President M. Whitaker Announces Change Faculty For State College Next Year

Orangeburg, S. C.—President Whitaker has announced from his office that the prospects for the fall term are unusually bright. Despite the economic depression which has made itself felt all over the country, the demand for catalogues has been very heavy. From the number of applications on file at the present time, it is expected that South Carolina State College will have during the coming term a larger enrollment than that of last year.

During the summer months many improvements have been made at the college. The heating plant has been modernized, the college dormitories have undergone repairs, and much has been done to insure student comfort another year. President Whitaker has remained at the college throughout the summer to see that everything might be in readiness for the fall term which begins on September 19.

The Department of Physical Education will be greatly strengthened next term by having Mr. R. A. Brooks to devote all his time to this department of the institution. State College has always produced creditable athletic teams but with the full-time services of Mr. Brooks to this feature of the college life, the prospects for the future are very bright.

This coming school year at State College there will be very few faculty changes, however, a number of teachers who have been on leave for the past year working for advanced degrees will return to the college to resume work.

Miss R. A. Alston, B. S., Syracuse, M. A. Columbia, on fellowship last year at Columbia returns to the College as Professor of Education.

Mr. P. V. Jewell, B. S., Massachusetts Institute of Technology, M. S., Ohio State, on fellowship last year at Ohio State, returns to the College as Professor of Physics and Acting Dean of Mechanical Arts.

Mr. H. W. Crawford, B. S., State College, B. S., Kansas State, Graduate Study Kansas State, on fellowship last year at Kansas State comes to the College to take the position of Professor of Mechanical Drawing and Industrial Education.

Miss Mattie E. Peagues, on leave for the past two years, received her B. S. in Home Economics and returns as Itinerant Teacher Trainer in Home Economics.

J. Caesar Bryant, B. A., Lincoln, M. A., Columbia, formerly of Virginia Seminary and Johnson C. Smith comes to the College well prepared to head up the Department of English.

Miss Ophelia Parks, A. B., Indiana, A. M., Illinois on leave last year returns as Professor of Business Administration.

Mrs. Athelma Nix, graduate Hampton Institute, formerly a member of the faculty returns to the College as Librarian. Mrs. Nix studied during the summer in the Hampton Library School.

Mrs. M. J. Earle, Scotia Woman's College, comes to the institution as Dean of Women. Mrs. Earle, an outstanding educational leader of the State; Jeannette Supervisor, Jasper County; active in social welfare, federation, religious and other uplift activities; has had wide experience as an educator and in Y. W. and other social work.

Miss Geraldine Pierce, A. B., Fisk University, comes to take a position as Critic Teacher.

Mrs. Thelma Bell who has been studying during the summer received her Mus. M. degree, and returns as Associate Professor of Music.

Miss Florella Fordham, R. N., Dixie Hospital succeeds the late Ida P. Davis as head nurse of the Hospital.

Mr. R. A. Brooks, a member of the faculty for the past two years, returns in a new capacity as Director of Physical Education and Head Coach. Mr. Brooks is well prepared for these duties from training and experience, and has studied under some of the best coaches during the summer.

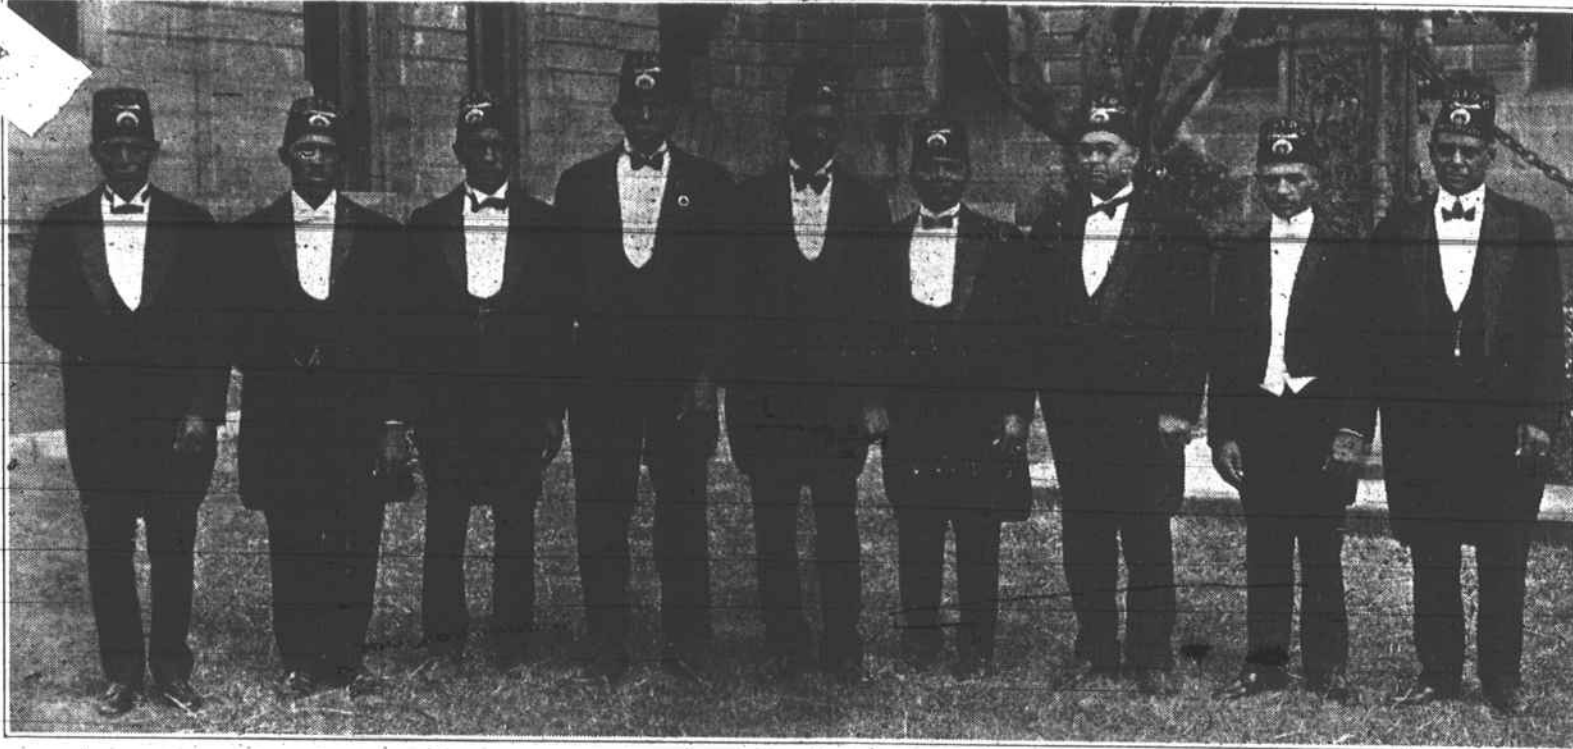

Other members of the faculty who have studied during the summer are: Mrs. Rhoda Irving, Ohio State; Edward Ferguson, Illinois; J. H. Green Howard; Miss Lilla Mitchell, Hampton; Miss B. H. Jackson, University of Pennsylvania; and at South Carolina State; W. C. Lewis, J. A. Pierce, Miss Rosa Reed, Mrs. Bessie Burgess, Miss S. B. Henderson and C. R. Claggett.

To The A. M. E. Ministers of South Carolina

You are asked to meet in a Ministerial meeting at Mt. Pisgah A. M. E. Church, Sumter, S. C., Wednesday, September 14th, 1932, 12 o'clock. Don't fail.

The Gospel Tornado Boosts Morris College

The Rev. Walter J. Davis, Evangelist, found a Morris College Club that had been organized six weeks and became a member August 25.

At the time he insisted that all members would pledge for Morris Club rally, Thanksgiving. Each member of the Club pledged from 50c to $50.00. Dr. Davis pledged $50.00 and paid $5.00 and motioned that each member pay part of their pledge at that meeting. It was carried and a large sum was placed in the treasury.

This Club consists of 40 members. Mr. Luther Rutledge, president, Magdolna Atkinson, vice president; Rebecca Nelson, secretary.

Dr. Davis promised that he would make this Club the leading one in the rally and he insisted that all students organize clubs in every town and prepare to meet the SOS call by Dr. Pinson Thanksgiving.

Dr. Davis gave a banquet after the meeting which was enjoyed by all. Their hearts were filled with joy when they knew he was in the town and was to be present. He has also helped several of the students that are at present out of work.

Dr. Davis made a flying trip to Richmond, Va., and preached in the Fountain Baptist church, 32nd St., where he has been called to the pastorate. 23 were added Sunday, making a total of 105 added since he was called 3 weeks ago.

He returned to New York early Monday morning to begin a ten night meeting for the Rev. Wm. A. Campbell, pastor of the Little Mt. Zion Baptist church, 171 W. 140 St. It is predicted that this will be one of the greatest meetings that have been held for a long time.

Dr. Campbell is an experienced broad hearted Christian gentleman and he has given the Evangelist permission to remain until Christmas but owing to previous engagements it will be impossible for him to stay longer than ten days or two weeks. The Evangelist is interested in Morris College as the reporter notes and has 7 agents getting subscriptions for THE PALMETTO LEADER, knowing that there are thousands of people there from this state he feels that he can get at least 500 new subscribers.

Had planned to have a U. S. drive but the Publisher thought it too late as school opens within two weeks. Being so interested in the clean paper he is making a city drive.

Those wishing to stay in touch with him will address all mail to 121 West 136th St., New York City.

Prof. C. C. Woodson Laid to Rest

With simple, solemn dignity the last rites of Prof. Camillus Caninus Woodson, who departed this life Thursday, Aug. 25 were held Sunday August 28 at the Macedonia Baptist Church.

The church was crowded to its capacity long before the arrival of the funeral party which reached the church promptly at 11 o'clock A. M. As the solemn procession slowly filed down the aisle, a hushed stillness filled the air, broken only by the voice of the attending minister as he solemnly read the appropriate words. The congregation stood with heads bowed in respect. Mrs. Lula B. Sexton of the faculty of the Highland School read the many telegrams and letters of condolence which came from all over the country conveying to the family messages of comfort in their sorrow.

Dr. Mason A. Dupre, Dean of Wofford College and Trustee of the City Schools made a talk in which he lauded Prof. Woodson for his twenty one years of useful service to his people, stating that to be able to render service satisfactorily in one position for twenty one years a man must be equal to the task. Dr. Dupre stressed education and the importance of being prepared and able to render service as Prof. Woodson had for the last twenty one years. Mr. George Foster spoke of the place that Prof. Woodson held in the church in which he depicted him as a Christian gentleman standing for the right in all matters pertaining to the church.

Miss Catherine Moore of the faculty of the Carrier Street School spoke of Prof. Woodson as a principal. Miss Moer moved her hearers as she told of the pleasant relationship that had grown up between the principal, teachers and scholars. She urged them not to forget the many lessons he had taught them both by precept and example. Mrs. Ora L. Foster of the faculty of the Coming Street High School read the obituary in which she brought to the minds of her hearers that they were witnessing the last rites of a man that stood for the high ideals of life, a man that stood for the right. In the absence of the Pastor Rev. Means Rev. Thomas of the Silver Hill M. E. Church delivered the eulogy. Rev. Thomas forcefully spoke of the high Christian life of the deceased and that he left a legacy rich in the fullness of Jesus Christ. Mrs. Preston Alexander beautifully sang "Safe in the Arms of Jesus."

Prof. Woodson leaves to mourn his loss two sisters: Mrs. Penola Crishaw of Greenwood, S. C., and Mrs. Nancy Duncan of Chicago, Ill. Two brothers: Giles Woodson, Jr., of Macon, Ga., and Joe Woodson of Greenwood, S. C. A faithful wife and one son, C. C. Jr., with a host of relatives and friends.

Recent Bride

MRS. MILLARD CAMPBELL

Pickett-Campbell Nuptial

Camden, S. C., Aug. 24—In the spacious room in which friends crowded to view the wedding ceremony of Miss Evelyn E. Pickett and Mr. Millard Campbell were beautifully decorated with ivy, ferns, and yellow roses. The soft lights of sunset gave richness to the bank of ferns on each side of the altar, over which hung a large yellow bell, made of yellow roses, adorned with Spanish ferns.

Proceeding the ceremony Miss Hettie Frasier sang a solo: "All for You." Mrs. Daisy Pickett Hemphill of Washington, D. C., the aunt of the bride also sang a solo, "Oh Promise Me."

Miss Bessie Pickett sister of the bride was "Maid of honor." She was gracefully gowned in yellow taffeta and carrying an arm bouquet of yellow roses, mingled with green leaves and Spanish ferns.

Mrs. Margaret Pickett, the bride's aunt was "Matron of Honor." She wore a gorgeous evening gown of soft yellow carrying bride roses adorned with Spanish ferns.

Mendelssohn's Wedding March then came the sweet strain of "Here comes the Bride." The bride entered from the East door upon the arm of her father, Dr. J. P. Pickett, very beautifully dressed in a gown of white Satin. Orange blossoms were used at the back of the bride's cap from which a bride's veil suspended to the floor. The bride was also carrying bride's roses.

DEPARTED.

Early in the afternoon on Monday August 1st, 1932, Little Rosa Anderson quietly stole away with the angels. To know this loving child was to love and adore her. Little Rosa possessed one of the sweetest dispositions that could be had—loving and kind towards her old friends as well as the young ones.

The floral offerings attested a deep regret on the part of members and friends for the deceased and her family. The large number of people who entered the home during the time between death and burial to give comfort and aid to the bereaved family, showed that during her short life, she was thought well of by members and friends and loved by all who knew her.

Funeral services were conducted at Bethel A. M. E. church, Sunday, August 7th, the Rev. R. S. Lawrence, pastor officiating. Interment was at Randolph cemetery.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Columbia, S. C.; Mr. Richard Young, New York, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Anderson, Rutherfordton, N. C.

room and marched under the great yellow bell and faced Dr. J. W. Boykin, pastor of the bride and Dr. T. J. Williams who performed the wedding ceremony. During the time that the matrimony was read by Dr. Boykin, the soft music was heard after which prayer was offered by Dr. T. J. Williams.

The "Bride" and "Groom" stood on the steps leading upstairs shaking hands and receiving congratulation from many friends. After which both rushed upstairs and dressed for their honeymoon. The bride dressed in a suit of blue with all accessories while the groom dressed in a suit of black using black and white shoes. They left at once to begin their honeymoon in Anderson, S. C. which will end in New York City. Many beautiful and useful presents were received from all parts of the country as the couple has an extra large acquaintance.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Willie Burton, Uncle and Aunt of the groom; Misses Lillian Brown and Pauline McDowell, all of Anderson, S. C.; Dr. M. A. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lee, Misses Jessie Trotter, Mattie O. Evans, Annie Belle Williams and Mr. Leroy Hill of Columbia, S. C.; Dr. and Mrs. Frier-son and daughters Geneva and Marguerite of Augusta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Boykin and Mr. Peaty of Durham, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spears, Dr. T. W. Richardson of Sumter, S. C.; Mrs. Lucy Sims, Mr. and Mrs. David Johnson, aunts and uncle of the bride; Mrs. Jessie Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Burnes of Winnsboro, S. C.; Miss Georgia Wright of New York City; Mrs. Daisy Hemphill and daughter, Annie Louise of Washington, D. C.; Miss Alta Mae Thompson of Roanoke, Va., who played the wedding march.

Activities At Harbison Agricultural Institute

Irmo, S. C.—The faculty and students of Harbison—the school of opportunity for boys—are beginning to turn their feet into the paths that lead to the opening doors of the institution. Many of the members of the faculty have added to their store of knowledge and increased their skill in the technique of teaching by taking courses in summer schools of note during their vacation.

Our former students scattered in all directions are doing their best to secure means to meet their obligations during the approaching session. New students in large numbers are applying and are seeking the rare advantages which the institution offers. The campus is ideal for quiet study, health, recreation and training in Christian citizenship.

The president has not been loud in his activities and preparations for the comfort and welfare of both faculty and students. What he has lacked in noise, he has made up in determined effort and progress. A new cottage for teachers, a new barn for housing the farm implements have been built, and several repairs have been made; hogs and chickens are in evidence.

The Dean, at the suggestion and sanction of the administration, is stressing the industrial features of the curriculum this year as never before. A survey of the student body and of the fields from which they come has suggested and revealed many important facts. In the light of these facts we have been able to evaluate our courses and modify our curriculum in terms of the actual needs and aims of the students. We feel a great responsibility for, and are interesting ourselves in, the problems which concern the abilities, the life needs and the occupation in the localities of our students.

The much talked of trades in the institution will have their beginning this year, and will be added with increasing emphasis and in such proportions in the coming years as our means, fitness and approval of our Board will allow.

For the present we plan to offer courses in practical carpentering, brick masonry, Blacksmithing, agriculture and shoe repairing. In the very near future, we hope to send out from this institution trained leaders and demonstrators for the above named vocations. We want it clearly understood, however that in adding these new courses, we do not minimize the importance of our fitting men and boys for higher education. The institution is already well known for its work along this line.

Our courses in Christian Education in the program of the school. More time has been given these courses to the end that there may go from this school leaders who may be depended upon to go forward in all the Christian activities of the church, as well as in Christian citizenship in general.

School opens Tuesday, September thirteenth.

City Schools Open to Enrollment New Pupils

Mon., Tues., & Wed. Sept. 5th, 6th, & 7th

Books Exchange At Each School

Supervisor C. A. Johnson states that each school will be open for the registration of new pupils beginning Monday, Sept. 5 and continuing thru Wednesday, Sept. 7. The hours are from 9:30 to 1 o'clock. Parents are urged to enter their children during registration days.

To assist parents in securing books at a very little cost, a book exchange will be conducted at the schools during registration. There has been a rumor that many changes have been made in both grade and high school books. According to Mr. Johnson this is not true. There will be no change in books except that Work Books will not be used in the grades this year.

All first grade pupils will be assigned to their rooms Saturday Sept. 10th at noon.

Pupils in the Columbia Schools last year promoted to the 8th grade and all new 8th grade pupils will be assigned to their home room at Booker Washington, Saturday, Sept. 10th at noon also. Other pupils will receive their room assignments Monday, Sept. 12 at the opening of school.

Through an error the name of Miss Everetta M. Sims, grade teacher, Booker Washington was omitted from the list in the assignment last week.
