MANNING.
Manning Times.

Married on last Sunday, at the residence of the brides parents, by Magistrate J. E. Richbourg of Foreston, Mr. H. V. Haley and Miss Mattie Hodge.

Married by Magistrate J. E. Richbourg, last Wednesday, at the residence of Mr. W. J. Tucker, Mr. H. R. Corbett and Miss Mary M. Tucker.

Married this evening at the residence of the bride's parents, near Sandy Grove, Mr. W. D. Gamble and Miss Rosa Burgess. The bride is a daughter of Dr. Itly Burgess and the groom is one of Clarendon's most highly esteemed business men.

Married in New Zion church, November, 24th, 1897, by Rev. S. E. Bishop, Lewis P. Fleming and Miss Isla Hudson.—By the same minister, at the residence of Mr. J. E. Reardon, November 25 1897, Mr. Michael Epps and Miss Kate Joye.

Died, suddenly Monday morning Mr. W. H. Young, age 57 years. The deceased had been a resident of Manning for many years and was at one time a member of the town council. His health has been failing for some time and last Saturday he was strong enough to be down town. The interment took place in the Manning cemetery yesterday.

About six or eight persons met in the court house last Monday to discuss the propriety of sending delegates to Atlanta for the Cotton Growers' convention. Dr. I. M. Woods took the chair, and, in his usual lucid manner, discussed the situation. He explained the need of Clarendon being represented and said the small attendance was due to "moral cowardice." Mr. A. J. Morris of New Zion nominated Dr. Woods as a delegate; seconded by Mr. J. J. Bragdon. Both of these gentlemen voted for the doctor, whereupon the chairman declared himself unanimously elected. He then requested that another delegate be elected, which was done by the same two gentlemen nominating seconding and voting for Mr. Henry L. Johnson. Dr. Woods, after quite a discourse on the present unfortunate condition of the farmers, promised his best efforts when he got to Atlanta to bring about a change for "this people." Mr. Johnson was not in the hall when he was elected, but if he goes to Atlanta, Clarendon will exhibit rare talent.

Why take Johnson's Chill & Fever Tonic? Because it cures the most stubborn case of Fever in ONE DAY.

Happy Mr. Hazard.

Georgetown, S. C. Dec. 16.—Mr. Walter Hazard, Esq., and Miss Florence B. Tomple were united in marriage in the presence of the immediate family and a few friends at the residence of Major B. A. Munnerlyn on the evening of the 17th inst., the Rev. Mr. Guerry officiating. Mr. Hazard is a gentleman of sterling qualities and remarkable ability, and has before him the field for a brilliant future. His force as a clear and lucid logician has frequently been recognized in our legislature as a member, from which body he voluntarily retired. The bride is one of Georgetown's fairest maidens.

The office of Crpt. G. G. Lynch at the passenger depot does not now show the effects of the fire. It has been thoroughly renovated. The wood work is grained and new window glasses have been put in. It is a neat and attractive place.

Last Monday afternoon Le Roy, the little son of Mr. J. W. Cooper, was badly bitten by a dog. He was playing in the yard of Mr. F. S. Thomas and from some unknown cause the dog sprang upon him biting him on the nose, on other parts of the face, knocking out a tooth, and on his wrist. A physician was called, the wounds were dressed, and before dark the little fellow was as bright and cheerful as ever.

The celebrated leader of the commonwealth march to Washington, Jacob S. Coxey, of Massillon, Ohio, promises to visit this city at an early date, on his winter tour of the South, which is at the present time attracting so much attention. General Coxey is traveling in his special car, and at many of the principal towns he pitches his immense tent and delivers a free lecture. Both the car and tent were made famous in his campaign for governor of Ohio last fall. The tent holds ten thousand people, and was packed nearly every night during his great campaign.

R. C. Commander and Rev. J. N. Ison, a Methodist minister, were thrown from a buggy Monday night and painfully hurt. They were driving a double team from the depot towards Commander's home. The breast strap on one of the horses became unbuckled. The horses took fright and dashed at a mad pace towards the Pettigrew woods. Rev. Ison who was thrown out first suffered many painful bruises. Commander who was driving kept his seat until the horses ran into a tree in the woods. The fall he then received sprained his arm, and to day he is carrying it in a sling.

Are You Weak?
Weakness manifests itself in the loss of ambition and aching bones. The blood is watery; the tissues are wasting—the door is being opened for disease. A bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters taken in time will restore your strength, soothe your nerves, make your blood rich and red. Do you more good than an expensive special course of medicine. Brown's Iron Bitters is sold by all dealers.

The Georgetown Times has this to say about ex-President Cleveland's coming visit to the "happy hunting grounds" around that place in its yesterday's issue.

"All of our people will be glad to welcome Mr. Cleveland on his visit to our hunting grounds."

"The steamer Wistaria, arrived here on Thursday and Mr. Cleveland is expected this morning. Inasmuch as our citizens banqueted this distinguished gentleman on previous occasions, while President, it behooves us to tender him some little honor now, in order to convince him that we honor the man now as well as the office then."

I will pay highest prices for good sound, dry cotton seed delivered to me at Kingstree.

A Clemson Student Talks.

I shall try to reproduce as near as possible a conversation between a prominent Williamsburg gentleman and a Clemson college cadet as I suppose all the men of our county are interested in this college.

"You are a Clemson cadet?" said the prominent gentleman, as he took his seat near a boy in gray to witness the Clemson-Carolina football game.

"How many representatives has Williamsburg in your institution?"

"Only two. Your county has had as many as eight men up there at once, but the trouble is, they won't stick."

"How is the health of the boys this year?"

"Very good."

"How can you say that? I saw an account written by one of the students stating that there were five boys down with typhoid fever."

"The report was a false one, a boy did catch typhoid fever in Athens, but he has recovered and returned to his home."

"Do you know what caused typhoid fever up there last summer?"

"No sir."

"How many boys died with the fever?"

"Only three; two from the up country and one from Charleston. Your county has never lost a boy up there. I am sorry to say, though, that fever last summer caused a good many boys to go to other institutions. Our vacation has been changed from winter to summer to prevent fever, and as the fever has always been later than the beginning of our vacation, very likely we will have no more trouble."

Just then the referee of the football game yelled out, "time's up!" I wondered why the gentleman and my fellow student were not interested in the game, and also thought that our county should be better represented at the college.

The game was resumed and a boy passed selling fruit.

"How is your fare at the school?" resumed the gentleman.

"They charge us only six dollars a month board, but as most of the provisions are raised on the college farm, this enables them to give us good, substantial food at a low price."

"How about your studies?"

"Our college is run on the same basis as the other institutions of the State, only we have instead of Latin, French, Greek and German, agriculture, darning, mechanics and shop work."

"Good! I see where your trustees have an eye for business." Just then the referee yelled out "time's up!" The orange and blue had hit Carolina's line for the last time with the tandem buck, (they never could stop it) and our boys were rushing in from the field. The boy in gray could stand it no longer, but excused himself, jumped over the wire fence, (it was barbed or he would have gone through), and joined the cadets below.

It is not my place to finish the conversation, but I should like to have told the gentleman he didn't have much religion, or he would have been interested in our moral conditions; and also that he should be a little more interested in his son's moral condition, and then his death away from home would not be near so serious.

This college is supposed to be non-religious, but this is a mistake; we have preaching, Sunday school, a Y. M. C. A., and a Bible class—four religious services every Sunday. Is there a boy in your county that goes to more?

You see, our college is away from intoxicating liquors; away from the bad company which boys usually get into when going to school in large cities, and run on a cheaper basis than the other institutions of the State. Here, too, a boy can get just as good an education as he can get anywhere else in the State. For this reason if I were not young and inexperienced, I would advise the men of our county to send their sons here to school.

A Companion For All Ages.

A gentleman whose name to read The Youth's Companion when a boy, and reads it with the same interest now that he is a middle-aged man, when asked the other day if he had not outgrown The Companion. "I don't believe," said he, "that I can ever outgrow it. I find in it not only the cheery, hopeful spirit of youth, but the wisdom and experience of age. I like it just as much as when I was a boy, though perhaps in a different way. But I know that it is the same Youth's Companion with which I grew up, for my boys and girls like it as well as ever I did. It is a good paper to grow up with."

The Youth's Companion will contain the best thought of the best thinkers of America and Europe during 1898. It will print serial and short stories of absorbing interest, and true tales of adventures. The various departments of the paper will be a current record of the best work that is being done in the world. Present readers of The Companion who renew their subscription, and all new subscribers, will receive free a beautiful illustrated calendar, printed in twelve colors, and embossed in gold. It is the richest and costliest calendar ever sent to Companion subscribers. New subscribers will receive The Companion every week from the time the subscription is received until January 1898, and then a full year to January 1899.

A handsome illustrated prospectus of the volume for 1898 will be sent to any one addressing—

The Dreaded Consumption.

T. A. Slocum, M. C., the great chemist and Scientist Will Send Free to the Afflicted, 3 Bottles of his Newly Discovered Remedies to cure Consumption and all Lung Troubles.

Nothing could be fairer, more philanthropic or carry more joy to the afflicted, than the offer of T. A. Slocum, M. C., of 183 Pearl street New York City.

Confident that he has discovered an absolute cure for consumption and all pulmonary complaints, and to make its great merits known, he will send, free, three bottles of medicine, to any reader of The County Record who is suffering from chest, bronchial, throat and lung troubles or consumption.

Already this "new scientific course of medicine has permanently cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases.

The Doctor considers it his religious duty—a duty which he owes to humanity—to donate his infallible cure.

Offered freely, is enough to commend it, and more so is the perfect confidence of the great chemist making the proposition.

He has proved the dreaded consumption to be a curable disease beyond any doubt. There will be no mistake in sending—the mistake will be in overlooking the generous invitation. He has on file in his American and European laboratories testimonials of experience from those cured in all parts of the world.

Don't delay until it is too late. Address T. A. Slocum, M. C., 98 Pine street, New York, and when writing the Doctor, please give express and postoffice address, and mention reading this article in the County Record.
