The Out-look.

The close of the year 1878 leaves to Orangeburg and her people higher hopes of the future than any period since the end of the war; and the opening of 1879, basing its promises upon these well founded hopes, bids us look forward to a prosperity we dared not dream of three years ago. At the beginning of this period the people of South Carolina, in their collective capacity, determined to make a declaration of political principles liberal enough for every citizen within her bounds to adopt as his creed. The election of '76 proved how wisely our leaders, so far as the State was concerned, counselled. Orangeburg then failed to take her position in the advanced rank with her sisters; at the beginning, however, of the last campaign she determined to put in the field a ticket with the names of gentlemen of it who might be considered as true representative men—exponents of the principles they had adopted for the political guidance of her people, and who would carry the banner of Orangeburg Democracy to a final and successful issue, even in the face of that terrible opposition which is always indicated by a compact combination of forces. In this instance, it was not an honest or a legitimate opposition, nor an open or a brave foe, but an illegal organized band of plunderers who, caucused, in the night time and skulked about with closed doors in the day time, that secretly, they might consummate their infernal purposes. Besides, this there was as dangerous an element to contend against, developing itself in our midst in the shape of Independentism, from disaffected Democrats and salary-loving office seekers—men who are ever ready and willing to transfer their allegiance to any party that would divide the spoils without consulting the honesty of the measure or the principle involved. Such were the forces in the field against which Democracy had to contend, and such was the bush-whacking policy the enemy adopted to defeat the honest intentions of the citizens of this county. How they failed—ignominiously failed, and how gloriously the battle was won by the true Democrats, white and colored, the records of the last election will certify to the world.

Under the leadership of our noble county chairman, Gen. Elzer, and the strong support of the executive committee, the party of the people won the field and forever established the supremacy of right over might, intelligence over ignorance and honesty over dishonesty. To-day finds Orangeburg occupying her proper position in the line of Democratic counties and her people enjoying the rights and immunities of a government they ought to control.

Well may it be said, therefore, that this is a promising period for Orangeburg county, as well as for South Carolina. Every department of the government feels the pressure of this success; instead of having a creature whose hands are deeply stained by crime to sit in the chair once honored by Calhoun and McDuffie, we have the embodied wisdom and purity of the people in the person of Wade Hampton to represent them in the halls of the Federal Congress; instead of having Chamberlain, with his heart corrupt by official perjury to sit in the executive chair of this honored commonwealth, we have the people's choice in the person of Gov. Simpson to control our State affairs; instead of a bought and sold judiciary to judge the law and to reward crime, we have the honor and the dignity of our society upon the bench in the persons of our judges save two; instead of a mob of ignorance, vice and low political cunning to sit in the chambers of our State capital to legislate in the interest of crime and dishonor, we have the proper representatives of the people save eight, to legislate in the whole State in the interest of human society and christian civilization; and instead of a legalized band of thieves at our county court houses to prey like vultures upon the hard earnings of our impoverished tax-payers, we have honest citizens from among our own neighbors to manage county funds.

Indeed, this is a period of revolutions. The Orange stables have been cleansed, and the fifth and corruption which was so long a stench in the nostrils of decency, have been removed to their proper receptacle under the supervision of Col. Livingston for transport beyond the Potomac, where they will be offensive to nobody's sensibilities. In a few more years the few that now remain under the guise of Democrats to poison our society, will have fled, and our people, white and colored, will then be left alone to pursue the even tenor of their way to a material prosperity of which they have not dared to dream for fifteen years. May we see in these things just reason for unity of purpose and concentration of effort, and, encouraged by them, abide our time until the will of Heaven be manifested and the rights of a subjugated but brave people be once more established throughout the land.

The General Assembly.

True to the resolution adopted at the beginning of the Session, the General Assembly adjourned sine die on the 23rd of December, thus meeting an imperative demand of the people, yet without leaving any important measure unattended to. The work of the body was performed much after the manner of the olden times and commends each member to the gratitude of those he represented. Great wisdom was shown in undertaking few new measures, and among them none were more judiciously considered and acted upon than the general appropriation and supply bills; the former are much smaller than heretofore, and the latter calls for a much lower general tax than we have been in the habit of paying since the war. The Divorce law, which was a disgrace to the State, has been repealed, and the Marriage compact re-stated where it did when South Carolinians were noted for their purity and virtuous integrity. No man or woman can get a divorce from henceforth. The credit of the State has been maintained by killing every effort made to abolish the Bond Court, and thus again pledging the faith of the State to the settlement perfected last winter. The Phosphate question, which excited so much bitterness during the summer, has been settled by the enactment of a general law which gives the right of digging rocks under certain restrictions. Persons committing assaults upon the thoroughfares and streets will hereafter be visited with the severest penalties. This law will go far toward the protection of the person and property of our citizens. A law to prevent unjust discriminations on the part of Railroads has been passed and also an act creating a Railroad Commissioner. These two acts alone, if properly executed, will be of incalculable advantage to citizens of every class along our lines of Railroad. Provision has been made for redeeming lands forfeited by the non-payment of taxes. This is magnanimous and at the same time a merciful provision. The State can well afford to offer her poor citizens a chance to recover their homes lost either through misfortune or Radical oppression.

In view, therefore, of these wise general enactments and the many laws of local interest to the several counties, and among them Orangeburg, we say to our delegation, "Well done, good and faithful servants."

The Orangeburg Times.

Having purchased of Mr. James L. Sims a half interest in what was once known as "The Edisto Clarion" it becomes necessary for me to make the following statement of facts with reference to my connection with the "Orangeburg Times": In December, 1877, I bought of Mr. George Boliver the "Orangeburg Times," who then claimed it as his individual property. It was a genuine sale. When this was made public the News Company sued out an injunction and stopped the publication of the paper, alleging that the material upon which the Times was being printed belonged to the said News Company. In January following the Court removed the injunction and the paper was again issued. I agreed to continue on the Times as editor provided Mr. Boliver would guarantee me the titles to the paper when the suit should be adjusted, which he promised to do. Upon the faith of this promise the Times was regularly issued as a true Democratic organ during the year. When Mr. Sims purchased the Clarion I agreed with him to consolidate the two papers, and thus give the county one good paper. But, in the meantime, Mr. Sims, having heard from a reliable source that Mr. Boliver had circulated a slanderous report about him, snubbed Mr. Boliver by declining an introduction to him on the street. Because of this circumstance only Mr. Boliver refused, upon application being made, to sign the necessary papers, until the matter between himself and Mr. Sims could be adjusted. Such an event not being likely, as Mr. Sims positively refused to apologize or make any statement to Mr. Boliver, in reference to the matter between them, I closed the bargain for a half interest in the Clarion and abandoned my claim on the Times. I, therefore, take pleasure in informing the public that henceforth the firm of Sheridan & Sims will issue THE ORANGEBURG DEMOCRAT, a weekly county paper, to meet, as far as possible, in every respect, the demands of our people, without any affiliation, directly or indirectly, with Radicalism. HUGO G. SHERIDAN. Christmas Tree. ST. MARTIN'S, Dec. 23, 1878. Editor Orangeburg Democrat: I had the pleasure of attending a Christmas Tree, Festival on Christmas eve, at the school house, the patrons of which are Dr. W. C. Whetstone, Messrs. J. H. Arant and Wm. Paulling. The teacher, Mrs. A. R. Z., suggested the festival to the patrons only a few days before; and, taking into consideration the short space of time together with the ages of the children, it was surprising to all who attended how great a success the affair proved to be. The tree, brilliantly illuminated with miniature candles and literally groaning beneath the weight of dolls, books, gloves, neckties and other articles too numerous to mention, presented a sight well calculated to please the visitors as well as the children of the school. The exercises commenced at 6 o'clock, P. M., with music by Mr. J. M. W., and a charade, "Welcome," by Edna W. and Mamie A. This was followed by an extract spoken by J. S. B. Next came a prayer by Rosie W. and Sue A., which pleased the whole audience. Santa Claus was next rendered by Master R. D. Z., whose oratorical powers, if cultivated will not have many superiors. Buz-zing Babies, by Emma W., and Court-ing Babies, by Edith P., brought forth such applause as to shake nearly all the prizes from the tree. Last and best of all, there was a Spelling Bee, which ended in Master R. D. Z.'s getting an elementary speller and Mamie A. the first prize as she was the last on the stage. The part of the exercises that gladden the hearts of the children most came at last, which was the distribution of the articles on the tree. The teacher called a few friends to her aid and soon stripped the tree of its precious burdens, and in a short time every scholar in school was loaded with Christmas gifts. The teacher deserves great credit for the manner in which she has advanced her scholars, and for the love and kindly feeling that exist among the pupils.

The Washington Post says: A person by the name of Hayes writes a message of Congress, in which we find the following: "It is the right of every citizen, possessing the qualifications prescribed by law, to cast one unintimidated ballot honestly counted." And if that right hadn't been sold out by fifty-seven thieves, whose names we could give if we had the space, and bought by Rutherford B. Hayes, a gentleman by the name of Samuel J. Tilden would be sending messages to Congress, which this same Mr. Hayes would be reading at his quiet little home in Fremont, Ohio. The trustees of Mount Sinai Hospital, (Hebrew,) New York, after turning the matter over in their minds, have concluded not to accept Mrs. A. T. Stewart's donation "as proffered;" that is to say, they will not accept it through Judge Henry Hilton. The latter will find that the large and influential class which he so carelessly insulted a few years ago will not condone his offence for the sake of a few dollars and cents. Senator Hampton. The last reports from Columbia state that the improvement in the condition of Senator Hampton is gradual and satisfactory. His friends are in fine spirits and the citizens throughout the State share this gratifying news with them. We trust that these brightening hopes may result in his early restoration to health.

Gov. Simpson has appointed Ex-Gov. Bonham Railroad Commissioner. Gen. Livingston Superintendent of Penitentiary and Gen. Anderson Inspector of Phosphates. No BLANKS—Two thousand persons will receive a dollar each into a scheme offering a prize of $1,000, also only one can get it, and 1,999 must lose his dollar. A publisher puts $2,000 into collecting and preparing useful information, and offers to every one of 2,000 persons who contribute a dollar or so, a printed duplicate of the results, so that each one may have the entire benefit of what has actually cost over $2,000. Is not this better than any uncertain scheme, full of blank checks? This applies to THE ORANGEBURG DEMOCRAT. If you invest $1.50 in its concern, we guarantee you a prize, as we issue no blanks. Reduction. Owing to the general decline in the price of cotton and other produce, we have concluded to put the price of our paper down to ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS per annum, thus placing it within the reach of all. Send in your names at once. Special Notice. Any person who will get us up a Club of Ten Cash Subscribers at 1.50 per annum will receive THE DEMOCRAT one year free. Go to work at once, and secure your Club. We know you can do it if you but half try. Send to this office for specimen copies, which will be furnished on application. Married.
