POETRY.

A Pretty Foot. BY T. D. CURTIS. There's magic in a pretty foot, And well the ladies know it-And she who has a pretty one

Is pretty sure to show it. At times you, too, are martyred by The nicest little ankle. That shoots an arrow through the eye,

Within the heart to rankle. Of co. , you turn your gaze aside, And all your blushes stifle, For well you know she's not aware

Her skirts are raised a trifle. But should you think she might perchance Have on a loosened gaiter, Your fingers itch to play the part

Of honest lady's waiter. Though tantalized till he is crazed-Stark mad with wild romancing, That witching foot along his brain

A thousand waltzes dancing, The while it merely lightly pats As thoughtless she may move it-No modest man would dare to dream There is a leg above it.

But when it trips across the street, Through wind, and mud, and vapor, By sheerest accident you see

How beautife I the taper; And as it steps upon the walk, Amid the crowdeto mingle, Two reguish eyes look up and say, "I wonder if he's single?"

But I would have no lady think I fancy her a schemer, And beg her to remember that The poet is a dreamer :

He sees what others do not see, And seeks for hidden beauty-No pretty foot can lure him from The path of moral duty.

MISCELLANFORMS

Advice to Housewives.

Britannia should be first rubbed gently with a woollen cloth and sweet oil, then washed in warm suds, and rubbed with soft leather and whiting. Thus treated, it will retain its beauty to the lest. New iron should be gradually heated at first; after it has become inured to the heat, it is not likely to crack.

It is a good plan to put new earthen ware into water, and let it heat gradually until it boils—then cool again. Brown earthenware, particularly, may be toughened in this A handful of rye or wheat bran thrown in while it is boiling will preserve the glazing so, that it will not be destroyed by acid Clean a brass kettle, before using it for cooking, with salt and vinegar.

The oftener carpets are shaken, the longer they will wear. The dirt that collects under them grinds out the threads.

clean them thoroughly after you have eaten your last meal at night.
Woollen should be washed in very hot suds, and not rinsed. Lukewarm water shrinks woollen goods.

Do not wrap knives and forks in woollens.

Steel is injured by lying in woollens.

Barley straw is best for beds; but dry corn husks slit into shreds are better than straw.

When molasses is used in cooking, it is a predigious improvement to boil and skim it before you use it. It takes out the unpleasant raw taste, and makes it almost as good as stigar.

When molasses is used much for cooking, it is well to prepare one or two gallons at a time.

Never allow ashes to be taken up in wood Always have your matches and lamp ready for use in case of sudden alarm.

Have important papers all together, where you can lay your hands upon them at once in case of fire.

Use hard soap to wash your clothes, and soft wash the floors. Soft soap is so slipt it wastes a good deal in washing Am. Cot, Planter.

BLACKBERRY WINE. To make a wine equal in value to port take ripe blackberries or dewberries and press them; let the juice deceased, are now due, and have been placed in our hands for payment. Persons of or forested a quart of water and three harts of sugar, (brown sugar will do;) let this stand in open vessels for twenty-four hours, skim and strain it, then barrel it until March, when it should be carefully racked off and bottled.

The wine and cordial are very valuable measures the freatment of weakness of the semants and bowsis and are especially good in the summer complaints of shildren.

Figure who "threw physic to the dogs," pposed them to be afflitted with the bow-ow-al complaint.

AN ORIGINAL ANECDOTE -The Portland Argus relates that Capt. K., a shrewd steamboat captain from the State of Maine, caught a "Jeremy Diddler" on board his boat one day, as he was making from Boston to "down east," and pinned him up in 75 good style. It seems the fellow laid a traverse to get clear of paying his fare, and insisted to the clerk that he had paid but lost his ticket.

"Whom did you pay?" said the clerk. He rather guessed it was the Captain; so K. was summoned to the conference.

"Oh, yes, yes," said Capt. K., "it appears to me I do recollect. Let me see; you gave me a five dollar bill?"

"Yes," says the Diddler, "I did."
"And I gave you your change in half dollars, didn't 1?"

(The fare was only a half a dollar-competition was high.) "Yes," says Jeremy, "that's it—I recollect it perfectly."

"Very well," says Capt. K., "I won't dispute your word for anything—but if you please, I should like to see the halves!"

The fellow was tripped when he least expected it. He could not produce the halves, and had to fork over his fare.

A SOLDIER, many years ago, was sentenced, for deserting to have his ears cut off.
After undergoing the brutal ordeal, he was escorted out of the court-yard to the tune of the rogue's march. He then turned, and in mock dignity thus addressed the musicians: "Gentlemen, I thank you! but I have no further need of your services, for I have no ear for music."

The celebrated "Doesticks," describing a New York boarding house, says you can always tell when they get a new hired girl by the color of the bairs in the biscuit.

An intelligent printer being asked if a certain man was crazy, said: "No, the word implies that a person had sense. individual spoke of never had any."

MEDICAL AND MISCELLANEO

When the R. R. R. Theory was first declare, to the world, skeptical persons doubted its correctness, and looked with distrust on the remedies it possessed. Others, however, struck with the originality of its views and conceeding merit to the theory, were induced to try if the remedies bore out in practice what was claimed for them in theory. A third class differing from the others and perhaps more numerous, without consideing for a moment any merit they might be entitled to, tried them, merely as a venture, growing out of a desire for something new. We are satisfied with the result, for the public has received the benefit and R. R. R. Theory has triumphed. Not a day passes that we do not have admission from some hitherto unbeliever that their skepticism was unfounded and convinced by reading our Family Friend, have proved by their own experience, the infallibility of our medicines. Not a day passes that we do not receive grateful testimonials of cures effected by these Medicines. "I was seized with cramps and spasms last night says one, and had have died with the pain." Another says, "my wife was slowly sinking with an affection of the Lungs and my neighbor was suffering from Scrofula,—I have seen them both restored to health by Radway's Renovating Resolveut. A third say, "Radway's Regulators have cured me of habitual costiveness that was the burders of my life." Such are the characteristic testimonials we daily receive of the R. R. R. Remedies. HE. BE. Criptled for twenty years. Mr. Charles M. Johnston, Nashville, was crippled with a chronic rheumatism for twenty years. He purchased from J. M. Zimmerman one bottle of Ready Relief, and one box of Regulators. The Ready Relief was applied as soon as it was obtained. In twenty-four hours he could stand alone; In four days he could walk alone.

By the use of the Resolvent, Relief and Regulators, in one mouth he was entirely cured.

A lady aged 85, had been crippled for years, could not raise her hand to her head. One bottle of R. R. Relief removed all pain and stiffness, created new life within her disabled body, restored each limb and joint to a strong vigorous and healthy condition. The lady is well known in Asheville, N. C. Thomas W. Atkin, Esq., editor of the Asheville News, published the case in his paper on the 13th of October 1853.

$750 IN CASH PRIZES. MECHANICS, INVENTORS AND MAN-UFACTURERS.

JOLUME Ten of the "Scientific AMERICAN" commences on the 16th of September. It is chiefly devoted to the advancement of the interest of Mechanics, Inventors, Manufacturers and Farmers, and is edited by men practically skilled in the arts and sciences. Probably no skilled in the arts and sciences. Probably no other journal of the same character is so extensively circulated, or so generally esteemed for its practical ability. Nearly all the Valuable Patents which are issued weekly from the Patent office are illustrated with Engravings, and the claims of all the Patents are published regularly in its columns as they are issued, thus making it a perfect SCIENTIFIC AND MECHAMICAL. ENCYCLOPEDIA of information upon the subjects.
