THE Clifford Seminary for girls opened on the 18th and the second week shows rather flattering prospects for a full school this year. The opening was much fuller than usual and in addition to those already arrived a good many are yet expected. They are there from North and South Carolina and some are expected from Georgia. The local attendance is also better than usurd and promises to be still better as the season advances .

We are glad to know these things. The s hool is well equipped, has an able man at its head, and is worthy of the patronage of t use who have girls to educate.

WE had quite an object lesson in charity last week. A sad-countenanced dila; idated individual with a lean hungry look, sidled int) our office, and after sprawling himself out in a chair began to relate all the special ills that his own particular flesh had been heir to. He said that he was born in Maryland, that he was a printer by profession and according to his account he must have been quite an expert at the business. By reason of somebody else's fault however as his tale went, he had lost his job and had been out of work quite a while. He told of a good many places that he had been to looking for work, but there was none to be found anywhere. He had been to several places in North Carolina, had been to Greenville and Spartanburg and new found himself here without work; hungry and without food. Well, we had no work for him, but we could not send the man away hungry. Somet mes we refuse to give but we never refuse to give food when we can see that it is really need-the way to a restaurant and thought no more Half an hour later walking past the dispensary door whom should we see standing at the bar, but our object of charity, our journeyman printer! On inquiry later we found that he had bought 15 cents worth of liquor. Imagine our feeling. We resolved to be more particular about our donations in the future. As a matter of fact we had supplied the money which bought the liquor for that fellow to get drunk on. Well, what do you think? that fellow, that woe-begone, cadaverous countenanced object of charity. had the peerless cheek, the egregious effrontery to come back and quietly sweat off his beastliness on a box in the back end of the printing office.

Late in the evening having sweated out mest of his liquor he got up stretched himself and stood round the printing office trying to scrape up an acquaintance with some of the printers. Failing there he came into the editor's office and in spite of all we could do come near making himself out an old friend of our family. Such consumate cheek we have never before seen in a journeyman. Leaving, he begged us for a Shirt, which, in consideration of his skill and adroitness and his refreshing audacity, we could not refuse. After he left we learned that his pitiful petitions had a 25 cents effect on the foreman. With that money also he endeavored to buy liquor, but being refused, on account of the dispensary rule against selling twice to the same man in one day, the dispenser came near having to put him out of his place of business, for disorderly behavior. He was a rare bi-ped and ought to be caged for a menageric or hung up in the National Museum and labeled "The Original-The only real and genuine."

THE Conservative convention which met in Columbia on the 25th, did not put out a ticket. The convention after caucusing quite a while decided to put out a full ticket, but some delegations and several delegates having withdrawn from the convention, causing a split in the canks, the convention adjourned sine die after passing the following

Resolved, That this convention accept the action of the convention held here on the 19th inst., in endorsing the Chicago platform as a concession to the Democracy of the State but regards the simultaneous endorsement of Democratic and Populist platforms representing parties and antagonistic principles, as forfeiting the allegiance of all straight Democrats and the respect of all henest Populists.
Resolved that this convention cordially accepts and endorses the national Democratic platform and declares its unwavering levotion to the national Democratic party Resolved, That we invite and urge all Democrats of the State to proceed to organize for the purposes hereinafter stated.

Resolved, That while this convention dethat the principles of Democracy, the safety of every interest in the State and the instinct of self preservation demand that a hard sition to call a constitutional convention to create a new fundamental law involving the rights of every man in the State without providing for the submisson of its work to the people. Tax Immigration Convention, about which we had something to say in our last issue tut one, met at Rock Hill on Tuesday the 19th, and was cal'ed to order at 11 a. m., by R. T. Fewell, temporary chairman. After prayer by Rev. Alex. Sprunt the organization was completed by the election of Col. J. A. Hoyt of Greenville, as permaneut chairman, and Louis Sherfesee, of Rock Hil, as Secretary. The next thing in order was the report of delegates. It was found that the following counties were represented, Chester, Fairfield, Greenville, Anderson Pickens, Oconee, Union, York, Spartsnburg and Lancaster. The delegates were composed of some of the best business men of the Piedmont section, among them being Hon. Jno. J. Hemphill, ex-Congressman, and Joseph Wylie, from Chester; W. J. Roddey and W. B. Wilson from York ; Jne. B Cleveland from Spartanburg : J. A. Hoyt and A. B. Williams from Greenville : P. K. ed. So we gave him 18 cents and told him McCully and J. D. Maxwell from Anderson: Gen. Jno. Bratton, of Fairfield : B. A. Williams, of Lancaster; J. W. Stribbling, of Oconce, and B. A. Hagood, Pickens. Mess. P. M. Cohen, F. M. Farr, Wm. Munro, E. Nichol-on and A. II. Foster composed our own delegation. Mr. Wm. Munro, however, was not able to attend the convention.

When the convention was called it was understood and desired that each delegation should make out and digest a plan of operation to submit to the convention. The object of this was to get the collected wisdom of a'l and to select from all that which was best and eschew what might be useless.

Plans were accordingly submitted by each delegation and short talks made thereon. All of the plans were finally submitted to a select committee of one from each county as follows: York, W. J. Roldy; Chester, J. J. Hemphill: Fairfield, Gen. Jno. Bratton: Lancaster, B. A. Williams: Spartanburg, Jno. B. Cleveland : Greenville, M. L. Donaldson: Anderson, Dr. W. II. Norden: Pickens, B. A. Hagood : Oconce, J. W Stribling, and Union, E. Nicholson.

This committee then retired to consider the plans and the convention adjourned to meet in the afternoon at 4 o'clock when the committee was expected to report.

The convention reassembled at 4 o clock and was called to order by Col. Hoyt. The ommittee on plans submitted the following : Resolved, first. That this Convention ap point one citizen of each county here repre-sented whose duty it shall be to organize as early as practicable one or more emi-gration societies in their counties, whose object it shall be to assist in the introduction of desirable immigrants into these counties.

Second. That these societies shall aid the company proposed to be formed under the plan now adopted in securing subscriptions to its capital stock and in securing options on desirable lands and other property for a Period of not less than two years.

Third That a company be formed under the laws of the State with a capital of $10.

000 in shares of the par value of $10 each, $5,000 to be subscribed and paid in. Fourth. That it is the sense of this meeting that each county shall subscribe and pay in at least $500 to the capital stock of proceed to secure option on property in the counties represented in this Convention and advertise the same in the most efficient and practicable way to secure the sale of the property and the introduction of desirable

Sixth. That the company should secure options at a fixed and certain sum, so as to save the purchaser from an excessive price, and should limit its own fees or emoluments to not exceeding 10 per cent on the price of any property sold.

Seventh. That it is the sense of this convention that each county should procure the payment of the above sums of five hundred dollars within thirty days from this date. Eight That the committee of one from each county provided for in the first resolution be charged with the execution of these resolutions. The report was adopted and the following committee named : York, L. Sherfesee; Chester, R. A. Love: Lancaster, Gee. W. Jones : Fairfield, Gen. Jno. Bratton: Union, E. Nicholson: Spartanburg, T. J. Moore; Greenville, A. B. Williams; Pickens, J. E. Baggs; Oconce, J. W. Stribling: Anderson, R. S. Ligon,

The convention adjourned to meet again at the call of the president at the instance of the committee of one from each county. After the aljournment the last named ommittee met and made application to the Secretary of State for a charter for The Piedmont Colonization Society of South Carolina. The committee also passed a resolution instructing the delegations to call ires to avoid doing anything likely to cause I meetings in their respective counties of all mereased strife among our people we believe | those interested in bringing into our State farmers and others from the North West, said meeting to be held on the first Monday and earnest fight be made against the propo- inOctober for the purpose of organizing societies auxiliary to The Piedmont Colonization Society of South Carolina. The convention was a success from the beginning to the end. Such a collection of this iniquitous, undemocratic, tyranical and practical business men was probably never before assembled in the Piedmont section of this Stats. They were there for business: not to make any money out of the convention but to devise a means of developing the Piedmont section of our State. A convention composed of such men with such motives could not have been other than a complete success.

In another column will be found the call of the Union county convention and we hope every citizen who can make it convenient will attend on Monday next and learn more about the movement and give it his personal support.
