Orangeburg, S. C., August 8, 1879.

The Revival: According to announcement in the Democrat, preaching began in the Methodist Church at this place on last Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

An Important Discovery.

The news is confirmed that Prof. Nordenskiold has successfully discovered and made the northeast passage or voyage from the waters of the Atlantic, through the Arctic, north of Europe and Asia, to the Pacific Ocean.

Expenditure of money and loss of life we know not, but hope it will be of sufficient importance to repay the world.

Editorial Notes.

It was our good fortune to accompany a party of gentlemen last Friday on a visit to the farm of Dr. W. F. Barton, and never were we better delighted with a trip, more profitably employed or time more pleasantly spent.

The Revival.

According to announcement in the Democrat, preaching began in the Methodist Church at this place on last Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Where Did They Come From?

Whilst the frozen region of the earth has been a source of so much anxiety to the world, the wilds of Central Africa have attracted sufficient attention to enlist the services and to furnish to the roll of fame such men as Thomas, Livingstone and Stanley.

The Cut Worm.

Thinking that it may be of some interest to the farmers of Orangeburg County, and especially those who cultivate swamp lands, to relate the experiment by which Mr. P. J. Recker, a young farmer of Lexington County, discovered the manner by which the cut worm increases so rapidly.

far to prove that the pea is the best and cheapest restorer of our worn-out land.

Another fact seems about to be settled by an experiment of Dr. B. this year: Cotton manured with the same quantity of acid phosphate and ground phosphate rock gives no difference in the yield.

A portion of the party visited the crops of Mr. Willie Izlar and James Stokes, and when we met on the return home, gave a most flattering account of the prospects of both gentlemen, but more especially of a three-acre field of Mr. Stokes which will yield more than two thousand pounds of seed-cotton per acre.

Rust in Cotton.

The subject of rust in cotton will only be interesting to those in the county living below the clay belt. We all know clay lands do not rust.

Attention! Orangeburg Democratic Club: The members of this Club, who are residents of the town, will assemble at the Engine Hall of the Young America Fire Engine Company, on Wednesday night, 13th instant, at 8 o'clock precisely.

To Sorghum Planters.

All parties desiring to make sugar out of their sorghum are requested to call on me before cutting their cane so as to get instructions how to boil, as it needs entirely different treatment, and also get chemicals.

box, when in a few days he discovered that the dead ones had each changed its form into a vast number of young ones, which he thinks accounts for their unequalled increase.

The COLUMBIA REGISTER.—This excellent journal has attained its fourth year of publication. The Register was started during the dark days of Radical rule in this State by an association of brave-hearted printers.
