LOCAL NEWS

Next Monday and Tuesday will be the festival of Hebrew New Year, and most, if not all, of the stores here conducted by members of that faith will be closed.

Messrs P C Becton of Charleston, H E Parham of Latta, AW McIntosh and S M Carter of Florence and Miss Bessie VanKeuren of Sumter spent Sunday in Kingstree.

The many friends of Mrs E C Epps, who underwent an operation at a Florence infirmary Thursday, will be gratified to learn that she stood the operation nicely and is recovering rapidly.

Misses Jennie and Madge Russell of Lumberton, N C, who have been visiting their uncle, Mr Hugh McCutchen, in Kingstree, are now the guests of their aunt, Mrs James F Cooper, at Indiantown.

"Old Doc" Gilliland, the popular assistant pharmacist at the Kingstree Drug Co's store, has returned from a ten days vacation in the mountains of North Carolina and says he feels "like a 2-year-old."

While cranking an auto Tuesday morning, Ernest Gamble had the misfortune to break his right wrist. His uncle, Dr W G Gamble, set the broken bones, and it is hoped that Ernest will soon regain the use of the injured member.

Mr and Mrs W H Welch returned home Tuesday night from Tyner, N C, accompanied by Mr Earl J Welch and Miss Grace Welch and Mr Joe Winslow and Miss Charlotte Winslow. Misses Welch and Winslow will attend school here this session. Messrs Welch and Winslow will spend several days in town with their brother and sister.

Rev Harold Thomas of Charleston visited the Episcopal church here this week. Monday night he preached a strong sermon on "Christ knocking at the door," and at the celebration of the holy communion next morning his address upon "Beginning again" was most inspiring to those tempted to discouragement. Deeply interested congregations attended both services.

The Williamsburg Publishing Co was incorporated here last Friday with Messrs LeRoy Lee, W H Carr and F Earle Bradham as incorporators. The capital stock of the company is $2,500. The Williamsburg Herald, published here since the early part of 1916 by Mr F Earle Bradham, becomes the property of the new corporation, and the plant will shortly be established in one of the Kellahan storehouses on Academy street.

Dr A M Snider returned Sunday from Charleston, where he had been visiting his daughter, Mrs Cornelius O Thompson.

Rev P S McChesney is expected to return home tonight and resume services at the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

Miss Leota Amon, who has been the guest of Miss Nellie Scott, returned to her home in Jacksonville, Fla, yesterday.

Miss Mary Lee Swann returned to New York Friday to resume her duties in journalism. She was accompanied by Miss Maude Logan.

South Carolina has 514 troops at Camp Jackson, 8 more than the required number. Williamsburg is one of the counties sending an overplus.

Misses Maude Shirer of Gourdin, Blanche Gamble of Jamestown, and Vermelle Plowden of Kingstree have been visiting at the home of Mr J D Kads.

Mrs S K Brockington and children have returned to their home at Florence after spending the summer here with the former's father, Mr A M Gordon.

SCHOOL DAYS BEGIN MONDAY

Promising Outlook for Best Session in Kingstree's School History.

Next Monday the Kingstree High and Graded school will begin its 1917-1918 session and present indications point distinctly to the most successful session of its history, inasmuch as important additions to the school's curriculum have been made and the course of instructions at the coming session will cover a larger scope than ever before.

An eleventh grade has been added and with it comes a course of instruction in chemical science, with a well equipped laboratory for the carrying out of the practical end of the work. Domestic science will also be taught at the coming session and competent instructors in these important branches will have charge of the work. Every one interested should, and we believe, will feel proud of these additions to Kingstree's most important institution.

Indications are that this higher grade, as well as the lower ones, will open with a good attendance, as it is very probable that most of the pupils of the tenth grade last session will take the eleventh grade and it is more than likely that each of the lower grades will show an increase over last session's attendance.

Following is a list of the teachers: 1st grade—Miss Agness Erckmann 2nd grade—Miss Lizzie Heape. 3rd grade—Miss Lydia Greene. 4th grade—Miss Lula Logan. 5th grade—Miss Pearle Woodham 6th grade—Miss Mary Wylie. 7th grade—Miss Mattie Baker. High School Principal—English, M. F. Montgomery.

Latin—Miss Ida Griffin. History—Miss Grace Seabrook. Music—Miss Edith Sturgis. Mathematics—J. W. Swittenberg.

The opening exercises will be held in the auditorium at 9 o'clock Monday morning and everybody is urged to be present.

CAR LOADS.

The Williamsburg Live Stock Co has just unloaded a carload of the famous McCormick Mowers and Rakes and a carload of those good Chattanooga One-Horse Wagons. See them and get the best.

A Card to the Public.

It having come to me that a report is being circulated in Kingstree and vicinity to the effect that I was going out of the live stock business here, I want to state that this report is incorrect and untrue. The co-partnership of Truluck-Cook Co has been discontinued, but the business of the firm will be conducted in future under the ownership of J M Truluck.

In thanking the people of Williamsburg for past favors, and soliciting your future patronage, I pledge myself to serve you fairly and to the best of my ability at all times, with the best I can get in the way of live stock, wagons, buggies, harness, etc

Very truly yours, J M TRULUCK.
