

Newberry News.

Newberry, S. C., Sept. 21.—Large crowd of boys and girls left Newberry Monday past for the State College and Allen University. The parents are very anxious for their children to have an education. The following who went to the State are: Misses Eddie Pearson, Dorothy Moon, Mary Cannon, La-Rossie L. Floyd, Iola Maffett, Helen Grimes, Annie Daniels, Ruth Gilliam, Ophelia Bobo, Messrs. John B. Smith, John Pearson, Edward C. Floyd, Edward E. Young, Abraham C. Moon, Adam Cromer and Burnet Gallman. To Allen: Miss Inez M. Ellis, Messrs. Bennie Gary, R. E. Anderson, Henry B. Butler and Rev. Walker.

The Cafe of Mr. Edward Wise stands open day and night to accommodate his friends when in the city call on him.

The program for the opening of New Miller Chapel on Sunday evening was first class. The church was crowded.

Mrs. V. T. Ellis accompanied her daughter to Columbia on last Monday. Everybody is invited to attend the ten nights' revival meeting at Miller Chapel A. M. E. church, Sept. 27th.

The Rev. W. R. Reeder has returned home from McBee, S. C., where he was called to conduct the funeral services of an old Sister Eleby. She was 72 years old. Mrs. Eleby came to her death by an automobile wreck.

MITTIE ROBINSON GRAHAM.

Funeral Services were held at Miller Chapel A. M. E. church Sept. 20, 1925, 2:30 P. M.

Mittie Robinson the oldest daughter of Rev. Isaac C. and Josephine Robinson was born in Newberry, S. C., May 14th, 1875. Died September 16th, 1925. Age 50 years 4 months and 2 days. In her early days she was brought up under strong Christian influence and was taught to love the church which was the beginning of her early Christian career, for she was converted in her early teens and became a full member of Millers Chapel A. M. E. church which membership was continued until her death. Married to W. W. G., Feb. 13, 1897.

In the church she served in the capacity of a little Sunday school member, Sunday school teacher, organist, member of the Stewardess board, and all places where service demanded her. She was unselfish in her manner, untiring in her efforts and devoted to every duty that was placed upon her.

In civil life she was active and was the leader in a number of prominent societies. She was District Noble Governor of the H. of R., Grand Pres. of the "Woman's Home Aid Society," Pres. of the Civic Assn., the first association to contribute to the building of the Drayton St. school. Recorder of the H. of R. 2440, Newberry, S. C., Supervisor of the H. of H. Newberry district and organizer of the Juvenile branch of the Woman's Home Aid. Was principal of the Graham Parochial school. To make the long story short we will say that she went about doing good.

Her place in the home is vacant, her seat in the church is unoccupied, the societies will miss her, yes indeed, but heaven has claimed her own.

She leaves behind to mourn her loss, a mother, two sisters, one brother, a very devoted husband and a host of relatives and friends.

In the words of the Poet Tupper, we will say:

"Leaves have their time to fall, Flowers have their time to wither at the north winds breath; But above all, thou hast thy season for thine own time O death."

In memory of this blessed character, your humble servant has written these lines of poetry:

try: Some time somewhere in this old world The spot I do not know Was born a lovely baby girl Just fifty years ago.

Upon that sod did many tread, To look into her face, For she was the gift of heaven's God A leader for her race.

She started out in early youth, In the beginning of her teens, Being born of God she knew for a truth, What a blessed Saviour means.

She knew that life was real and true To those who daily sought it, She knew that it was death to the wicked crew, To those who daily fought it.

Her skin was black, her soul was white, Her life was worn away Her mind was sound her heart was right, For she prospered on the way.

She wore a smile and not a frown, You all remember well She sought to help those farthest down, Regardless how they fell.

She even helped those farthest up In this old world's estate, She was a woman who had a mind To be useful as well as great.

In yonder pews she taught the tots, Who came to Sunday School, In yonder choir she sang the songs That made the sinners move.

She spoke to mourners in the rear And advised them to pray Sometimes she would kneel and have prayer In the good old fashioned way.

But now her soul has gone to God, And her body back to clay, Now sinner while on earth you tread Will you take time to pray?

We see her travelling up the road Yes to her heavenly home Or church O loved ones one and all We'll miss her for she is gone.

We have no time to hesitate To spend our lives in tears, God's will is done, be satisfied Lay down your doubts and fears.

Take up the cross the rugged cross Supplant it with a crown, By living right and doing good While going in and round.

We all have loved ones gone before And some are soaring high, Be kind be true to friend and foe, For you are both to die.

These lines we write we hope they might Help those she leaves behind Remember well that Mittie Grahams Are certainly hard to find.

For after life the judgment comes Of both the quick and dead, The deeds you have done will speak for you And not the words you said.

HARBISON A. COLLEGE NOTES.

By J. E. Young. Harbison opened her doors Sept. 15th. Students are coming in very fast and prospects are bright for a good year.

Today as never before the world is calling for trained men and women—men and women who are not afraid to enter the many walks of life, and it is from our great institutions of learning that such men and women are to come.

This fact has become a realization on the part of many and during the month of Sept. young men and women are seeking admittance to the schools and colleges throughout the country that have thrown open their doors.

There never was a time in the history of America when young people had the opportunity to make something of themselves as at the present day.

"Perhaps one of the greatest opportunities confronting every youth is the opportunity to prepare himself physically, intellectually, and morally to acquire an education as the saying is, and by this is meant, not only an opportunity to store the mind with the knowledge of facts and their inter-relations but to fit himself effectively for life's work, to prepare himself for the performance of all the duties of a citizen, of a friend, of a neighbor—in short, all the duties which he owes to himself, to the community and to the nation.

Many of our young people are under the impression that all of the great things have been done—that nothing remains for them to do; So let us Teachers urge upon them the fact that there is something yet to be done, but that they, like other great men must never wait for opportunities but make them, and some day they too, will climb the ladder of success and reach the height of fame. They, too, may do some great good that will ever stand out as a monument to their lives.

Prof. J. P. Sartor, a graduate of Johnson C. Smith, (formerly Biddle) is one of the new teachers at the college.

Mrs. L. B. West and children of Charlotte, N. C., are visiting Mrs. C. M. Young.

Mrs. Martha Roberson left a few days ago for New Bern, N. C., where she will spend the winter with her sister.

Mrs. Robert B. Anderson of Georgetown spent a few days here recently as the guest of the Misses Young.

Mrs. C. S. Foster and children, formerly of Augusta, Ga., are here for the winter with the former's sister, Mrs. R. N. Toatley.

Mrs. T. B. Jones and daughter, after spending the summer with Mrs. Jones' parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Young, left for Concord, N. C., where they will join Mr. Jones and spend a few days with the latter's parents before going to Evanston, Ill., where Mr. Jones will study for one year at Northwestern University.

Mrs. A. P. Butler spent the week end at Rock Hill, her old home.

Prof. R. W. Boulware, Dean, after attending school at Columbia University, New York City during the summer, returned to his home on the campus bus where he spent a few days with his family before going to Kansas City, to which place he was appointed to go by the Governor, together with several others to attend a conference of Negro Educators.

We were glad to have Mr. S. F. P. Grisby spend a few days with us last week. We always welcome "Our Boys" home again. He was enroute to Detroit, Mich., where he is studying medicine.

GEORGETOWN NEWS.

The following teachers have returned home after spending the summer up North: Misses Arline Alston, Janie Brockington, Inez Anderson and Mr. Charles Browne.

Mr. Joseph Beck, Jr., a student at Morehouse is home with his parents after spending the summer up North.

Miss Arline Alston spent Saturday and Sunday in Columbia.

Rev. J. L. Benbow, pastor of Bethel A. M. E. Church is back off his vacation.

Mr. Alexander Brown, agency organizer of the National Benefit Life Insurance Co. is "down with the fever" at his local boarding place. We hope for him a speedy recovery.

Dr. William Thompson and Mr. James Prioleau motored to Columbia Sunday.

The following left for various colleges this week: Benedict, Misses Mae Fraser, Katherine Pawley and Sarah Parker; Allen, Misses Gertrude Myers, Sadie Williams, Sophie Gourline and Messrs Perty Brown, Joseph Marshall, Theodore Allen and John Fraser; Slate, Misses Harriet Gordon, Florence Purvis, Viola Atkinson, and Messrs Ben James and Roscoe Bryan; Johnson C. Smith, Messrs Raiford Brown, Clarence Washington and Ralph Dunmore; For St. Augustine, Misses Matilda Martin and Ellen Ashe; For Howard University, Mr. Jas. Wilds.

Mrs. V. G. Teele has returned home after spending a week with her mother in Raleigh, N. C.

Little Miss Daisy Sands returned home at Birmingham, Ala., after spending the summer here with her grandmother, Mrs. Maudest Atkinson.

The "gents" entertained at the Palmetto Theatre in honor of the "new comers and departing students" on Thursday evening, Sept. 17, music was furnished by Florence Orchestra.

Mr. Addison Dunmore has gone to Philadelphia for a minor operation.

Miss Ella Williams of Newberry and Miss Marjorie Alston of Georgetown are the new members of the faculty at Howard High School.

One of the most brilliant affairs of the season was the farewell reception given in honor of the departing students Monday night, Sept. 14, by the members of the Baptist Young People's Union of Bethesda Baptist Church.

A splendid and inspiring program, consisting of duets, solos, instrumental and vocal, declamations, readings and orations were rendered at the church. Remarks were made by Prof. George W. Howard of the Howard High School and Rev. G. G. Daniels, Pastor of Bethesda Baptist Church.

After the program the guests went from the church to the beautiful home of Deacon and Mrs. P. C. Kelly where delightful refreshments were served, after which the younger set engaged in the playing of folk songs. Dr. U. G. Teele, Supt. of Bethesda's Sandya School was on hand and in his characteristic way handed out some very helpful advice to the young collegians. Mr. Jas. Wilds a student at Howard University, Washington, D. C., was Master of Ceremonies.

Too much praise cannot be given Prof. A. G. Gill, president of the B. Y. P. U. and Mesdames Winglass, Brown and Smith.

SURPRISE PARTY IN HONOR OF MR. J. C. CUMMINGS.

Dear Editor: Please allow space in your newsy columns for us to extend our appreciation to the Church Aid Club of First Calvary Baptist church, members and friends who met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raiford, 2318 Pendleton street, Sept. 21, 1925 and arranged for a Surprise Party in honor of Mr. J. C. Cummings, who has been ill for the past six months. It was indeed a surprise, for they brought a variety of eatables which will last for months and a purse of $13.35.

Led on by Mesdames Mamie Raiford, Nora Watson, L. Peay and others, the party was successfully carried out.

We wish to give special mention to Miss Thelma Koon a Freshman of Benedict College, who was not too busy to spend a few hours in making the party a success by bringing one basket of groceries and $3.50 in money.

Words are inadequate space too limited to mention what we desire but we ask God's bounteous blessings upon each of them; and if the opportunity presents itself, we will show you in deeds just what we think of your being inspired by our Maker to do as you did. We realize it is true that God does not forget his children.
