WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 18. E. P. LUCAS, PROPRIETOR

Money Wages, vs. a Part of the Crop.

The time of the year for the re-discussion of this important question has again rolled around. Experience, we believe, has proved an eloquent and convincing advocate for money wages. The plan of giving a part of the crop has in the great majority of cases worked badly. It is true that the aspect in which it is first presented itself to the minds of our land owners was very seducing. It did seem so safe, so fair and so fraught with fine moral influences...

The only circumstance that has worked in favor of the contingence of the part of the crop system, has been the sad and ruinous results of the planting operations of last year. It is believed that those who hired their labor that year with a part of the crop, lost less heavily.

Now we have enquired very closely into this matter, and we are satisfied that it was so only in a very few instances. The planter who gave a laborer a fair price ascertained to an accuracy his loss with that of 1867, we are sure to keep our advances within a limit. To this we answer: you cannot do this, without producing intense dissatisfaction, and promoting theft. The laborer must live. The unanswerable reply, however, is, that we should undertake and follow up no business without a reasonable expectation of a good net profit, and that the means we make use of, must be measured by this expectation.

Nothing can be made without some degree of risk. To a reflecting mind all this should be as evident as that two and two make four. We do hope that with this year, the practice of hiring for a part of the crop will go out of fashion. We do hope that our planters, made wise by the sad experience of the past three years, fully realizing their present critical situation with its manifold and great dangers, and resolved to make a hearty and hopeful effort to redeem their own fortunes and the fortune of the State, will unite with the commencement of the new year, in pursuing the only course that promises to restore their independence, and to give back to capitalists a wholesome supremacy over labor.

The people of the North cannot understand why we fail to control and make reasonable the votes of our colored population. Of course they do not realize some grave, and for the present irremediable difficulties of our position, but to a degree, they are correct in blaming us for the result. We believe that the system of hiring for a part of the crop has had much to do with the startling impotence of our efforts to control the colored vote. Is it asked what so great benefits we expect to follow from the general adoption of the money wages plan? We have not the space to reply at length, but we think the following should prove satisfactory.

The planter, we suppose, hires for so much money, and for a period not longer than a month at most. This will enable him to dismiss, at his will, without being obliged to assign a reason, the idle and the vicious, and to change, when the opportunity presents itself, the inferior for the superior laborer. With this power in his hands, he will, once more become the lord of his plantation, and his orders will be obeyed promptly and without question. He will know exactly how to regulate his advances. He will avoid many dangerous and troublesome disputes and litigations with his hands. He will enjoy undisputed control over the products of his fields. The laborer knowing exactly what he is to receive, will be able to regulate his expenditures wisely, will live more comfortably, and will have no reason to suspect his employer of dealing with him unfairly. Skill, industry, and honesty will be distinguished from awkwardness, idleness, and dishonesty, and will receive due reward and encouragement. The planter will hire not one over the number that he actually needs. This will in time reduce our swarming colored population to the number that the District, in its present condition, can well support, and will teach our laborers the important lesson they so much need to learn, i. e. the importance of a good character to obtain a place, and the importance of retaining the place when obtained by industry and good conduct.

We expect, again to recur to this important practical question, and we invite a free expression of views from our subscribers.

The Tournament

Fair dames and created chiefs attentive bend; For still the burden of thy ministry Was Kaleighoods countless feed, and Beauty's matchless eye.

Our gallant knights, true to their plighted troth, appeared in the lists on Wednesday the 11th, to do battle in the cause of chivalry, and hazard their lives, for the approving smiles of their fair ladies.

Though the morning was cloudy and unpromising, the gloom was soon dispelled by a bright sun, which shone approvingly on the sport, and made the weather everything that could be desired, except perhaps a little too much wind.

At 11 A. M. the Knights in gorgeous costumes of gayly caparisoned steeds, started from the Public Square, headed by the "master of horses," Major W. E. JAMES, and soon arrived at "Dargan's Avenue," where the lists were erected; and where a bevy of beauty was assembled, whose bright glances and approving smiles, could not fail to nerve the hearts, and rouse the enthusiasm of the gallant cavaliers to the highest pitch.

On the stand we noticed the "King at Arms," Col. F. F. WABLEY, and the judges, Col. J. A. LAW, Capt. H. E. P. SANDERS and Capt. E. B. BRUNSEN, Jr. After a stirring address from the "King at Arms," the gallant Knights spurred to their places, through a dangerous battery of bright eyes, and fully resolved to win the favor of that "bright particular star," whose eye looked brighter when her Knight rode by. All being ready, the Knights were announced, in five courses in the following order:

- Bertrand DuGuescler—J. A. White. Knight of the Forest—J. B. Burch. Chevalier Bayard—J. G. Giddard. Knight of Chicora—Elin Hart. Knight of Florence—George Pawley. King Arthur—J. K. Gibson. Knight of Rhodes—B. L. Wallace. Sir Walter Scott—Player Dargan. Knight of Marengo—W. F. Early. Knight of the Sand Hills—W. D. Lewis.

After finishing the five courses, and displaying most excellent horsemanship, the successful Knights were announced as follows: 1st, Knight of the Forest, 2nd, Knight of the Rhodes, 3d, Knight of Marengo, 4th, Knight of Chicora, to the "Knight of the Sand Hills," was assigned the pleasing duty of sweeping the steps of the stand before the approach of the Queen. We thank the "Knight of the Sand Hills" for much hearty amusement, and think his conception, and rendition of the character very happy and successful. His costume consisting of a "swallow tail" coat, and short pants of striped homespun, surmounted by a huge "stove pipe" hat, was extremely ludicrous.

His lance, a common cane rod, and a short pipe, completed the figure, and such a horse, Don Quixote or Hudibras would have been perfectly at home on his back. The moment he started, a perfect peal of laughter rang along the line, and when at his slow ambling gait, it was difficult to get the rings, he invariably stopped short, and brought them anyhow. It was a most successful, and amusing caricature, and rapturously enjoyed by all. And now there is a flutter of curiosity, and excitement, for the victors are to choose from that "wreath of beauty," the fair ones whose favors they wear, and receive from beauty's hand the fir reward.

"None but the brave deserve the fair." The "Knight of the Forest" selected as Queen, Miss Alice Nettles. The "Knight of Rhodes" selected as 1st Maid of Honor, Miss Jane Joey. The "Knight of Marengo" selected as 2nd Maid of Honor, Miss Aburta Spain. The "Knight of Chicora" selected as 3d Maid of Honor, Miss Mary Spain. Amidst a hum of admiration, and applause, the fair Queen and her maids of honor, held their Court, and crowned the gallant victors of the day. The "King at Arms" delivered the closing charge to the Knights, exhorting them to deeds of chivalry, and daring in the service of their "Lady Loves." The ceremony was at an end.

The "Sand Hill Knight" again brushed the sand from the steps,—the fair and gracious court descended from the stage, and all started home, having spent a pleasant day, reviving happy memories of the past, and marking a day, which will be a "green spot" in our memory.

Important to Bankrupts.

A case has been decided in the United States Court, at Charleston, which is of some importance to bankrupts. A petition for a final discharge was presented and the order signed, but withheld until all fees are paid up. This action, it is stated, will hold good for all similar cases.

Earthquake.

The shock of an earthquake was distinctly felt at this place on Tuesday morning last, at three quarters past 5 o'clock. A dull rumbling sound accompanied it.—Lancaster Ledger.

Municipal Elections in the State.

We notice with pleasure, that the maxim; "the right man in the right place," is well understood, and accepted by all in the recent municipal elections. In nearly every instance the towns have elected Democratic Councils, and they have been honest and conscientious men. Sumter is especially favored in this respect. Capt. E. C. GREEN has been elected Intendant, with a good Council, and judging from the well known business talent and energy of Mr. Sumter, we are of the opinion that the citizens on their good fortunes in securing an honest and intelligent home government, and can say the same now to nearly all the towns in the State, except, alas! poor Charleston. She deserves a better fate, but will be made perfect through suffering.

Capt. GREEN, is of the firm extensively known as GREEN, WATSON & WALSH, whose advertisement appears in to-day's issue, to which we direct special attention.

Our newly selected Intendant, August, Monroe City, Missouri, on the 18th of August, of this year, and no doubt will exhibit the energy and ability in the management of affairs, which he has shown in his long and extensive and prosperous business.

As an early age, Capt. Green engaged in mercantile pursuits in New York, with Nichols, Sherman & Co., and afterwards he spent several years with Harris, Nichols & Co., a well known Charleston house.

At the breaking out of the war, Captain Green was found at the post of duty, being a member of the Zouave Cadets. He next held a commission in Co. B, 3d Regiment, S. C. Cavalry, and finally rose to the position of Quartermaster, with the rank of Captain in the same Regiment. After the war, Captain Green settled in Sumter, and commenced business at first as a small way. He is now at the head of one of the largest business houses in this place, and is noted for energy, industry, honesty and fair dealing.

Our town is fortunate in having him as chief municipal officer.—Sumter News.

Give us Credit.

We notice that the "Charleston Mercury," in copying some of our local items last week credits them to the "Darlington Journal." Sure we are a journal, but claim to be a Democratic journal, and thought we were known as the THE D A R L I N G T O N D E M O C R A T, at least to the Mercury. Come up here on a visit, Mr. Mercury, and make our acquaintance; we will take good care of you, and keep you above the freezing point.

The Democrats and Gen. Grant.

The New York Herald has published another Democratic plank movement being proposed. It is to have the States which went for Seymour cast their electoral votes for Grant and thus secure him a unanimous vote of all the States. It is thought by this means he will be relieved of any obligation to party and can preside impartially over the whole country without being bound by any party policy. The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald has the following on the subject: Acting upon this idea, the Democratic politicians have prepared a number of letters, addressed to leading men North and South, suggesting the prompt adoption of this plan. The following is a copy of one of these letters which has been shown to us:

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 8, 1868.

General:—Many judgment the wisest thing the Democracy could now do would be to throw the entire electoral vote for General Grant, as indicative of the fact that should he pursue a liberal generous and magnanimous course, they will sustain him. It would also have the effect of not leaving him altogether in the hands of the adverse faction, and would doubtless strengthen any purpose he may entertain towards the conservative sentiment of the country. This vote cannot possibly do Seymour any good, and thrown in the manner suggested, would at least produce a conciliatory impression.

Letters similar to this have been sent to Governor Stephenson, of Kentucky; A. H. Stephens, of Georgia; Wade Hampton, General Gordon, General Preston, Robert Tyler, of Alabama, and ex Senator C. C. Clay.

Personal.

It is with much regret that we have learned that Rev. Dr. Richard Furman, for some time the able, zealous, and much beloved Pastor of the Baptist Church at this place, has accepted a call from the Church at Newberry, and will take his departure from our midst in a short time. In the regret which we here express, we feel that our whole community join us; for, in truth, the removal of such a man, and his large influence for good wielded by him, would be a heavy loss to any community. Dr. Furman will bear with him heartfelt wishes for good in his behalf, and leave behind him the warmest remembrance in many hearts.—Sumter Watchman.

Release of Col. Aiken.

Col. D. Wyatt Aiken, who was arrested and brought to Columbia, several days ago, charged with being accessory to the murder of Randolph, was brought before Judge Borger, and after a hearing, Col. Aiken was released on $5,000 bail, and yesterday departed for his home in Abbeville County.—Columbia Phoenix.

We record, with feelings of the deepest sympathy, the death, on Thursday last, of Mrs. Elizabeth P. DeVaux, the amiable and exemplary Christian companion of Rev. Thomas L. DeVaux and daughter of Rev. Donald McQueen. The death of this lady, although for some time anticipated, from the gradual progress of consumption, when it came brought a heavy stroke of affliction upon her relatives and friends, and sent a pang of pain and sadness throughout our community.—Sumter Watchman.

Address to the Democratic Party of South Carolina.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—The State Central Club, deem it proper to make the close of the late canvass the occasion of a brief address.

First, we desire most heartily to congratulate the party upon the general result of the canvass in this State. The South Carolina Democracy, has proved itself an eminently progressive and growing party. Organized in April last, in spite of the heavy numerical odds against it, it has steadily advanced, and in every election augmented its power until in the canvass just closed, it fell only a little short of carrying the State for its national command. A Democratic gain of more than 30,000 over the vote given in the State election of April last, is a victory in the future and not in the past. Nor should we fail to credit the National Democracy with its achievement in the late canvass; of the animating of the party power, it has developed even in defeat. The twenty-five Northern and Western States that entered into the Presidential canvass in 1864, were to McClellan a popular vote of 1,611,794, and to Lincoln 2,223,035. The same States, in 1868, estimated, have in 1868 given to Seymour a popular vote of 2,235,920, and to Grant 2,517,000. Thus showing first, an increase in the Democratic vote of 718,131; and secondly, that in a popular vote of 4,752,920, Grant has a majority over Seymour of but 281,080, and this exclusive of the vote in the late Confederate States. Including the States voting in 1868 and not in 1864, and the States excluded from voting in 1868, and including also citizens disfranchised by Congressional and State legislation in Missouri and the late Confederate States, the result is that Seymour received a majority of several hundred thousand on the popular vote.

In the second place, we desire to impress upon the Democratic party in this State, the importance of preserving in all its efficiency, its present admirable organization, to the end that under the laws of the State and the United States, and in full recognition of the last obligations of good citizenship, the party may gradually increase its numbers and influence, until its principles and policy shall commend itself to the free and unbiased approval of a controlling majority of the voters of the Commonwealth.

Thirdly, the more affectionately to keep up the Democratic Clubs of the several Districts and in order further to recognize fully all the industrial elements that are essential to the prosperity of the State, we earnestly recommend that featured looking to the subjects of immigration, agriculture, manufactures and education be entrusted upon each Club, so that an organized and systematic effort may be at once made to add to our population, to promote the industries of the State and to advance the cause of popular intelligence. And in order to carry out these Auxiliary features to be attached to the Democratic Clubs throughout the State and to devise a uniform plan of action, we respectfully recommend a meeting of the State Central Club at this place on the 20th of January, 1869, at 7 P. M.

Fellow-citizens, we address you in the spirit of hope and faith. God in His providence has seen fit to deny to us the triumph which we deemed essential to the welfare of the State. If we cannot win, let us seek to deserve success. To the manhood of the State do we appeal. Let the Democratic party of South Carolina remain a power and an influence in the State. Keep your ranks undivided. Adhere to your political principles until better ones invite you to their adoption. From failure, gather wisdom; out of defeat get patience and resolution. Preserving your fidelity to the eclectic principles of your party, go bravely and earnestly to work in the field of material development. This building up the State upon the basis of labor, and surrounding our political creeds with the solid monuments of wealth, intelligence and virtue, we will redeem our broken fortunes, heal our bleeding wounds, and ere long secure the peaceful triumph of those wise and virtuous elements essential to the dignity of the State and the prosperity of the people.

By order of the Central Club of the Democratic party of South Carolina. WADE HAMPTON, President. J. G. GIBBS, Secretary.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

GO TO WHITES. We do not indulge in personalities, but the following will do friend Warrar no harm and may benefit others. A merchant the other day (just from the country) regarding some furniture and as he bought his stock of dry goods, hardware, crockery, &c. in each house, he asked the question: "Where shall I go to buy furniture?" and immediately the reply was "go to Warrars." Not satisfied with a reply so singular, he tried it at his hotel and sure enough received the same answer, "go to Warrars," so he thought they must be right, and did buy at Warrars, corner King and Market Sts., Charleston, S. C. Oct. 28.

WE call attention to the advertisement of Mr. JOHN COMBINS, No. 131 Meeting, nearly opposite Market, Charleston, S. C. where he offers United States Government McClellan Saddles and Harness little used, at one quarter their cost. It is certainly worth the consideration of all who are engaged in Agricultural pursuits to call and examine them.

St David's Lodge No. 72 A. F. M. THE REGULAR COMMUNICATION OF THIS Lodge, will be held on Monday 24th November, at 7 o'clock, P. M. Brothers will take notice and govern themselves accordingly. By order of C. M. PARKER, W. M. H. E. P. SANDERS, Secretary pro-tem. Oct. 14, 1868.
