Local News.

Sligh & Rucker's store has been crowded all the week.

Mr. Henry W. Thompson, of Spartanburg, who has been in the city for several days, returned home Wednesday.

The finest line of dress goods ever opened in Darlington at Sligh & Rucker's.

The new paper will be forwarded to all of our exchanges just as soon as it is issued and we hope to receive them as usual during the time that must elapse before its appearance.

The prices on boys' youth's and men's suits are so low that you will be surprised. Call and see them at Blackwell Bro's.

Mr. T. F. Sligh, manager of the firm of Sligh & Rucker, spent Tuesday night in Florence with his family.

Buy a boy's suit and get a stimulating monkey free at Blackwell Bro's.

Largest stock of clothing ever opened in Darlington at Sligh & Rucker's.

Send twenty cents and get the New York Weekly Times for the month. This will give you the latest news and the most complete and reliable journal published in New York.

If you want a fine and stylish suit of clothes go to Sligh & Rucker's.

The present term of the court has made a final disposition of the cases growing out of the dispensary troubles and no one will suffer therefrom. The position of THE HERALD is so well known in reference to acquittals for murder that we deem it unnecessary to comment on the result of these trials.

Sligh & Rucker's is the place to buy your dry goods and clothing.

There are only a few days left in which to arrange the tobacco exhibit and we trust that those who have promised samples for this purpose will bring them in without delay. No exhibit will be made unless it is one that will attract attention.

100 fine overcoats just opened at Sligh & Rucker's.

We wish to be as lenient as possible with our subscribers but we must insist that those who are in arrears should settle what they owe, as the money is very much needed.

On the 1st of December we are publishing a delinquent list and those who do not wish their names on that list would do well to settle their dues before that time. A great many have paid in part, but they should remember that $1.00 does not pay for two years, and some of them were that much behind when they handed in a dollar. The names of some prominent people will appear on this delinquent list.

Family flour $2.90 per barrel Blackwell Bro's.

If the people of the State vote in favor of a Constitutional Convention we suggest that it would simplify matters and save a great deal of money if the Legislature would instruct Gov. Tillman to prepare the Constitution, and not go to the trouble of electing members of a convention. The Governor says that the people ought to trust him, and as he will have the new Constitution fixed according to his own ideas, a convention will be entirely unnecessary and a useless expense. If he disfranchises a large number of poor men it will, of course, be all right and be for their good and an additional security to the State.

A good pair of men's shoes for 95 cents and women's for 65 cents at Blackwell Bro's.

"Fenton's Slave."

This fine play was admirably performed last night at the Opera House by Fred Marsh's company, and the audience were all very much pleased with the performance. The parts were all well sustained and Miss Madeline Gleason is unquestionably one of the best actresses that has ever visited Darlington, and some judges say that she is, in some respects, a better actress than the leading lady in "Jesse." They will give another performance tonight and a matinee tomorrow afternoon for the children.

Church News.

There will be no service at the Baptist church on Sunday next.

Rev. Mr. Wallace, of Columbia, will preach at the Presbyterian church in the morning.

The services at the Methodist church will be conducted by the pastor.

Services at the Episcopal church by the assistant rector.

The announcement for the union service will be made on Sunday morning.

Court Proceedings.

When we went to press last week the jury was in the room with the McLondon case, and as it is now generally known acquitted him.

The case against Cain was not prosed.

The trial of Dr. Payne was postponed until the next term of the court.

H. B. Best was acquitted for the killing of a colored man. He was defended by Mr. E. Keith Dargan. In this case the Solicitor did not ask for a verdict of guilty.

Owing to the lack of space we can't publish the proceedings in reference to the minor cases.

Death of an Aged Citizen.

Mr. F. Joye died on Sunday morning at the residence of his son, Mr. J. D. Joye. He had lived nearly all his life at Lynchburg, but for the past year or two had been residing in Darlington. He was in very good health up to his last illness, despite his advanced age, and looked to be considerably younger than he really was. He was eighty-two years old and outlived nearly every one of his youthful associates. He had been a consistent member of the Methodist church for a good many years and was a man of high character and the strictest integrity. His remains were taken to Lynchburg for interment.

The Glycerin Fair.

It has been decided to open the Fair at the Darlington Guards' Armory at 4 p. m. on Thursday Nov. 8, and close after the children's matinee on Friday. The judges will meet at the hour named for the opening to make their decisions as to the premiums to be awarded. The committee is as follows: Mr. B. W. Barnwell, of Florence, chairman; Mr. J. W. Evans, Mrs. H. M. Oliver, Mrs. H. L. Charles, Miss Mary E. Boyd. The entertainment on the stage will begin at 9 o'clock, and will include a "Scarf Drill" and minstrel performance among its attractions. Oysters, salads, coffee and sandwiches will be served during the evening on the first floor of the Armory building.

The Fair will be open all Friday for the benefit of those who wish to see the flowers or order refreshments and the matinee for children will begin at 4 p. m., on which occasion also the "Scarf Drill" will be given. Suitable refreshments will be served, and the little folks will doubtless have a "big time."

Admission to the Fair, 25 cents; children 15 cents; matinee, 10 cents; children 5 cents.

North Carolina State Fair.

The North Carolina State Fair was held last week at Raleigh and, from all accounts, was the finest that has ever been held in that State. The News and Observer gives a very fine report of the exhibits, the result of which will be something of a surprise to those who are accustomed to think that the people of our sister State are somewhat behind the times in agricultural advancement. So far from this being the case the people of the old North State are making rapid progress not only in agriculture but in other things as well, and the mere fact that they were enabled, without any outside help or extra amount of advertising, to make such a fine exhibit of their agricultural resources is sufficient to prove the truth of our assertion. Taking it all in all with its rich soil, fine climate, its mineral wealth, as yet almost untouched, timber and other resources, North Carolina is one of the richest States in the whole country, and there are few that can offer such inducements to the industrious immigrant.

It could easily support six or seven times its present population and still not be crowded or its resources overtaxed.

A Cotton Trust.

Mr. Jas. T. Roddey, a cotton broker of New York, has issued a circular in which he proposes the formation of a cotton trust, with a view of securing better prices for that staple. His plan, briefly stated, is for the cotton planters to turn over to the trust a certain per centage of their crops with the understanding that it is to be held until it can be sold at a remunerative price. Mr. Roddey's intentions are good but it would be practically impossible, owing to the very large number of individuals that would have to be brought into the arrangement, to carry it into effect. Even if it were possible to get such a trust into active operation it would be only a temporary expedient and could accomplish very little, if any, good.

The trust would soon collapse of its own weight, unless it should prove an exception to the general fate that befalls enterprises of this character.

The farmers have been waging war against trusts, and it would hardly be consistent for them to organize one themselves.

We think it very improbable that cotton will ever again bring high prices, and the only remedy for the farmers is to plant with this in view. The only practical solution is for each farmer to make his own supplies at home and then he can sell his cotton at a low price and still be independent and keep out of debt.

"Girl Wanted."

Quite a number of our young men are wearing buttons with this device printed on them, and their candor, in making this public acknowledgment of their wants, is very much to be admired; but then it would be better if each one of them would seek a private interview with the girl, (or if there is more than one take them all in detail), they want and then it might be possible for them to wear a button containing the words: "Want Supplied."

When a young man is so much in earnest as not to care how many people are acquainted with his condition it is not at all probable that the girl will prove obdurate and turn a deaf ear to his petition. A girl admires all things else, courage and it will be well for these candid lads perhaps timid young men to remember that a woman's heart is never apt to be captured by stalling than by a regular siege. Of course it sometimes happens that the girl a fellow wants is not to be won, at least by him, but he should ever bear in mind that there are others that are just as lovable and who would not swap a dear ear to his appeal.

Some of the nicest young men in town are wearing these buttons, and we hope that they will soon be in a position to discard them and turn them over to some other candidates for matrimony.

The Special Representative, Frank Welch, of the Guarantee Savings, Loan and Investment Co., of Washington, D. C., is now in Darlington and is prepared to make an immediate loan on town property for the purpose of lifting mortgages. With proper security loans can be made on country property. Mr. Welch can be found at the office of Geo. W. Dargan or at the Exchange Hotel, Darlington, S. C.

Removal.

Having moved into my new store, formerly the old postoffice, next door to Welling & Bonnett's, I take great pleasure in calling the special attention of my friends, patrons and the public generally to the fact that I am now ready to supply them with any article that can be found in any first-class Jewelry Store in this country.

I have just received a fresh, new unique line of the following goods: ORNAMENTAL JEWELRY, GOLD & SILVER WATCHES, CHAINS & Fobs IN EVERY STYLE, SILVERWARE IN ENDLESS VARIETY.

The most fastidious taste can be satisfied.

I can fit the eyes of any one in OPTICAL GOODS.

Glasses fitted to eye by actual measurement; frames to suit in GOLD, SILVER, ALLUMINUM, NICKLE OR STEEL.

All goods guaranteed as represented and prices as low as honesty and safety will permit.

I call special attention to my Repairing Department.

Everything in the Jewelry line repaired neatly and promptly.

I guarantee all repair work done on watches and clocks for twelve months at low prices.

Call and try me and you will be pleased with my goods and prices. I am here to stay. My policy is honesty and fair dealing to all.

HIGH - PRICES - IS - A - THING - OF - THE - PAST.

Since our arrival in Darlington the prices of dry goods and clothing has dropped 25 per cent. Why? Because our prices and the price paid before our arrival were too far apart. 'Tis laughable and amusing to see our would-be competitors hustling and cutting prices. We don't have to cut prices to sell goods, for the simple reason that we mark our goods at a LIVING PRICE. We have been in Darlington just 10 days and are now selling more goods than any firm in this city. We are very glad to see the people of Darlington and Darlington county appreciate high grade goods at a low price. Yes, we understand our business and have plenty of capital to do business on. Our stock is paid for and we do not have to look grumb when a "rainy" day comes. We cordially invite everyone in Darlington city and county to call at our store and inspect goods and get our prices. We will save you money whether you buy from us or not as we will post you on prices. We do not quote a few prices as a bait but simply say come and see for yourself.

BAIRD & SMOOT.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR FEET!

WHY IS IT that some people walk with such a firm elastic tread while others hobble along and give a groan of agony at every step? It is simply for the reason that the former always look after the comfort of their feet by buying shoes that are made according to scientific principles and which do not make corns on their toes; while the latter buy badly made shoes that almost make a man howl every time he puts them on.

If you are one of those who don't want to torture your feet you will buy your shoes from

WOODS & MILLING

For the reason that they understand their business and won't sell an uncomfortable shoe to any one.

WHERE DID YOU GET THAT HAT?

I thought that everybody knew that the place for stylish hats was at

Woods' & Milling's Store,

And that those who pretended to be in the fashion always get their headgear from them. Besides this who ever heard of a man looking dressed without a stylish hat and well-fitting shoes. This is also the place for
