

Nature has it that none of the field crops, orchards or garden products of last Fair, will be at this one. Our appetites made it impossible that any domestic science exhibit again be seen, while our pride forbids other than a perfectly new display of art, the only thing old at the Fair will be the welcome and cheerful faces of old friends.

THE S. C. STATE COLORED FAIR

OCTOBER 30, 31st, NOVEMBER 1, 2nd

will be a perfectly NEW FAIR.

There will even be thousands of new friends and faces. Exhibits will be greater and better, and another New Feature will be a VOCATIONAL TRAINING SCHOOL on the grounds for the week, 100 boys in camp, the the guests of the Fair. More than seven hundred pupils are enrolled in this work and they cultivate over nine thousand acres of crops, raise thousands of poultry and a large number of hogs. Exhibits of their work will be at the Fair. They have, thru the state, evening schools for adults, and it is hoped, to organize a lecture course Tuesday of the Fair--FARM RELIEF MEASURE.

Allen's New Coach is expected to put it over; while Benedict has never failed to "shine." These schools and their friends will work for A Crowd of 25,000 at A. U. & B. C. Classic. They will also have perfectly new exhibits, and other colleges will be represented.

The contests in the county exhibits will be much keener. Last year's exhibitors will all return and quite a few new ones in different counties have assured the secretary of their coming.

NEW CARNIVAL ATTRACTIONS Gruberg's Famous Shows

educational as well as highly entertaining, will play our midway.

Races! Races! Races! Who would miss the Races?

Other entertainments, high classed and perfectly New will be pulled off in front of the Grand Stand, between the racing heats.

Friday's foot ball game of Booker T. and - - - is little removed in interest from Thursday's. The colored unit of the city school system, Booker T., Waverly, Howard, Booker Washington Heights and Ridgewood approach near 5,000 pupils and they are strong rooters for Booker T. Special reduced tickets are on for this game.

Every person in South Carolina owes it to themselves to make annual visits to the Fair, where the culture, interest and progress of the Race is shown. They should also see their Capital City, the most progressive in the state and by all means visit our educational institutions and know of our superior free school system.

South Carolina Ready for Great- est Colored Fair

GREAT FAIR EVENT OCTOBER 30-NOVEMBER 2.

It is but a week removed for the colored people of the State's Great Fair Festival and everybody getting in readiness for it.

Turn where you will, people are buying and preparing about the Fair. More preparations have been reserved and sold up to this time than at any previous time since the Fair organization.

The entertainments for the week have been planned educationally as well as entertaining. The Mid-way attractions will be furnished by Gruberg's Famous Shows, this Carnival being the sister to the one playing the white State Fair. Every act, ride, show or concession will be strictly moral, high class and educational in every way.

Tuesday will be the time for placing exhibits. The judging will take place Wednesday.

All the week, the Agricultural Vocational Training Boys will camp on the grounds, the guests of the Fair. A school will be inaugurated, where they will receive instructions in farming, poultry, swine and cattle raising. The proficient Prof. Burgess of State College, will be in charge.

Reduced rates have been granted over all roads in this state and from points in North Carolina, Georgia and Florida, for the Fair. As usual special reduced excursion rates will be on Thursday, November 1.

The Fair has the physical advantage of being in the center of those agencies, that stand for education and racial uplift, especially to the youth. In Richland, there are twenty thousand pupils in the schools, while the children from Lexington, Calhoun, Orangeburg and Sumter might easily participate in a measure. One lesson learned is to patronize race enterprises and to be inspired to higher aspirations by seeing the produce of their race, such as are at Fairs.

Allen-Benedict Classic is the principal topic of discussion up to the Fair and it is all the talk after. Allen has vowed not to lose this year. Both schools stand for an attendance of 25,000 at the game.

The Races will be good, very good every day, but at their best Wednesday. All persons attending the Fair will get reductions to the grandstand to witness the sports on the Race Track. Racing will be the principal attraction for Wednesday 31. Booker T. and - - - will play before a crowd of 15,000 Friday 1. Every school child who buys two paid admissions to the Fair, will get a coupon admitting them to the game free. Thousands will take advantage of this proposition. Dates October 30 to November 2--Only Six Weeks away.

Buy a Season Ticket and Free Admission will be granted to the Races Wednesday 31.

Any other information and catalog write Green Jackson, Sec'y., 1119 Washington St., Columbia, S. C.
