

Town and County.

He who would be wealthy and wise Must in THE HERALD advertise.

Small change is very scarce.

If you know an item of news tell it to the editor.

Rev. J. G. Law preached at Center Point last Sabbath.

A colored man has put up a pool table on Pearle Street.

Mr. G. O. Mertz has put up two handsome lamps in front of his fruit store on Pearle Street.

The frame of Dr. W. B. McGirt's house near Mrs. B. C. Law's has been put up.

Mr. C. W. Hewitt's family have returned from a pleasant summer jaunt.

Father Wright celebrated mass at Mr. C. Mooney's on Saturday morning last.

The recent heavy rains have done great damage to the cotton and hay crops.

An average of 10 or 12 car loads of cotton are shipped from the C. & D. depot daily.

Some of our farmers are having great difficulty in getting their cotton picked out.

"The good farmer keeps his fence corners clean." Yes, but the good farmers of Darlington county have as few fence corners as possible.

Don't stand around on the street corners on Sunday, but go to preaching. If you are not benefitted you will certainly not be hurt.

The accidental discharge of a pistol in front of the court house created considerable excitement Saturday morning.

The contract for laying the piping, &c., for the water works has been awarded to W. F. Carter and the work has been commenced.

The receipts of cotton to date have been much greater than usual, owing to the very early opening of the staple.

To-day is the Jewish Day of Atonement (Yom Kipur) and all the citizens of our town of that nationality have their places of business closed.

At a recent meeting of the School Board of the Darlington Graded Schools the monthly contingent fee of pupils was raised from 10 cents to 25 cents.

Rev. R. G. Pearson, the Evangelist, writes to the Rev. J. G. Law that he cannot fill his appointment here in November, and he will, probably, not visit Darlington at all soon.

Mr. J. B. Muldrow has resigned his position with A. Broom, and will soon erect a neat store house on the corner of Florence and Railroad streets.

Gov. Richardson has refused to make any changes in his appointments of election commissioners. The Hon. HENRY CLAY burn ought to have another meeting called and introduce some more resolutions.

Why is it that Mr. A— sells more goods than Mr. B— and is so prosperous? Because he advertises, my friend; advertising always pays. Tell the people who you are, what you are and where you are.

Messrs. W. E. James, G. H. McKee, W. A. Parrott and W. J. Garner left for Anderson on Monday. They will take part there in the institution of a Lodge of Knights of Pythias.

The annual inspection of the Darlington Guards will be held at their armory next Friday night. Gen. W. E. James, in the absence of Inspector General Bonham, will inspect the company. There will be a prize drill, and Col. E. R. Melver has consented to deliver the prize to the best drilled man. No children are invited or expected.

Mr. Barrymore Marco, of New York, is in town on business.

Mr. S. Marco, of the firm of Marco & Lewenthal, is in the city looking after his business interests.

Mr. J. F. Muldrow has built a store house and opened a store on the corner of his lot on Florence Street.

The Executive Committee of the Darlington Board of Trade are having the road leading across Indian branch towards Early's Cross Roads put in first class order.

Mr. M. L. Dolby, of Syracuse, N. Y., a director in the C. C. L. & I. Co., and who has charge of the track laying on the C. S. & N. R. R., was here on Tuesday looking after the interests of the company.

Prof. R. S. Powell can furnish you large brands, letters, figures, &c., to mark cotton; name plates for marking clothing; key checks, watch charms, &c.; jewels and emblems for societies. He warrants his work. Give him a call.

Sardines in mustard 12c a can; French Sardines 15 and 20c a box.

WEST & HONOUR.

Mr. Fred Lewenthal has been appointed agent for Jacob Reed's Sons, the leading clothiers of Philadelphia, Pa., and he has now on hand a full line of fall and winter samples. Perfect fit guaranteed.

We are sorry to learn that Deputy Sheriff Thomas is very ill with typhoid fever at his father's in Lydia.

We earnestly hope that he may soon be restored to his usual good health.

Prof. R. S. Powell is not only a good walker but a recent experience of his demonstrates the fact that he is also a good "wader." He got hemmed in by a water spout last Sunday after the very heavy rain, and pulled out from camp in the swamp he rafter off his shoes and waded out.

Breakfast Delicacies—Hecker's Oatmeal, Farina and wheat Granules.

WEST & HONOUR.

The Lake City Rural Exponent says: "Mr. B. O. Bristol, who is well known here, has gone into the insurance business in Darlington. May his new venture prove successful, is the wish of his many friends."

Mr. Bristol's office is with Mr. H. M. Smith, the real estate agent, on Florence Street.

We learn that the recently appointed State election commissioners, Messrs. J. M. James, J. B. Law and D. M. Smoot, have sent in their resignations to the Governor. According to the action of the Tillman convention these gentlemen, although having rendered good and faithful services to the Democratic party in the past, are not now considered worthy to manage elections for the faction in power.

We have a choice line of table goods in the way of green corn, stringless beans, green peas and lima beans in 2lb cans.

SOME of the Tillmanites of this county are rolling under their tongue as a sweet morsel the charge that the public debt of South Carolina has been increased over half a million dollars since 1880 under Democratic administration. The statement is absolutely false, for the Constitution of this State forbids any such increase unless by a vote of the people. What the object of such a lie is we do not know, but, perhaps, some of them have gotten so in the habit of lying that they can't help it.

One Darkey Shoots Another.

On last Sunday morning near the Mineral Spring as two colored youths, Tom Williams and Wm. Sanders, were playing with a 32 calibre pistol it was accidentally discharged, the ball taking effect about one-half inch below the right eye and entering deeply into the inner bones of the skull of Wm. Sanders. Drs. Lunney and Garner probed for the ball, but were able to extract only a portion of it as it was so deeply embedded in the tissues of the skull. Sanders is doing as well as possible, considering the dangerous character of his wound.

Annual Inspection.

HEADQUARTERS DARLINGTON GUARDS, September 9, 1890.

GENERAL ORDER.

I. The annual inspection of this command is ordered to be held on Friday, 26th instant, at 8:30 P. M.

By order, J. K. McIVER, Captain.

S. S. BURCH, First Sergeant.

Guards' Inspection and Reception.

On Friday night, September 26th, the inspection of the Darlington Guards will take place at their new armory. Gen. W. E. James, by the direction of the Adjutant General, will be the inspecting officer. Immediately following the inspection the Guards will give a reception to their friends. It has been the custom of this company to give a picnic in May of each year. This they could not do this year and it is hoped that the ladies will find the evening at the armory so pleasant that the boys will be forgiven for not having them at the lake in May. The evening will be spent in a quiet social way, and it is the intention of the committee that every one shall have a pleasant time.

Unclaimed Letters

In the P. O. at Darlington to September 20, 1890:

MEN. Ellis, John M.; Lloyd, W. N.; Harris, Wash.; Pearce, John G.; Richardson, A. D.; Roberts, Wm.; Swinton, Brig.

WOMEN. Grahams, Mary; Harley, Sophy; Wilson, Rose.

Mrs. B. C. LAW, P. M.

Thanks, Brother Lawrence.

(Northport (Ala.) Breeze.)

Mr. Arthur Melver, well known to the members of the Alabama Press, is now publishing a new paper—THE DARLINGTON HERALD—at Darlington, S. C. Darlington is a "darling of a town" and contains many "darlings" to the square yard as you town we know of. We know whereof we speak, as we once lived there. Melver is getting out a good paper and we gladly place it on our exchange list.

A Splendid Showing.

[Milledgeville (Ga.) Union-Recorder.]

The present Cadet corps is the largest the College has had in years. The number of new Cadets is far ahead of any past opening, and the outlook for the M. G. M. & A. C. is bright indeed. Capt. Lucas, the new Commandant, has taken hold of his work with a vim that means success. He has the bearing of a soldier, is quick of movement and gives commands with a snap that puts life into a Cadet. In a short time under his careful drilling and admirable discipline the corps will surprise our citizens with their fine work on dress parade. Altogether it is believed the year upon which the College is just entering will prove one of the most useful and successful in its history.

A Pleasant Entertainment.

On Thursday night last the Ladies of the Baptist Church gave one of their very enjoyable entertainments at Hon. Geo. W. Dargan's. This consisted of reading, recitations and music. The vocal duet by Misses Mary Law and Sadie Dargan was first on the programme, followed by an instrumental duet by Misses Lizzie Rast and Ethel Parrott. Miss Bessie Williamson sang Kuken's "Good Night Farewell." Miss Hattie Ervin gave a recitation, "Her Letter." Messrs. C. B. Edwards and J. E. Norment sang, "I would that my Love." Mr. H. T. Thompson gave a reading, an answer to Miss Ervin's recitation. Mr. Thompson also read a humorous selection. "The Pilot," a nautical song, was given as a duet by Messrs. S. H. Wilds and R. E. James. Miss M. J. Fraser, of Sumter, gave an instrumental piece. The next on the programme was a song, "Go softly, &c.," by Mr. C. D. Evans. By special request Miss Hattie Ervin gave the "Bad Girl's Diary." After which refreshments were served, and the remainder of the evening was spent in delectable conversation.

What Darlington Has.

Two banks. Two dentists. Two photographers. Two livery stables. Three drug stores. Two bakeries. One cannery factory. One cotton mill. One ginery and oil mill. One opera house. One laundry. Six blacksmith shops. Three furniture dealers. Two weekly newspapers. One job printing office. Two harness shops. Four millinery shops. Three planing mills. Two hotels. Seven churches. Water works and artesian well. One ice house. Two hardware stores. Two wholesale groceries. Three jewelry stores. Four carriage and buggy shops. One fruit dealer. One florist. Eight physicians. Four insurance offices. Six cotton buyers. Three fish dealers. One brick yard. Three shoe shops. Two restaurants. One real estate agent. Four barber shops. Twelve lawyers. One book store. Seven bar rooms. One pool and billiard room. Nineteen general merchandise stores.

Small Change.

The Bank of Darlington has brought in about eight thousand dollars in change during the past week, besides the previous receipts.

Cypress Cuttings.

The farmers complain that they cannot get their cotton picked.

Mr. Geo. H. McKee, of Darlington, was here last week in the interest of the Equitable Life Insurance Company, of New York.

Rev. J. W. Murray preached at this place last Sunday. His discourse was a very forcible one.

The flourishing little city of Bishopville, just across the river in Sumter county, is said to be without a postoffice.

We saw twelve wagon loads of cotton at Mr. S. C. Parnell's gin on Monday morning awaiting their turn to unload. This looks like business for the new gin.

Mr. S. C. Parnell is running two large Winship gins at almost break neck speed and then cannot accommodate the people. There are six other steam gins in this neighborhood and they all get as much as they can do. So you see whether or not we are in a cotton country.

Mr. C. C. Wilson, the advance agent of the Carolina Southern Railroad, was in Cypress a few days ago getting the right of way for his road. He says that when this road is completed it will be second to none in the United States, and that it will be a grand trunk line from Boston, Mass., to Jacksonville, Fla.

Mr. A. M. Lee, an Anti-Tillmanite, says "Hurray for THE HERALD!" He also says that you may send your paper to his address, that he likes its tone, and that hereafter he will not be without it.

It is reported that Capt. B. R. Tillman, while attending a side show, stole an elephant and two camels and concealed them. A Tillmanite says that if they proved it on Ben he would not vote for him, while an Anti-Tillmanite says that if they did prove it he would vote for him. So it seems that when he loses one he gains one.

Hartsville Happenings.

Mrs. Rosa Chapple, of Newberry, S. C., was on a short visit to relatives and friends at this place recently.

Mrs. Susan Crowell, of Eastover, paid friends and acquaintances here a flying visit last week.

Mrs. A. P. Carter and her daughter, Miss Lilla, are on a visit to Mrs. E. E. Wright. We wish them a pleasant visit.

Mr. R. H. Lee, an estimable young man of this locality, has accepted a situation with J. L. Coker & Co. We wish him success.

Messrs. Lucas & Gardner, druggists at this place, have recently occupied their neat drug store.

Mr. Jno. Ash, a cotton buyer from Kershaw, has located in our midst. He contemplates purchasing turpentine, and has also commenced the erection of a warehouse. We welcome him among us.

Messrs. Cannon and Law have commenced the erection of a gin house near their gin house at the depot.

Rev. E. J. Forrester delivered an interesting sermon to the children at the Baptist church on Sunday last at 11 A. M.

Miss Janie Coker, of Timmons-ville, and Miss Pernal, of Charleston, were visiting Mrs. Leanne Vaughn last week.

Messrs. J. L. Coker & Co. have purchased and shipped up to the first of September 350 bales of cotton, and still the fleecy is constantly coming in, and is selling at a fair price which cannot be excelled by the Darlington market.

The protracted meeting which was in progress at Damascus church suspended recently. Brother Wright preached some excellent and heart-searching sermons, which were the means of bringing one into the ark of safety.

Philadelphia Points.

Mr. W. L. Parrott, one of Bishopville's enterprising merchants, was over on business this week.

There is a great deal of sickness in this community just now.

The forage crop has never been more promising than at present, and our brother farmers should "make hay while the sun shines."

The colored Alliance has received their twenty horse power engine and Capt. Green, of Ebenezer section, is putting it in position for them. "Better late than never."

One of Dr. Parrott's hogs died of hydrophobia yesterday. A very marked case indeed, a great many symptoms being present.

Tribute of Respect.

The undersigned, appointed to prepare a suitable tribute to the memory of Companion J. F. Early, report as follows:

We record with sorrow the death of Companion James Frank Early, who departed this life on the 30th day of July, A. D., 1890, at his home in this town, after months of slow decline and much suffering. He was born in Blackville, Barnwell County, S. C., on the 3rd day of January, 1841. His father, who was an accomplished teacher, soon removed to the city of Charleston, and at an early age our Companion became a clerk in the Commission House of Ogden, London & Co. Just before the opening of the late war, he commenced the study of medicine in the office of Dr. Dargan, but, at the call of his State, he volunteered and entered as a private in the Lafayette Artillery. With that gallant command he served until the close of the war, enduring all privations, bearing all fatigues, and facing death with the cheerful spirit of a brave and patriotic soldier. Very soon after the war, he came to Darlington C. H. and commenced the business of merchandizing, to which he devoted the balance of his life, and was at the time of his death the proprietor of a large and lucrative business with hosts of patrons and well-wishers.

He became a member of the Legion on the 9th of August, 1883, and was until his death an attached, faithful and honored Companion. Companion Early was a bright, level-headed, well informed gentleman, with pleasant manners, agreeable and full of wit in conversation, and of a large warm Irish heart. He was charitable and public spirited, and this town owes much to his energy, enterprise and liberality. He took an active interest in politics, but never sought office. For ten years he was chairman of the working committee of the Darlington Democratic Club, and was untiring in his efforts to promote the interest of true Democracy. He was for many years a member of the Democratic Executive Committee of the County, and in the discharge of his duties not many equaled him in judgment, zeal and activity. In religion he was a sincere Catholic. His brotherly kindness was such, that there was grief not only throughout this community, but throughout the whole county, when he passed away. Peace to his ashes.

Resolved, That this tribute to the memory of Companion James Frank Early be inscribed on a separate page of our minutes, and that a copy be sent to each of his brothers and sister, and published in our county papers.

R. W. BOYD, E. KEITH DARGAN, F. E. NORMENT, Committee.
