A striking proof of the unpopularity of the English army among the Irish is lurnished by the official army statement. that has just been publishhd. This statement shows that twenty years ago out of tes.910 non-commissioned officers and privates in the army 47,151 were Irish, whereas to-day, although this force has been increased to 199,473, the Irish element among it has dwindled to 28,712. Further than this, the statement indicates a similar feeling among the Scotch, where the decline, while not so marked in the case of the Irish, is great. In 1870 out of every thousand'men the proportion was 614 English or Welsh, 97 Scotch and 284 Irish. This year the proportion per thousand is 759 English or Welsh, 83 Scotch and 145 Irish.

From Lloyd's new war-ship table it seen that the British Empire has thirtyeight merchant steamers to each war ves sel capable of steaming upward of fourteen knots; the United States have twenty-two, France seven, Germany seventeen, Italy four and Russia eight. It further appears that the approximate value of the British mercantile navy is $550,000,000; that of the United States. $42,000,000; of France, $48,500,000; of Germany, $63,500,000; of Italy, $22,-000,000, and of Russia, $12,500,000. In 1888 Great Britain's total annual imports and exports were approximated worth $3,476,500,000; those of the United States, $1,462,500,000; of France, $1,470,000,000; of Germany, $1,624, 000,000; Italy, $413,500,000; Russia, $52,500,000. Ex-Lieutenant Governo John G. Warwick, the Democratic nomi nee, is also making an energetic canvass. Whilst not the equal of his opponent on the stump, Mr. Warwick is a gentleman of large wealth, a hustling campaigner and an unsurpassed handshaker. So far the Democrats have been unable to secure any considerable amount of outside speak ing talent, but Gov. D. B. Hill, of New York, has telegraphed that he will speak next week at Canton and two other points n the district. He will be accompanied by Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, who will also peak, and Senator Carlisle, of Kentuck has also promised to put in some work or Mr. Warwick before the campaigu

SOUTHERN INDUSTRIES.

'Tis Getting To Be An Old Song, But Still Musical.

The Manufacturers Record reports the losing of a contract for the construction of large works including three furnaces rolling mill, etc., at Tredegar, Calhoun Co, Ala., to employ when complete over 3,000 hands; a $200,000 rolling mill at Cardiff, Tenn.; and a $1,000,000 com-pany to establish manufacturing enterprises at Roanoke, Va.

A foretaste of the development of the ron industry in the South is given in the bids for the water works pipe at Atlanta, Ga., opened a few days ago. The lowest bid, $22.24 per ton, was by the Howard Harrison Iron Company, of Bessemer, Ala. The next lowest, $22.95, was by the Anniston Pipe Works. Other bids, giving only the name of cities, were as follows Philadelphia, $25; Louisville, $25.80; Cincinnati, $28; Philadelphia, $28.91 and Burlington, N. J., $2971. with the exception of one Philadelphia concern, which was $2.76 higher, the Northern bidders were $6 to $7 a ton higher than the Bessemer company. As Atlanta has about 6,000 tons to buy, the lifference in the whole bid is from $26, 000 to $42,000. Referring to this, the Atlanta Constitution remarks: "A difference of 25 per cent. is not explained by the remoteness of Northern foundries. The conditions of iron manufacture are more favorable South, and that is what made the bids lower.

became suffused with blood in his violent efforts to speak. As he stood before the specialist his eyes were fixed upon the wall, and he repeated for the hundredth time: "Don't do wrong! Where will you be to-morrow?" and other phrases difficult for him to enunciate. He pronounced them after a fortnight's treatment, plainly, but very slowly and with evident effort. Before each word ho drew a deep breath and there was a queer whizzing sound from his lips. "That will soon disappear," said the doctor, "but with all this brave boy's persistence it will require at last another month to rid him completely of his abnormal peculiarities of speech.' Girls have this affliction much more carely than boys. Their tongue appears to be more elastic than is the tongue of he opposite sex. Women who are unable to speak quickly and plainly are very rare, according to scientific writers on the subject. The largest percentage of stutterers is furnished by boyhood, especially between the tenth and fifteenth year. This is due, in part, to an impetuosity of speech, which gradually disappears as the boy learns a little more sense and reserve. There are no reliable statistics to show the percentage of those having some impediment in their speech in the different countries on the globe.

Re-But the fact is sufficiently established that this percentage is much smaller in all the Latin countries, such as France, Italy, Spain, Portugal and South America than it is in the Teutonio lands. This is said to be largely due to the fact that the Germanic tongue is less volubla than the Latin one; that the languages derived in part from the old Latia are more easy of pronunciation than those descended from the old Teuton linguistic stock, and that there are more vowels and less difficult combinations of conso-
