WEDDING RECEPTION.

The most elaborate social function of the season was the Wedding Reception given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hughes on the 4th of November. The bride, Mrs. Pauline Hughes formerly Mrs. Pauline Green is socially prominent in the city and her host of friends were in evidence at this gathering. Mr. Hughes is from Florida, and is well known in this State.

The reception was given at the home of the bride on Laurel street. The home was beautifully decorated with ferns and chrysanthemums.

The bride's gown was of silver metal lace over silver metal cloth. She wore diamonds as her only jewels.

Mrs. W. W. Williams, Mrs. G. W. Bell and Mrs. Ruby Lewis received the guests. Mr. Haynes Jackson, Messrs. Bell and Taylor served at the punch bowl, while cream and cake were handed around by the ladies.

The guests were registered by Mrs. F. K. Butler. The presents were many, both useful and ornamental.

The couple left last Friday by motor on their way to Bainbridge, Ga., where they will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Elton King and other friends of the groom.

From there they are going to Jacksonville, Fla., to spend several days with Mr. Hughes' mother. After this visit they will go to St. Petersburg, Fla., to spend the winter.

Bennettsville News.

The many A. M. E. Z. pastors of the various churches in and around the city are very busy this week with their claims reports etc., for this year's work, as they will leave for Sumter, where the Conference convenes this year. Trust all will return to their same charges.

We are very sad to know that our beloved brother Alex Fuller is no more. He passed away Friday p. m. The remains were laid to rest Sunday p. m. Rev. S. S. Youngblood, pastor took charge of the funeral. Quite a large number was present, both white and colored.

The sad intelligence of the death of Mr. Ape Simmons was received by telegram. His body is being held until the arrival of relatives in the North.

Mrs. Julia Thomas is very ill trust she will soon be out again.

Mr. Fred Lander of Chester, motored to Bennettsville to spend the week-end with friends.

We certainly trust that our corps of teachers will be with us for ages, as in every way the school work seems to be improving; and yet if Mr. F. L. makes many trips to our city, I am sure we will miss some of them, as Mrs. Clouds is always full of smiles.

Mrs. Gilmore, one of the graded school teachers received quite a surprise, when her little daughter Johnnie Mae called her over the phone. Mrs. Gilmore was made to feel very happy as she listened to the voice of her darling little daughter. Call Bennettsville again, Chester and make our friends feel happy once more.

Mrs. Hattie Spears returned from New York City. She was in for a few minutes, after which she returned to Wagram, N. C., where she is now principal of the high school there.

Miss Bettie B. Jones is teaching in Wagram, N. C., also her sister Willie B. Jones.

Misses Rose Bell and Anna Sanders, of Fayetteville, N. C., spent the week-end in the city, visiting relatives and friends, they spoke very highly of the many friends of that city. Call again girls.

Mrs. Lucile Wade, of Gibson, N. C., spent awhile last week with her son-in-law and daughter,

Prof. and Mrs. Nettie Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. McKay and family were delighted to have Little Miss Sada Lastin spend the week-end with them.

Miss Hattie M. Watson spent a few days with the Reporter and family last week. She was once a student in Miss C. S. D.'s room while teaching in Summer ton.

One of our teachers Miss Feldon was called home to witness the funeral services of her dear father in Columbia, Mr. Feldon. She has my deepest sympathy, as I know the loss of a father.

Miss Lennie Graham, the daughter of Rev. Graham, passed away last week. Miss Marian Graham, a student in the school at Camden, was scalled home to attend the funeral of her sister.

It was quite a surprise to all when the announcement of Mr. Teal Grace and Miss Mary King marriage was made known. Wonder who will benext?

Mr. H. C. Covington, our famous theatrical producer of this city, had quite a new feature on Monday, when he showed the entire ten commandments.

We certainly enjoyed the farewell sermon of Rev. A. E. Lomax Sunday night. We only trust that Bishop Jones will kindly send him back to us again.

When in the city, kindly stop in to Dr. Counts' Drug Store; he is always ready to give you the very best service in the city.

The Honorable Rev. Wade's widow was in the city Sunday and made a call to Evans Chapel A. M. E. Zion church. Mrs. Wade still has my greatest sympathy.

Mrs. Louvinia Brown, Stubbs certainly has a large enrollment for school this term. Trust the entire school much success.

Mr. H. T. Terry and Mrs. Clarissa Bingham, Johnakin was quietly married a few days ago. Trust them much success thru life.

Miss Cora McEddie is teaching in Dunbars, S. C., with Mrs. Minnie Gandy. Trust she will enjoy her first term of teaching.

Mrs. Cook is out again after a long period of illness. She will leave for the Conference in Sumter, Wednesday, a. m. Miss Callie D. Sanders, Reporter.

Florence News.

The Tanner Art Club had its bi-monthly meeting at the beautiful residence of Mrs. Julia Ervin, Church street, Thursday, Nov. 5, with Misses Naomi Dangerfield and Lizzie Dansby, hostesses.

Mrs. Dr. J. R. Levy, our energetic president was on the job. She is always full of inspiration and knows how to put over her work. The roll was called, each member responded with a quotation.

After discussing important business, the President turned the meeting over to Mrs. J. W. Killingsworth, chairman of the Program Committee, and Miss Leona Webster club pianist.

The program was as follows: Music—by the Club.

Select reading—Mrs. Harrington.

Instrumental Solo—Miss Eleanor Walker.

Practical Hints—Mrs. Annie Robinson.

Instrumental Solo—Miss Genevieve Vincent.

Etiquette Hints—Miss Alberta Kennedy.

Question Box—(On Current Events) Mrs. Wise.

Instrumental Solo—Miss Naomi Dangerfield.

Health Hints—Mrs. Dantzer. Music by the Club.

Journal—Mrs. Davis.

The program as a whole was very good. After the program the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Too much cannot be said about the efforts of Mrs. J. W. Killingsworth, chairman of the Program Committee, Misses Leona Webster, Frances Jenerette and Mrs. Williams are putting forth to bring an interesting program monthly to the Club. "Mizpah."

Our Hallow'en Party was at the spacious home of Mrs. Hattie Melver. Spooks, goblins, etc., walked that night but they enjoyed themselves in an earthy way.

An exquisite bowl, made entirely of china swans, and presented to the Club by Mr. Maceo Robinson was raffled off. Mrs. Julia Ervin receiving the lucky number, was presented the bowl by the president. Total amount collected was $51.03. To say that the affair was grand is mildly speaking.

Under the auspices of Mrs. Levy our Club is doing nicely. We ask the interest of your prayers for continued success. (Miss) Frances Jenerette, Reporter.

MISS LUCY LEE RHODES BACK FROM CHICAGO.

Prominent among the new arrivals in the city this week is, Miss Lucy Lee Rhodes of this city, who has lived in Chicago for the past two years. Miss Rhodes is the younger daughter of Mrs. L. J. Rhodes, well known welfare and nationally known club worker and Superintendent of the Good Samaritan Hospital and Nurses Training School on Gregg St.

It was learned th insorning that Miss Rhodes will remain here for the winter, adding to the social and recreational life of the city and community.

She is popular among the younger set, and her presence it is expected will be felt during the approaching Yule Tide season.
