Poet's Corner.

[From the Boston Courier.]

An Affecting Story of Blighted Affection.

He was an Anglo-African,
Who lived in Flor-i-da,
And used to curl himself o'nights,
Under a pile of hay;
And dined on little pig-i-es
For which he did not pay;
In totein chickens from their roosts,
He had a funny way.

Her name was Arabella Smith,
A strongish minded girl,
Whose light complexioned, yellow hair,
Had never learned to curl.
She kept the village school, she did,
And was the village pearl;
And the first time I met with her,
My heart was in a whirl.

It was in Mass-a-chu-si-etts,
I fell in love with she,
And fondly hoped that Arabella
Had done the same with me;
I told her lots of soft, sweet things,
Down by the salt, salt sea.

In all progressing move-mi-ents
We were among the van,
And walked together to the church
Called Uni-tari-an;
Wherein they preachrd about the wronged,
Down-trodden African;
We used to think Charles Sum-ni-er
A most gu-lo-ri-ous man.

So when the freedmen were set free,
My Arrabella thought
She had a mission unto those
Who valiantly fought:
And so we went to Florida,
To see what they were taught,
Where, in the Freedmen's Bureau, she
Most diligently wrought.

'Twas there she met with Pompey Jones,
Who slept beneath the hay,
And dined on little pork-i-es
For which he did not pay,
And with his banjo and his bones
He stole her heart away;
So off they went to Capt. Jenks,
And married were one day.

Now I am left disconsolate,
With comforts not a one,
And nights and days I shed dry tears,
Because the thing was done;
And you may guess how much I cuss
Mis-ce-ji-ne-tion.

Agricultural.

Work for the Month.

October is usually a beautiful month for cotton picking, and the work should be pushed forward vigorously. When cotton is high priced, as at present, quality is a very important matter—nice handling in picking ginning and packing will pay handsomely. The corn crop, in most parts of the South, will be short—let it be housed as soon as dry, that none may rot in the fields. To make up for deficiency in corn crop, we would urge upon our readers to sow largely of small grain. Oats would do better sown in September, but they may still succeed well if sown at once. Break the ground well and cover with turning shovel; a little guano will make a very great difference in the yield. We, pray, also, that ample breadth of land be given to the wheat crop; or, rather, we should have said, let an ample quantity of manure be given to it; for a few acres well manured and well prepared, can be relied on with more certainty than a large number poorly prepared and manured. Plow deep, but have a care especially that the upper layer of the soil be thoroughly pulverized. As all know, the wheat plant sends out numerous small fibrous roots—these slender fibres cannot force their way through hard cloddy masses, whereas, the object of nature in this arrangement of roots, is to make every part of the soil tributary to the growth of the plant. The manure ought, therefore, for a like reason, to be thoroughly incorporated with the soil, particularly the upper layers, for it is in these that the roots especially ramify. In this vicinity the largest yields have followed the application of cotton seed with guano and dissolved bones. The wheat plant delights in nitrogenous manures and, growing in the rainy season of the year, is less apt than other crops to suffer from the free application of such manures. Experiments have quite clearly shown that, with a given quantity of manure, it is best to make two applications of it, one in the fall—another in the spring in form of a top dressing. Another point which may now be regarded, as well established by experiment, is, that drilled wheat highly manured, and of rank growth, will not fall down like the broadcasted under similar circumstances—the stem of the former from better exposure to light and air, is not so soft and succulent as that of the latter. Experiments have not yet decided what the width of the drills should be, one thing we feel quite assured of, that the largest width to permit workings to destroy the weeds, would be of very great advantage to the crop. Every one knows how much our wheat fields are infested with weeds in early spring, and there is no reason why the wheat plant should not suffer from these disputing the soil with it, as well as corn or cotton under like circumstances. Except along the coasts and the warmer part of the South, the grain should be in the ground before the last of October. We hope our agricultural societies will undertake experiments to decide the best time for sowing in different latitudes. Get the best seed, with a coarse sieve get out all the cockle, cheat and defective grains, put the balance in a very strong solution of bluestone, and skim off everything that floats, and after all sow in faith, that the giver of all may bestow upon us a bountiful har-

DOTY'S
[illegible]G MACHINE
Improved—and Clothes
[illegible] are now indispensable for to[illegible] apparatus for washing invented, and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.

Those who have used them give testimony as follows:

"We like our machine much: could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott, Bishop M. E. Church.

"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune.

"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays, for the invention."—Hon. Theodore L. Cuyler.

"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.

"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. D. Bellows.

Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our machine,' after a years' use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.

"Your Washing Machine has been daily used in our laundry, and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater quantity of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wash-board. By using it, one laundress is dispensed with."—Wm. M. F. Round, Superintendent of the Infant Department of St. Catherine's Nursery of New York.

PRICES,—A Fair Offer.

Send the retail price, Washer, $14, Extra Wringer $9, and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure are we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines free of freight after a month's trial, according to directions.

No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands, fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done better, more expeditiously, and less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.

Canvassers with exclusive right of sale make money fast, selling them.

Sold by dealers generally, to whom liberal discounts are made,

Many years ago, the writer of these lines and an invalid physician, while visiting the Island of St. Croix for their health, experienced and witnessed many surprising and beneficial effects of the Rum there produced upon many of the invalids who were (like ourselves) seeking health; and, upon inquiry and investigation, obtained a full history of its medicinal virtues. He was delighted and surprised, and after his own recovery, which soon occurred, determined, if possible, to procure the sole right to manufacture and sell it in the United States.

The result of his labors was a glorious success for himself and suffering humanity, for the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS was thus made known to the world. PLANTATION BITTERS being an article of real merit, founded upon new principles, and relying wholly upon the vegetable world for its medicinal effects, worked a rapid revolution in the history of medicine, and became as a household word all over the civilized world. The cabalistic S. T.—1860—X. was a talisman of health, and the demand for the PLANTATION BITTERS soon far exceeded the abilities of the proprietors to supply.

Notwithstanding the large importation of St. Croix Rum, made expressly for the compounding of these Bitters, the quantity was inadequate. It therefore became necessary that arrangements upon an extensive scale abroad should at once be made, and an agent was dispatched to St. Thomas for that purpose. He was fortunate in securing and leasing several plantations on some of the largest and most productive estates on the island. Houses, stills and presses were erected as if by magic, which utterly "astonished the natives." The services of experienced men and natives of the island were procured, and very soon the proprietors of the PLANTATION BITTERS were in a position to supply their laboratory with all the perfectly pure St. Croix Rum needed in manufacturing the GREAT DYSPEPTIC TONIC AND INVIGORATOR. The above cut represents the natives crushing the sugar-cane and otherwise preparing it for the stills and presses.

As an antidote to Fever and Ague, Intermittant and Malarious Fevers, Dyspepsia, and other kindred diseases, the use of the PLANTATION BITTERS is unsurpassed in the history of the world. Over five million bottles are disposed of annually. They are adapted to old and young, male and female. They are agreeable in taste, and always produce an immediate beneficial result.
