NEWS

For sometime past the members of this church have been industriously engaged in the erection of a new place of worship. Under the leadership of the Rev. J. P. Allston, the present pastor, a large, commodious and, when completed, very beautiful edifice has been erected. In keeping with custom the corner stone laying was appointed for and took place on Thursday.

soon 100 men with axes had all the brush cut down and moved and a squad was busy putting up the tents.

The companies were each given a street. These streets were arranged alphabetically, beginning with A. on the east side of camp. Before the tents were all up it began to rain, but the work had to go on.

While the work in the camp was going on a squad had been detailed to prepare dinner. They went off about 150 yards from camp, under a clump of trees and prepared dinner of stewed
