DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Mayor: Hon. J. W. MOSELEY. For Aldermen: JOSEPH STACCS, J. S. ALBERGOTTI, WM. M. SAIN, J. C. DICKSON.

Investigations.

During the last Congress there was a perfect mania among the Republican members and many Democrats for the appointment of investigating committees. The ostensible reason was for the examination of frauds wherever they might exist, but the real reason was to lay bare to the country and especially to the saints of New England the crooked ways of the South.

Whilst this mania was raging, and amid the imitations and recriminations so ingloriously indulged in between our Northern Republican and Democratic friends, Senator M. C. Butler, of our State, secured the appointment of a similar committee with himself as chairman, to investigate the election frauds of New England itself.

Congratulation.

We congratulate the citizens of our town upon the cards published in the last issue of the Democrat by Messrs. W. M. Sain, D. E. Smoak and J. C. Dickson, colored, refusing to be candidates on the Boliver ticket for the office of alderman at the approaching municipal election.

stand before the public gaze in their true light, the people at least will know that their first duty is to sweep before their own doors before they undertake to sweep before their neighbors.

When the Senate meets again the people will be made to understand that political corruption and rottenness exist elsewhere besides in South Carolina and Louisiana, and that political slavery stalks through New England as well as the South, holding her citizens in chains as strong as those which held the negro in physical servitude.

Gen. J. B. Hood.

By telegraphic dispatches of last week the country was informed that this brave soldier of the late war and several members of his family, were down with yellow fever in New Orleans. Since the receipt of this news Mrs. Hood died, and her noble husband followed her in a few days, leaving a large family, several of them small children, to mourn their loss.

Hon. J. L. Jones.

According to announcement a lecture was delivered in the Methodist Church on Friday night last on Female Education, by the Hon. J. L. Jones, the worthy President of the Columbia Female College of the South Carolina Conference. After introduction to the audience by Hon. Samuel Dibble, he held the attention of his hearers for more than two hours by an address replete with beautiful imagery, apt illustrations, sprightly wit and humor and elegant passages of classic learning.

Good News.

The News and Courier says the nomination of Cornell for Governor of New York by the Republicans yesterday is a signal victory for Conkling, but a victory that will be likely to cost his party dearly. Cornell is the machine candidate and was bitterly opposed by all the reputable Republicans like Fyatts, Morgan, Fenton and Geo. Wm. Curtis.

ghost of a dead party and will not "down" at the bidding of an outraged people. Like every other hobgoblin a few daring spirits may gather about it to give the party a show of life, but the large majority will shun the ticket as they would a frightful apparition.

Kentucky and Ohio.

The election for Governor recently held in the state of Kentucky foots up the following figures as to the position of the two great parties in that State: The Democratic vote stood 125,799, Republican 81,882, Greenbackers 18,954. The Democratic candidate was elected by a majority of 43,917. This election does not decide any of the points in discussion but simply tells how Democracy stands in Kentucky.

A Colored Man's Views.

In your paper of August 22 you mentioned that Mr. George Boliver was a candidate for the Mayoralty, and I notice that he has been working very industriously among the colored people, trying to enlist them in his behalf. Now, Mr. Editor, I think Mr. Boliver is very cheeky in expecting the colored people to support him.

Barksdale's Defence.

James A. Barksdale, of Yazoo City, Miss., who recently shot and killed H. M. Dixon in that city, has written a letter to his uncle, Hon. Edward Barksdale, editor of the Clarion, Jackson, Miss., defending the act. He says: "Higher considerations than even those of self-defence actuated me. If I had not felt myself overwhelmingly justifiable in the affair Dixon would have lived, so far as I was concerned, to the end of time."

Kallock's utterance.

Kallock's utterance in regard to De Young's mother has been given to the public by the stenographer who reported him. His words are too vile for republication. In a single sentence he charged on De Young, his mother and his sisters a life below the brutes. By no use of blanks and no arrangement of language permissible among men can Kallock's meaning be given here.
