A WAR PRAYER

By James Waterman Wise

Father, we beseech thee
Guard our boys tonight,
Keep, we pray, their footsteps
On the paths of right.

We have sent them gladly,
For the fight is just,
Yea, their cause is holy,
Glorious their trust.

Hold their fates, O Father,
In thy wondrous hand,
Bring them back, if may be,
Back to grace our land.

For we loved them dearly
But our path was clear;
Honor bade us send them,
Father, be thou near!

But if they must leave us,
If it be thy will,
Father, we implore thee,
Guide and guard them still.

Resolutions of Respect.

At the memorial service in honor of Carlyle Myrick held in Kingstree Baptist church Sunday evening, February 10, the following resolutions were submitted and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It is an undeniable fact that we are all created by God, Who created all things for some good and noble end; and

Whereas, God made man after His own image, and all being one flesh, are therefore brothers, and should have as our paramount aim to serve Him Who hath made us and gave Himself for us, so we in like manner should each and all of us give ourselves to Him and to our country as servants thereof; and

Whereas, God, Who never errs, saw fit to remove our brother, Carlyle Myrick, from the horrors of war, first said, "Son, give Me thine heart," to which call he boldly answered, "I give my all to Thee," and when the world's freedom lay in jeopardy and the long roll of his country was sounded he sprang to arms and to his country's call to do or die for his own dear native land, fully realizing that the path of duty he was entering (though sacred) held in store for him hardships, perils, dangers and perchance death itself, in an unknown and untried land, far away from kindred and fond associates; and

Whereas, He who has this courage and honesty of purpose to come out bravely from the world to bear the cross of his Savior and enlist in the service of his Master, and is also imbued with the same high and lofty aims to serve his country, his native land and people for the uplift of humanity is a Christian patriot indeed; and

Whereas, God, Who gives and Who takes away, Whose wisdom none can doubt, has seen fit on the eve of bloody strife to exchange our brother's service for a peaceful sleep:

Therefore be it resolved, That we bow in meek and humble submission to the will of Him Who doeth all things well;

That in Carlyle Myrick's death the Kingstree Baptist church has lost a faithful and useful member and the community a worthy citizen;

That we commend his life and example to the young men and boys of our community;

That a page in the book in which the records of our church are kept be sacredly dedicated to his memory on which this preamble and resolutions shall also be inscribed; and

That copies of said preamble and resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, The Baptist Courier for publication and also for the same purpose to The County Record and The Williamsburg Herald.

All of which is respectfully submitted by

To Stop Loss of 150,000,000 Eggs.

Washington, D C, February 13:—

Over 150,000,000 eggs will be lost to the food supply of the United States if the old practice of sending hens to market at this season is continued. Figures compiled by the poultry specialists of the United States department of agriculture show that more than 5,000,000 laying hens, each capable of producing 30 eggs, are sent to market from the Southern States in the winter and spring.

Every effort, therefore, is being made to encourage farmers to keep their hens until after the spring laying season, thereby getting a dividend for keeping the hen through the winter. The specialists point out that when a hen is sold for meat early in the spring, the farmer gets no egg return for feeding and keeping her through the worst months of the year.

Moreover, the hen is marketable as poultry after she has produced her spring eggs. Poultry in May may bring 2 cents a pound less than it does in February, but, they point out, the 30 eggs produced by the hen, largely from wastes, more than offset any reduction in the price offered for live poultry.

An energetic egg-saving campaign to prevent early slaughter of the hen that "lays the golden egg" is now being conducted throughout the Southern States. North of the Ohio river, farmers have long appreciated the advantage of getting the spring crop of eggs and marketing their hens after the laying season or in the fall. They believe that adoption of this plan by Southern chicken raisers will be profitable and will materially add to the food supply of the Nation.
