"DIXIE" IS PROPOSED AS NATIONAL SONG

Movement Started in Chicago to Change Words and Retain Air.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—The national song of the United States should be "Dixie," and not "The Star Spangled Banner," according to the opinion of Edmund Vance Cooke, who said today that "Dixie" holds the real place of affection in American hearts.

"The tune of 'Dixie' would be well fitted to a national song," Mr. Cooke said, "but the words should be changed so that they would fit all localities. 'Buckwheat Cakes' and 'Land o' Cotton' don't satisfy New England or the Pacific coast. The words should be made national in scope."

Mr. Cooke has written verses to be sung to the rousing tune. The first verse and chorus are as follows:

I'm glad to live in the land I live in,
Best to get and the best to give in.
Hip Hooray! Hip Hooray! Hip Hooray!
U. S. A.
Old Uncle Sam's my best relation,
Makes me feel I own this nation.
Hip Hooray! Hip Hooray! Hip Hooray!
U. S. A.

CHORUS.
So it's U. S. A. forever,
Hooray! Hooray!
I thank the fates which fixed my dates
In U. S. A. forever.
Hooray, I say,
Old U. S. A. forever.
I say: Hooray!
The glorious states forever.

Ten thousand soldiers at Fort Sheridan sang the new "Dixie" song to-night following an address made to them by Mr. Cooke.

RUSSIAN ARMY WILL FIGHT.

Kerensky Declares Kaiser Mistaken as to Morale of Soldiers Destroyed by Recent Rebellion.

Petrograd, Sept. 18.—The submission of General Kaledines, the Cossack leader has removed the menace of a second march on Petrograd and materially clarified the situation and lightened the burden of Premier Kerensky and his associates in the committee of five.

Another favorable indication is a seeming tendency on the part of the workmen and soldiers' delegates to show less objection to a coalition cabinet, and it is said that on his return from field headquarters the latter part of the week, the premier will announce the constitution of the ministry.

It is expected this will meet with active opposition on the part of the Bolsheviks, who demand the complete elimination of the Bourgeois element from the government. But the government has no fears of the result of any clash with the radicals.

Announcement is made that no more activity by self-constituted organizations will be permitted. Premier Kerensky while accepting the good intentions of these bodies, declared that the need of their assistance is past.

Gen. Kerensky, the new war minister, in his first press interview since he assumed office said:

"The first task of my associates and myself is to create an army on the basis of those of other nations. It is a mistake for Germany to think that the revolution has destroyed the Russian army. It will soon become strong again and will resist to the end for the dignity and safety of the fatherland."

The war ministry has been placed in close contact with and under the direct control of the premier and commander-in-chief.

Rumors of the proposed removal of the seat of government to Moscow are denied in official circles.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO HELP WIN WAR

PRESIDENT ISSUES PROCLAMATION CALLING UPON THEM TO DO THEIR PART.

Join Junior Red Cross—Every Pupil in United States Can Find Chance to Serve Country.

Washington, Sept. 18.—President Wilson issued a proclamation tonight calling upon the school children of the nation to do their part in the war by joining the Junior Red Cross to assist in the mercy work of the senior organization.

The President says the children's branch of the Red Cross will give an opportunity for relief work for the benefit of both the community and country and will make possible the "best work in the great cause of freedom to which we have all pledged ourselves."

President's Proclamation.
The proclamation follows:
"To the School Children of the United States:
"A proclamation:
"The President of the United States is also president of the American Red Cross. It is from these offices joined in one that I write you a word of greeting at this time when so many of you are beginning the school year.
"The American Red Cross has just prepared a junior membership with school activities in which every pupil in the United States can find a chance to serve our country. The school is the natural center of your life. Through it you can best work in the great cause of freedom to which we have all pledged ourselves.
"Opportunity for Service.
"Our Junior Red Cross will bring to you opportunities of service in your community and to other communities all over the world and guide your service with high and religious ideals. It will teach you how to save in order that suffering children elsewhere may have the chance to live. It will teach you how to prepare some of the supplies which wounded soldiers and homeless families lack. It will send to you through the Red Cross bulletins the thrilling stories of relief and rescue. And best of all, more perfectly than true any of your other school lessons, you will learn by doing those kind things under your teacher's direction to be the future good citizens of this country which we all love.
"Plan of Cooperation.
"And I commend to all school teachers in the country the simple plan which the American Red Cross has worked out to provide for your cooperation, knowing as I do that school children will give their best service under the direct guidance and instruction of their teachers. Is not this perhaps the chance for which you have been looking to give your time and efforts in some measure to meet our national needs?"

"Woodrow Wilson, President."

In a letter to Dr. H. N. MacCracken, president of Vassar College, in charge of the junior organization, the President has expressed his great interest in the movement. Plans are under way in cooperation with the boards of education of various States for launching membership campaigns.

The juniors will aid in the making of the simpler articles and supplies needed in the hospitals abroad.

PROMINENT NEW YORKER DEAD

Alleged by Police to Have Been Suicide.

New York, Sept. 18.—The body of Alfred R. Conkling, lawyer, geologist and author, was found in the court yard of his East Seventh Street home early today. He either fell or jumped from the fourth floor during the night. The police reported his death as suicide.

Mr. Conkling, who was 67 years old, had been for three years separated from his wife, according to his relatives here, and estranged from his three daughters, circumstances over which it was said he had been brooding.

A graduate of Sheffield Scientific School at Yale, Mr. Conkling gained a reputation as a publicist on matters dealing with city government and with geology. As a young man he crossed the American plains thrice on geological surveys for the United States government and traveled extensively in Egypt.

The United States is now the richest nation in the world, but unfortunately that doesn't mean that everybody in the United States is rich.
