ORANGEBURG, S. C., DECEMBER 5, 1879.

A Dilemma.

According to the calculations of those who occupy positions entitling them to know, there is "a reasonable chance of electing a Democratic President in 1880," and therefore of returning the country to the control of its natural rulers, the people.

Both legislative bodies, national and State, are now in session and it strikes us as the best way out of the trouble is for Congress to legislate upon no matters but what is for the interest of the whole country and the good of the whole people.

South Carolina Ship Canal.

A petition will be presented at an early day to the Legislature praying the State to open a wide and deep ship canal connecting the Ashley and Cooper rivers, across the the strip of land known as Charleston Neck.

Charleston Politics.

We are afraid our Charleston friends have gotten themselves into a muddle, and it is the counsel of the best and most prudent citizens don't prevail they will have trouble and perhaps bloodshed on the day of their municipal election.

hope to compete successfully with other cities more fortunately situated. Producers will sell where they can realize the most money and buyers ship where they have the least expenses to incur.

The New School Bill.

This bill, which is now pending and being discussed in the Legislature, "provides for the establishment of new school districts in the several cities and towns and incorporated villages of the State, and to authorize the levy and collection of special taxes therein."

Mayor Sale.

This gentleman in his eagerness to be re-elected Mayor of Charleston, regardless of the will of the people, has thrown himself into the arms of the Radical party, and it now remains to be seen what his Democratic supporters are going to do about it.

The Immensity of Texas.

Ireland is about the size of Maine. France is more than twice as large as England, Wales and Scotland together.

Internal Revenue.

The report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue states that for the past three years 3,117 illicit distillers have been seized; 6,363 persons arrested for illicit distilling; 27 officers and employees killed, and 48 wounded while engaged in enforcing the Internal Revenue laws.

Chief Justice.

Chief Justice Willard, of the State Supreme Court, has thrown a bombshell into the ranks of the judicial aspirants in Columbia by claiming that his election entitles him to a term of six years, and, therefore, there is no vacancy on the Supreme Bench to be filled at this session of the Legislature.

Fence Law.

The article to which our correspondent on our first page alludes, and which was published in the Democrat two weeks ago, was clipped from an exchange and was not intended to express our views upon the subject therein treated.

Ourselfes.

The disagreeable discussion which has been going on between the Democrat and the Times for the last three weeks, we feel no disposition to continue.

Fatal Accident.

We learn from the Lexington Dispatch that a daughter of Mr. E. Mathias, about five years of age, who lives three miles below here, was fatally burned on Saturday by her clothes catching from the kitchen fire.
