THE KENNEDY FREE LIBRARY.

One of the Most Highly Prized of the Public Institutions of the City.

It is hard to estimate the good that has been accomplished by the Kennedy Free Library. Located in a community noted for culture, learning and devotion to fine arts, the institution has filled a want and met the needs of those who are seeking after knowledge. The library contains many fine reference works that could be had nowhere else in this section and it is a favorite resort for students and professional people.

In 1885 Mrs. Dr. Kennedy donated Dr. Lionel C. Kennedy's library and office for a public library. It was accepted by the board of trustees as provided for, and was the beginning of the present worthy enterprise. There is a small endowment and the institution has a guaranteed income of $1,000 a year. The new buildings and grounds cost $25,000 of which Andrew Carnegie donated $15,000. There are from 5,000 to 6,000 volumes in the library, the work of cataloguing being now in progress by Miss Mary Daugham, librarian, who has just completed a course of library study in New York city. Current books of merit are purchased as they are issued all of the leading magazines are kept on file. The building is splendidly appointed and the institution is doing a great work.

The trustees are: John B. Cleveland, E. S. Tennant, Bishop Stevens, Dr. Jas. H. Carlisle, W. B. Howe, Horace L. Bomar, J. C. Ewins, secretary and treasurer, H. A. Ligon, D. A. Dupre, A. H. Twichell, V. M. Montgomery.

THOMPSON & DILLARD.

This firm is composed of C. F. Thompson and A. J. Dillard. In 1873 both were young men clerking for Harris & Thompson. Mr. Thompson occupies the same house where he began business as a boy clerk for his father. Mr. Dillard had a little experience when he came here in 1875. He worked the first year for $18 per month, but rose rapidly and in 1883 the present firm was established, buying out Thomson & Harris, who had a very extensive line of customers all over this and surrounding counties. They have been wonderfully successful from the start, and have come to be leaders in the trade of Spartanburg, doing a very large supply business with farmers, furnishing everything needed to make a crop. Their store on West Main street, the site of the original firm, is one of the largest in the city. It is now being rebuilt, the building forming the initials of the firm. The main part of the building is 225x26 feet. At the end of this there is a room 75x25 fronting on Spring street and Wall street. This "T" is connected by an arch, which makes the "D" and gives three fronts on principal streets.

SPARTAN HARDWARE COMPANY.

H. O. Beacham, manager, dealers in hardware, guns, cutlery and agricultural implements, 29 Morgan Square. The business of this firm has been established for seven years and the premises occupied by them are large and well arranged, occupying two floors, with a large warehouse in the rear. They carry a very extensive stock, comprising everything in a general hardware line, sporting goods, house furnishing goods, plows, stoves and tinware. The business done is both wholesale and retail. The store has recently undergone an entire remodeling and is up-to-date in every respect. The manager of the firm, H. O. Beacham, is a man of ability, and is well posted on the market value of the goods he handles, and makes his prices accordingly.

J. M. CONNOR.

Mr. Connor, who has been merchandising here for several years, realized that the time has come for an exclusive carpet and house furnishing store. He was prepared to meet the demand and has been agreeably surprised at the reception his effort to give Spartanburg a carpet house worthy of this progressive city, has met. Indeed, his sales of fine carpets have far exceeded his expectations, and as people all over the country are coming to learn that they get as good goods here as can be had in the larger cities and at much more reasonable prices, the trade is increasing from day to day. In window shades Mr. Connor does not have to send North for odd sizes, but manufactures just what is wanted. His stock of carpets and rugs from the finest to the cheapest is very complete and his polite clerks take pleasure in showing the stock.

ROWE & ROWE.

C. E. and F. V. Rowe embarked in the drug business in Spartanburg in 1900. They decided upon Spartanburg as a location because they had faith in the city and believed that the best was near to good for these people. They have followed their belief and demonstrated by their success, that they were correct. They have one of the prettiest places in the South. It is a model drug store with prescription department, complete in every detail, handsome rooms for doctors' offices on the second floor and a full line of drugs and medicines as well as fancy articles of every description.
