THE SENATORIAL CAMPAIGN.

ONLY IRBY AND EVANS SPOKE AT KINGSTREE.

A Brief Account of the Meeting which Was Held Here Last Thursday.

The campaign meeting at Kingstree last Thursday compared to the one at Georgetown, was like a calm after a storm. The two speakers exhausted their supply of invectives at Georgetown, but had on hand a few new ones for our meeting. They were listened to by about two hundred men, who were quite undemonstrative. Both speakers were wildly applauded when they concluded.

Col J. L. M. Irby began: This campaign is unparalleled in the history of the State for taking under-handed advantage and for dirty tricks of dirty henchmen. I cannot speak of Mr McLaurin while he is on a bed of sickness for fear of doing him an injustice, but I can speak of the infamous fight that is being made against me.

Col Irby here vehemently denied the report that he was running as a "loose horse" to elect Evans.

They have established a lying bureau over there in Columbia. They are sending circulars all over the State, and they are lying about as thick as snowflakes. And, to add to the infamy of the act, the circulars are not signed by anyone. They are anonymous, and there is no one whom I can hold responsible. In addition to being lies the circulars are written by a pack of cowards. The men at the head of that bureau in Columbia are liars and cowards. "Here's one of the little darlings," and Col Irby took from his pocket a circular containing remarks he and Governor Evans were said to have made about each other last year. After reading it Col Irby tore it up and denied that he had ever said any of the things attributed to him. He then went over much of his speech of yesterday concerning the Murphy loan, but failed to bring out anything new.

His record as a Democrat and his opposition to bolts were repeated. He told how he made Evans Governor and muzzled Tillman to carry out the scheme. Bill Neal, over here in Columbia, came on to Washington with Tillman to help muzzle him. Bill Neal, who hasn't ten cents worth of sense, was trying to dabble in politics then, as he is now.

I understand that Ellerbe has made another deal with Charleston to remove the metropolitan police if the vote of that city is cast for McLaurin. It has come to a pretty pass when the people of Charleston have to surrender their franchise to get the right of self government. I hope to God someone will make the Governor carry out his contract this time. Evans ought never to have put the metropolitan police on that grand old city. No law should be passed for one part of the State unless it was made to apply to all. The Legislature should have made the law for Laurens, or any other town, as well as for Charleston. Some other way for enforcing the dispensary law should have been devised. Col Irby concluded by warning the voters of the dangers of the suffrage clause. He was applauded.

John Gary Evans opened his speech with some pleasantries about Col Irby being his political daddy, and then passed on to a defence of the suffrage clause. But, said he, I do join him in one thing, and that is the way the campaign is being run.

Fellow citizens, you know the low campaign that was waged against me last summer. But the newspapers have held up in their abuse this year, and instead put two guttersnipes in charge of a bureau in Columbia. And I say here, unless Mr McLaurin openly and publicly denounces this bureau I will hold him personally responsible. Irby has shown you one of these circulars, and this morning I got one, giving my supposed record and putting words in my mouth that I never said. I got a letter from a man in Greenville, saying Bill Neal had offered him money to distribute these circulars. Where did he get the money? What business did he have to mix up in this fight? Instead of being the superintendent of a Penitentiary he should be dressed in stripes and put to work as a convict.

Irby: (sotto voce:) "I endorse all that." Last year, while I was governor I had to send Neal to the Keeley institute, because he became incapable of attending to his business.

Irby: Did he get a diploma? Evans: I don't know, but it would be the best recommendation he could have.

All the papers of the State are supporting Mr McLaurin, but not satisfied with that some of his friends have resorted to this guttersnipe practice of sending out circulars to stab Irby and himself in the back.

After this denunciation of the bureau Mr Evans took up the tariff, and said all farmers should be free traders, for the reasons that they sold their products in free trade markets, but could only buy their goods in protection markets. Farmers should also favor free raw materials, because the manufacturer could make his goods cheaper and the farmers could, therefore, buy them cheaper. Mr. Evans concluded with his argument on the tariff. He was applauded.

After the Senatorial Candidates concluded, and before the meeting was dismissed, Mr J. E. Ellerbe, candidate for Congress, arose and said in justice to himself he desired to make a statement. While in Camden, he said, to address a State Sundry School Convention, he received a telegram from a friend in Manning telling him that Gen Norton was saying things about him. He came to Manning and learned that it was being told on him that last year he speculated on cotton futures and lost all his property; that he borrowed money from the banks at Marion, and secured them with mortgages on one hundred bales of cotton, but that he sold this cotton and to keep the banks from indicting him friends had to come to this aid. To refute this he telegraphed to the president of the banks, and received the following answers: "No truth in the charge. Your dealings with bank have all been honorable and satisfactory." W. J. Montgomery, President.

"I know nothing of the charges to which you refer. Your transactions with Bank of Marion all ways have been honorable." C H Woods.

After reading these telegrams Mr. Ellerbe said people in glass houses should not throw stones. He felt tempted to reply to these insinuations and charges, but restrained himself, as he had thus far conducted his campaign on a high plane, and did not wish to stoop to anything low near the end. He felt he could be elected without resorting to such means and he would not.

Note In his remarks Mr. Ellerbe did not say that Gen. Norton was the man who was circulating these reports. He used the expression "One of his opponents." To our correspondent he said Gen. Norton was the man to whom he referred. As Gen. Norton and Mr. Ellerbe will both be at Manning to-morrow, it is probable that more will come of the matter.

Baby's Second Summer

Is the time that tries all the care of the mother and all the skill of maternal management. Baby comfort comes from fat; fat babies have nothing to do but to sleep and grow.

If your baby does not seem to prosper, if he does not gain in weight, you must get more fat there. A few drops of each day will put on plumpness; fat outside, life inside, baby and mother both happy.

Your baby can take and relish Scott's Emulsion as much in summer as in any other season.
