We were crowded in the cabin, Not a soul would dare to sleep-It was midnight on the waters, And a storm was on the deep. 'Tis a fearful thing in winter To be shattered in the blast, And to hear the rattling trumpet Thunder, "Cut away the most." So we shuddered there in silence-For the stoutest held their breath, While the hungry sea was roaring And the breakers talked with death.

As thus we sat in darkness, Each one busy in his prayers-"We are lost !" the Captain shouted, As he staggered down the stairs. But his little daughter whispered, As she took his icy hand, "Isn't God upon the occan
