With Our Advertisers.

The spring millinery openings are announced in this paper. On page 2 will be found the announcement of Silverman's Department Store. Since Mr and Mrs Silverman have had a wide experience in the millinery business, both wholesale and retail, we feel justified in saying to our readers that they will have some chic and stylish creations to show their friends at their opening, which begins next Wednesday.

Mr and Mrs S Marcus, who have catered to the whims and fancies of their patrons for a long time, announce their spring opening of millinery goods for Wednesday and Thursday of next week. This year Mrs Marcus will have the competent assistance of an experienced trimmer and we feel more fully assured than ever before that this well-known firm will have some top-notchers in the way of pretty, stylish hats to show the ladies of this community at their opening next week.

The Kingstree Dry Goods Co, enclosed as they are in their handsome new store room, with a separate balcony for their millinery department, will have numerous new attractions in millinery styles to show and offer their friends at the opening next week. Under these new and striking surroundings much will be expected. Knowing as we do the past good reputation of Manager Swails and the ability of Miss Mabel Ridenour, we are sure that no one will be disappointed at their opening next Wednesday.

Messrs Jenkinson Bros Co have started their Easter campaign, and are advertising some of their specialties today on a half-page of this paper. The "old man" of this well-known house has been lying low lately, making preparations to spring something new and startling in the way of Easter offerings on his host of patrons. His store is an emporium of pretty, up-to-date things that are well worth seeing.

The Hamer-Thompson Garage starts a series of attractive ads in this paper that will tell the story of their business from week to week.

How can you play the great American game of baseball without a Ty Cobb or a McGraw? Very well, if you buy your paraphernalia from the Kingstree Hardware Co. Read their ad.

Mr Harry Riff announces in this issue that his store is now open and he has a nice line of pretty new things in dry goods that will interest the ladies.

The Bank of Cades has a change of ad in this paper. If in need of financial aid consult the officers of this bank. It is their aim to be of service to their customers.

For fresh fish, fruits, etc, phone Pendergrass Bros, whose ad appears in this paper.

FOUR MEN DEAD.

Death Supposed to Have Been Caused by Blind Tiger Booze.

Lancaster, March 24:—Geo F Kennington and John Adams White, Henry Bell and Ike Barnes, colored, are dead as the result, it is said, of drinking blind tiger whiskey. They lived in different parts of the county and came to town Monday and bought a pint, which they all drank before starting for their homes. It is claimed when they reached home they were taken violently ill and died in a few minutes.

Revival Meeting Closed.

The union revival services that have been going on here for the past three weeks, conducted by Rev Raymond Browning of Columbia, assisted by Mr J H Chamberlain of Asbury Park, N J, came to a close Monday night. Mr Browning proved to be a powerful preacher and endeared himself to the people of the town and community. Much interest was manifested during the last week of services. At Sunday evening's services a thank-offering was taken up, and the sum of $415 was donated. Mr Browning left for his home at Columbia Tuesday morning, while Mr and Mrs Chamberlain departed for New Jersey Monday afternoon. It is generally believed that a good and enduring work has been done by these earnest, faithful servants of the Master.

We wish to announce to friends that our Tobacco Transplanter has arrived, and please allow us the pleasure of demonstrating to you this week what it can do. Realizing your need of such a machine, we insist that you see it. It

PRIMARY ORATORICAL CONTEST

Miss Rubie Thorn and Zeno Montgomery to Represent Kingstree.

The preliminary oratorical contest among the pupils of Kingstree High school was held at the school auditorium Monday night. Misses Rubie Thorn, Leora Gamble, Fannie Vause, Louise Epps and Pauline Gordon were the girl contestants. Each young lady acquitted herself in such a splendid style that it was indeed hard for the judges (this writer being one of them) to decide which one should represent their school in annual county contest tonight. After considerable deliberation, however, Misses Rubie Thorn and Leona Gamble were voted first and second places, respectively. The young men who took part in the contest were: Zeno Montgomery, McB McFadden, David Epps, Alex Blakeley and Hayward Brockington. Although it was remarked by one of the judges that the young men did not measure up to the high standard of excellence set by the young ladies, it was unanimously conceded that they all did well, displaying coolness and ability that would well reflect credit upon older and more advanced students.

Miss Rubie Thorn and Mr Zeno Montgomery will for the second time represent the Kingstree High school in the oratorical contest between the schools of the county, at the annual meet here tonight. Other literary and field day exercises will take place tomorrow.

The athletic field has been put in apple-pie order for the carrying out of the athletic features of the programme, and a large gathering of school children from all over the county is expected to be present. Dr F H H Calhoun, director of athletics at Clemson college, will be in charge of the field exercises, assisted by competent judges.

Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured.

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. Is it not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago," says P H Beck, of Wakelee, Mich, "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by all dealers.

You can't tell how far you can trust a man by the promptness with which he pays his pew rent.

Watch Carefully the Child's Diet.

Start Them Off Right with a Good Laxative and Then Watch Their Food.

Mothers are often unconsciously very careless about the diet of their children, forcing all to eat the same foods. The fact is that all foods do not agree alike with different persons. Hence, avoid what seems to constipate the child or to give it indigestion, and urge it to take more of what is quickly digested.

If the child shows a tendency to constipation it should immediately be given a mild laxative to help the bowels. By this is not meant a physic or purgative, for these should never be given to children, nor anything like salts, pills, etc. What the child requires is simply a small dose of the gentlest of medicines, such as Dr Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, in the opinion of thousands of watchful mothers, is the ideal remedy for any child showing a tendency to constipation. So many things can happen to a constipated child that care is necessary. Colds, piles, headaches, sleeplessness and many other annoyances that children should not have can usually be traced to constipation.

Many of America's foremost families are never without Syrup Pepsin, because one can never tell when some member of the family may need it, and all can use it. Thousands endorse it, among them Mrs M E Patten, Valley Junction, Iowa, who is never without it in the house. Mrs Patten says that Syrup Pepsin has done wonders for her boy Ralph, who was constipated from birth but is now doing finely. Naturally she is enthusiastic about it and wants other mothers to use it. Dr Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size being bought by those who already know its value, and it contains proportionately more.

Everyone likes Syrup Pepsin, as it is very pleasant to the taste. It is also mild and non-gripping and free from injurious ingredients.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr W B Caldwell, 419 Washington St, Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

Interesting, if True.

Mr Morgan J Rogers, Sr, who lives one mile east of Fork, claims to have invented a compressed air engine, although he will not show it yet to his most intimate friends. He says it has already worked successfully. The feature of the machine is to be self-feeding, that is, the motion of the engine draws in sufficient air to keep it going.

Mr Rogers has been working on this for about five years and is very much pleased with his success. Those who know him as a machinist know that he is master of 'most any part of machinery, having always worked machinery from boyhood, and now operates a saw mill near Floydale.

Surely this is going to be the greatest invention yet, and it is amusing to hear Mr Rogers talk so confidently that in a short space of time he will have stationary engines, locomotives, automobiles, etc, running by compressed air, with no expense whatever, except a little lubricating oil.

Mr Rogers is in communication with the patent bureau and will leave in a few days for Washington, D C, to have his engine patented and get it on the market as soon as possible.—Dillon Herald

Wilson Talks To Dying Boy.

Washington, March 23:—The President of the United States laid aside the cares of state for a short while today to cheer a pale, weak lad of twelve who was brought to the White House on a stretcher.

Harry Winthrop Davis, of Sewickley, Pennsylvania, was the President's caller. He is paralyzed and his strength is slowly ebbing.

He told the President how he had prayed to see him until his mother had arranged a meeting through Mrs Wilson.

The President's eyes were dimmed as he walked away after chatting for several minutes with the lad.
