were, however, conducted at the Baptist Church by the Rev. T. Hartwell Edwards.

A little colored infant was found dead in its bed on Saturday morning last in a house near the Phosphate Works. An inquest was held, and an autopsy was made by Dr. Garner, in whose opinion, death ensued from natural causes.

The lot between the Armory and the outbuildings of the Enterprise hotel is being raised and leveled off so that it can be used by the Darlington Guards as a drill ground. A large arc electric light will be swung over the center of it, and the premises will be greatly improved generally.

Messrs. Coggeshall & Co. advertise that they have for sale ammoniated guano and high grade tobacco fertilizers manufactured by the reliable and well known firm of Powers, Gibbs & Co., of Wilmington, N. C. Read the testimonials which they will publish in these columns from time to time, and you will be convinced that you will be getting the full worth of your money by buying from them.

Rev. A. W. Parrott has another office—that of Chaplain of the State Senate.

The widow of the late Mr. J. Z. Hearon has moved to Darlington with her family, and is occupying Dr. Baird's cottage in East Darlington.

Mr. H. J. LaMotte has rented the old Cleveland House on Pearl Street, and is running a hotel there "on both the American and the European plans."

We publish on our second page this week a very interesting article written by Mr. L. C. Glenn for Science on the subject of the "bays" of Darlington County.

Juan Sylvester, the colored deaf mute who stole Mr. Anderson's watch from his vest pocket at the electric light plant about ten days ago, has been arrested in Sumter, and is held there subject to Sheriff Scarborough's orders.

Mr. A. D. McNair, of Dansville, N. Y., will give a free lecture to the farmers in the Court House on the use of fertilizers on Saturday Jan. 25, at two o'clock. Mr. McNair is a representative of the German Kali Works, of New York City. Every farmer should read his advertisement, which appears in another column.

Mr. A. J. Broom has formed a copartnership with Mr. J. L. Jeffords, his head clerk for so many years, under the firm name of Broom & Jeffords. The new firm will continue business at the stand of A. J. Broom on Pearl street. Mr. Jeffords will have charge of the business here, Mr. Broom continuing to reside at Durham, N. C.

Mr. Herbert G. Osteen, of the Sumter Watchman and Southern, spent Sunday and Monday in Darlington. Mr. Osteen expects to establish in Sumter an early day a periodical devoted to the tobacco interests of South Carolina. He is a clever gentleman and a good newspaper man, and will doubtless score a marked success with his new undertaking.

Dead Letters.

Letters addressed to the following persons remain uncalled for at the Darlington postoffice, and are advertised as "dead" for the week ending Jan. 12th: James M. Paul, W. H. Wadell, W. K. Stuart, James Perkins, Robt. Plowden, Sam J. Davis, Andrew Green, Jefferson Law, Sammie Davis, C. S. Richards (3), Rev. Grant Gregg, Rev. G. Ross, Mrs. Kyg Hugley, Mrs. Bessie Smith, Anna Wright, Lavinia Davis, Adeline Nettles, Mary Prince, Annie Perason, Atha Wilson & Bro., C. Hudley, Ella Gilchrist.

Marriage of Mr. Hane.

Mr. A. E. Hane, Dr. Boyd's new drug clerk, has gone off to get married. The Columbia tate of yesterday says in referring to the matter: "Mr. Albert Hane, formerly of this city and popular with everyone knowing him, is to be married tonight to Miss Dell Watson, the young daughter of the Rev. A. B. Watson, until recently of Greenwood. The ceremony will be performed by the father of the bride. Miss Watson will be sweetly remembered by many who knew her when she attended school in this city."

Who Knows Her?

An attorney residing in Jacksonville, Fla., sends a letter for publication in THE DARLINGTON NEWS which reads as follows: "As the attorney representing certain property here in this city, I am very desirous of finding a certain colored girl supposed some years ago to have gone to your city by the name of Mary Hart. It is possible that there may be some small amount of money or property to come to her by virtue of a partition of certain land here in this city to which she is supposed to be an heir. Any information that you may be able to give me concerning her whereabouts will be appreciated."

Pardoned By The Governor.

The Governor has pardoned Dudley Plato, the colored boy who was convicted in this County several years ago of a criminal assault and sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for life. Plato is but a shadow of his former self, and his best friend could not possibly recognize him. He was a giant of strength when he went to the penitentiary, and a good specimen of physical manhood. He is certainly a most cadaverous looking object now.

A New Preacher For Darlington.

Rev. W. H. Barnwell, a cousin of the former Episcopal minister at Florence, has been appointed by the Bishop to take charge of the churches at Darlington, Mars Bluff and Marion. Mr. Barnwell is a native of Beaufort County, in this State, but has been preaching in Kentucky for the past ten years. He arrived here on Tuesday, and will conduct two services in the Episcopal church on Sunday next—at 11:30 in the morning and 7:30 in the evening. Beginning with the month of February, his regular appointments here will be on the second and fourth Sundays of every month, when he will hold two services a day. Mr. Barnwell's headquarters will be here. His family will remain in Kentucky for the present.

Sale of The Manuel Marco Lands.

Quite a large crowd was in town on Monday to attend the sale of the Manuel Marco lands under the Parker judgment. Mr. Johnnie Reb. Drake, our accomplished auctioneer, conducted the sale with his accustomed grace and spirit. The bidding was lively, and all the land brought fairly good prices. The T. P. King, Best, Cox, Harrell, Outlaw, Woodham, Mollie King, Galloway, DuBose, Dru Boykin and Mill tracts together with the Lydia plantation were sold to Francis J. Pelzer for $9,709. T. E. Early bought the Martha Boykin place for $350; J. M. Josey the Howell place for $1,000; O. D. Lee the Harris place for $905; John McCown the Boykin place for $900; J. H. Ham the Mims place for $785. The Henry Kelley place was sold to J. M. Josey for $940; the Brand place a Miss Bettie Huggins for $1,128; and the Mittie Woodham place to E. O. Parham for $1,205.

The Result of Sensible Advertising.

An advertisement was inserted in these columns last week by Henry Rous, colored, of the Syracuse neighborhood, into whose possession had come a lost mule. Mr. Sam Morrill had a mule stolen from him on Sale-day, and seeing Rous' advertisement in THE DARLINGTON NEWS (which, by the way, is by long odds, the best medium for that kind of advertising in Darlington County), called at Rous' place, and found that the mule was really the one which he had lost. Rous says that he bought the mule on the day after Sale-day from a man who called himself Walter Rush, but whose name he subsequently ascertained to be Mose Lewis. He gave his own mule and $3 in cash for the mule in Lewis' possession. After the trade had been made something happened to make Rous suspect that the mule had been stolen, and he insisted on Lewis coming to town with him. When they got here, and began to investigate the matter, Lewis "stopped", leaving both mules in the possession of Rous. The latter at once advertised it, with the result given above.

There is not a retail house of any consequence in the world which does not owe a great share of its success to advertising in some form or other. Be aggressive; be progressive, instead of following the swim—be at the head of your local procession.

The Bailey Concert.

(Reported for THE NEWS.)

Mme. Cecilia Eppinghausen Bailey gave a most enjoyable concert at the Darlington Guards' Armory on Monday night, assisted by her sister, Miss Bertha Eppinghausen, as reader and reciter, and Miss Dolly Williams, of the Boston Conservatory, as the pianist. The music given was of the highest order. The singing of the "Lullaby" was most artistic, and served to show what a wonderful instrument the human voice is, and to what a degree of training it can be carried. The softest notes could be distinctly heard in any part of the hall. Among the numbers given was the celebrated "Jewel Song" from Faust, in which the dramatic talent of the accomplished singer could be seen to perfection. It is not often that such a treat can be had in a town the size of Darlington. The fair singer and her accomplished sister made a host of friends during their short stay with us. No pianist who has ever appeared here can excel Miss Dolly Williams in the beauty of touch and the expression with which she plays. It must be a pleasure to sing to an accompaniment which is so fully in accord with the singer that one might suppose the two were one and the same person. A skilful accompanist is really as uncommon as a good singer. C. D. E.

Murray Clements Acquitted.

[News and Courier, Jan. 9.]

In the United States District Court yesterday the case of J. Murray Clements, charged with taking and opening letters intended for one Wilson, was tried. Clements is or was a dispensary constable, and through his efforts Wilson was convicted of violation of the dispensary law some months ago. In some way it became known to Wilson that Clements was in the possession of a number of letters to him from liquor dealers outside of the State. Sufficient grounds were found to warrant Wilson in bringing accusations against Clements to the effect that he had unlawfully taken these letters from the Postoffice. Clements was represented by Mr. B. A. Hagood. The jury was out for quite a while before it returned the verdict of not guilty.

Darlington's Atlanta Exhibit.

[News and Courier.]

The South Carolina exhibit was the most varied, complete and representative State exhibit made at the Atlanta Exposition, and one of the most effective features of the exhibit was the Tobacco display which was arranged and contributed by Darlington County, the great tobacco growing county of South Carolina. This exhibit consisted of a tobacco barn filled with the weed and fitted up with all the modern appliances. The barn was built half the size of the regular tobacco barn. It was constructed of native woods and fitted up by the Darlington Furniture Factory and was shipped to Atlanta in sections and put together again after reaching the Exposition. It was unique, artistic and beautiful, and spoke a volume for the enterprise and public spirit of the business men of Darlington, who paid for it out of their own pockets. The Darlington people kept right up with the times, always. Our correspondent telegraphed yesterday that the Darlington Phosphate Company was so favorably impressed with the public spirit of the News and Courier in offering prizes to the farmers for 1896 that it had determined to offer an additional prize of one ton of its fertilizers to the farmer who shall win the tobacco prize. This is one way and a very good way to increase the fertilizer movement; and Darlington takes the lead.

Big Prize Pig.

The News and Courier prize hog contest was won by Mr. W. J. Richardson, of Abbeville, with an animal that tipped the beam at 591 pounds, and which was only ten months old. Messrs. J. L. Coker & Co. entered two hogs weighing respectively 375 and 393 pounds. The following letter concerning them will be of interest to our readers:

Hartsville, S. C., December 21, 1895.

To the Editor of the News and Courier: I enclose herewith affidavit in regard to our pigs. I wish only to add this: In three hundred days our best pig gained or put on 375 pounds of meat, an average of 11 pounds per day. These pigs were born on January 15, 1895, and when weighed on December 17 were 11 months and 2 days old. They are Berkshire and are two beauties.

Allow me to say that the enterprise of your paper is greatly appreciated and that you have a good friend in these parts. This offer by you has interested a great many people in raising hogs that before took no interest, and I am beginning to believe that I may yet see the day when South Carolina will raise in her own borders all the meat and corn her people can consume. All praise to the News and Courier for her efforts along this line.

With best wishes of the season, I am, yours truly,
J. J. Lawton,

HOPEWELL.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis DuBose, of Cypress, visited relatives here recently.

Mrs. Bass, who has been in failing health for some time is quite sick at present.

Sickness prevails in this neighborhood to an alarming extent, especially among the children.

Mr. O. S. Huggins has been very sick with malarial fever the past few days, but he is improving a little at present.

Mrs. Wiley Witherspoon, of Una, is spending some time with her daughter Mrs. Ghas. Reynolds, who has a very sick child.

Mr. White, formerly of Society Hill, has moved into the late residence of Mr. E. C. Reynolds, and Mr. Reynolds has moved into the new residence which he has just completed.

Mr. Monroe DuBose and Miss Hattie Joy were married at the home of the bride on last Thursday evening, Rev. O. D. Mann officiating. A reception was given the following day at the home of the groom. Only a few of their close friends were invited.

There was a very select social gathering at the residence of Mr. W. P. Woodham on last Friday night. Social games, music and dancing were kept up until a late hour. The attendance was largely representative, and all present seemed to enjoy the occasion.

The Judiciary.

[From Gov. Evans' Message.]

The Constitution has provided another appellate tribunal for the determination of grave Constitutional questions, consisting of the members of the Supreme Court and the Circuit Judges. It will be necessary for you to provide means for the payment of the expenses of the Circuit Judges when called to sit in this Appellate Court. It would be unjust to make them pay their own expenses. I would suggest that the Governor's contingent fund be increased to an amount sufficient in your judgment to meet the additional expense and that the Governor be authorized to pay the same therefrom. The law now as to judges who sit upon the Supreme Court when one of the Justices is disqualified from any case. The people have a right to know the amount of the contingent fund and the law now as to judges who sit upon the Supreme Court when one of the Justices is disqualified from any case. The people have a right to know the amount of the contingent fund and the law now as to judges who sit upon the Supreme Court when one of the Justices is disqualified from any case.

been a trial plan for some time and I trust you will find relief from the heavy burden of court expenses occasioned by the continuation of cases which often amounts to a denial of justice and brings the courts into disrepute. There is a general demand for relief, and there are only two doors open for relief under the Constitution, to wit: the establishment of County Courts or an increase in the number of Circuit Judges. There seems to be great opposition to the former in many of the counties on the grounds of expense and the great number of offices necessary to be created upon their establishment. My judgment is that an increase of the Circuit Judges to ten would afford ample relief and give all the time required to dispatch the business of the several counties. This would require a like increase in the number of solicitors. The additional expense to each county would be $222 per annum, and I am satisfied the saving in jail fees and witness fees alone would pay this ten-fold. In the county of Aiken six months intervene between the fall and spring terms of the court and prisoners who cannot give bail are required to languish in jail at the expense of the county for this period and often longer. I have no doubt the same is the case in other counties. The courts cannot sit longer than two weeks at more than one term during the year, and often adjourn before the jails are delivered. I respectfully ask that you give this matter your careful consideration.
