THURSDAY, SEPT. 23, 1897.

It is understood that Mr. W. W. Dixon, a prominent young lawyer, of Union, will be in the race next year for Adjutant-General.

Charleston had a scare one day this week when it was discovered that a car of bananas from Mobile, Ala., had been carried into the city. The authorities soon hustled it out again.

The Mayor of Greenville has telegraphed to the Mayor of New Orleans, La., that "the gates of Greenville, at the foot of the Blue Ridge mountains, are open" to the refugees from the fever-stricken districts.

Let's be brethren and pull to gether for the upbuilding of town and community and all their attendant interest which affect us mutually. Let each one contribute his part in the march of progress and then you will not feel like an imposter when sharing in the rewards which follow.

It is true that there is nothing like a man being thoroughly advertised in any business he goes at, because it helps him along. At the time he ought to take in consideration the fact that it requires cash to run a newspaper, and if he appreciates being puffed he ought to keep his account paid up with the publisher, or else he will not be noticed any more than if he never existed. Business the world over.

The Springfield Republican, founded by that lover of truth and liberty, Isaiah Thomas, and now run by Samuel Bowles, always ably edited, has done this section a grievous wrong when it says that lynchings in the South is the judgment of heaven upon those through whom this offense of negro importation and servitude came. Really this is the "unkindest cut of all," says the Yorkville Yeoman.

The South in the days when slave trading flourished bought almost all her slaves from New England "skippers." In those days, just as in these, the Yankee had an eye to business. He claimed to be a stickler for his puritanical religion and at Salem prosecuted the per secution of "witchcraft" with all the ardor that the present day prohibitionist prosecutes the supposed "liquor element," while on the other hand he made all the fun he could trade on the Guinea coasts for likely negroes that he in turn brought to the plantations of Virginia and the Carolinas and sold at a handsome profit into slavery to cultivate the very cotton which fifty years later and more he claims the government ought to guarantee him a profit on or pay him a bounty or tariff for manufacturing. The negro, rum-bought and safely disposed of to the South created the cotton fields the Yankee progeny was to prey on later, while the descendants and neighbors of these same skippers, William Lloyd Garrison, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Henry Ward Beecher, Wendell Phillips and others began to inveigh against the horrors of negro slavery in the South. It was natural that the South, innocent in her purchase from her slick trading and profit hunting Northern neighbors, honest in the pursuit of her own purposes and sincere in her ideas of her own property rights, should rebel against the officious interference of those who had imposed upon her, taken her gold and then preached the theory of crime in possession of those slaves and finally by force at arms robbed her of the millions she had invested. Donn Piatt has shown years ago that the greater part, nearly all, the slave trade between Africa and the port of Charleston, for a long time the greatest American slave market, was conducted in bottoms owned in New Bedford, Providence and Boston. And the sentiment of the freebooting slave trader still lives in those same quarters and, claiming a cinch alike on religion, virtue, education and civilization, demands the privilege of fixing the financial standards for suckers of the South and West, and of the government an enormous royalty on all the manufacturing of their stony and barren section. We of the South have been crucified for a century for their sins; we have borne the heat and burden of the day for them, first on one pretext and then another, but its a long lane that has no turning, and we still hope for better things.

Some paper has been cruel enough to say that it is a mystery to a man how a woman's clothes stay so nearly on.

Owing to over-crowding and bad ventilation the air of the school-room is often close and impure, and teachers and pupils frequently suffer from lung throat troubles. To all such we would say, try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For coughs, colds, weak lungs and bronchial troubles no other remedy can compare with it. Says A. C. Freed, superintendent of schools, Prairie Depot Ohio: "Having some knowledge of the efficacy of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I have no hesitancy in recommending it to all who suffer from cough, lung troubles, &c." For sale by Dr. W. L. Wallace.

It is an old proverb that "boys will be boys." What a pity it isn't equally as true that men will be men.

Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic is a ONE-DAY Cure. It cures the most stubborn case of Fever in 24 Hours.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back kidneys, liver, bladder and evers part of the urinary passager. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggist, price fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention The County Record and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Bing hamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

Chamberlain's Eye and Skin Ointment Is unequalled for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Nipples, Chapped Hands, Itching Piles, Burns, Frost Bites, Chronic Sore Eyes and Granulated Eye Lidia. For sale by druggists at 25 cents per box.

TO HORSE OWNERS.

For putting a horse in a fine healthy condition try Dr. Cady's Condition Powders. They tone up the system, aid digestion, cure loss of appetite, relieve constipation, correct kidney disorders and destroy worms, giving new life to an old or over-worked horse. 25 cents per package.
