

BISHOP WRIGHT NOW S ROOSEVELT "IS RE-ELEC

New York—(Calvin Service)—President Roosevelt is already re-elected, insofar as the Negro is concerned, according to a statement by Bishop R. R. Wright, Jr., National Chairman of the Colored Committee of the Good Neighbor League, 103 Park Avenue. The Bishop came back to his office Wednesday from a new "swing" through Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and other midwestern cities and beamed as he said: "Never in my life have I seen such a change in sentiment as there has been from the Republican to the Democratic Party in the last four years. The very arguments which the Republicans have been using for years, 'the debt of the Negro to the Republican Party' because of Lincoln, is the strongest argument against them. I have heard orator after orator stir a Negro audience almost to frenzy on this trip, when he said 'The only argument the Republican Party has is Abraham Lincoln. Lincoln is dead, the party he led is dead, and we don't want any more shaking of Lincoln's bones to try to fool us to follow a party that no longer has any interest in us. We are following the new Lincoln of 1936—Franklin D. Roosevelt!'"

"The appearance of Col. Joe E. Spingarn on the platform, foremost advocate of the anti-lynching bill, in Chicago, Toledo, Dayton and Cleveland, stating that he has no faith in any promise of Mr. Landon regarding an anti-lynching bill, has taken all of the wind out of the sails of the Landon statement regarding lynching. "On my first trip West I found many Negroes who put much upon Mr. Landon's statement. The Republican orators were saying 'Look what Landon promises' and 'good word to you promises' but the old common sense maxim that a bird in hand is worth two in the bush has completely relegated the Landon promise to the rear, and the great mass of Negroes either receive the reference to his promise in silence or with laughter and sometimes boos. I listened to such great orators as Bishop Reverdy C. Ransom of the A. M. E. Church, Bishop W. J. Walls of the A. M. E. Zion Church, Dr. J. C. Austin of the Baptist Church, Col. J. E. Spingarn, Atty. Emory B. Smith of Washington, Dr. Marshall L. Shepard of Philadelphia, President D. Ormonde Walker of Wilberforce university, and other leaders who have sent their audiences home thoroughly convinced that we need another four years of President Roosevelt."

JESSE OWENS FORGOT TO REGISTER
Cleveland, O.—(C) Jesse Owens was so busy campaigning for Landon and Knox that he failed to register, and therefore cannot vote on November 3, the Board of Elections announced Tuesday.

Dear Beauticians:
I'm leaving today for Atlanta, Ga., where I am to demonstrate a wonderful preparation to the Felton Beauty Supply Co., in Atlanta, Ga.

COLUMBIA LODGE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS MEET
The regular meeting of Columbia Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will be held in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Monday night, November 2, at 8 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all old Knights to visit Columbia Lodge. The practice of fraternity and its fundamental teachings are the captions under which this lodge is working, futuristic with an impressionistic background of fraternal organization of its past, as intelligible upside down as right side up to many of us. Nevertheless, a picture and so colossal in its import that we have begun to shape our ethics to the new way of life. Therefore, Pythian lectures and current events will be topics discussed from time to time.

Fraternally yours,
E. R. Lewis, C. C.
T. J. Morris, K. of B. & S.

Georgia State College

Dean To Study On Ph. D.

By Julia Braxton Clark
New York, N. Y., October 26—Among the distinguished colored scholars of the South studying for advanced degrees at Columbia university this year is Dean Asa H. Gordon a former teacher at S. C. State college.

Dean Asa H. Gordon on leave to study to complete requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in American History at Columbia university this winter and spring sessions. Dean Gordon received his leave on recommendations of President B. F. Hubert to the Chancellor of the University System of Georgia and it is the first instance of the Board of Regents granting what practically amounts to a subsidy for one of its leading colored scholars to better prepare himself for outstanding service in the senior college system for Negroes.

Dean Gordon richly deserves this consideration. He is a graduate of Atlanta university. He taught history for nearly a decade at the South Carolina State A. and M. college, Orangeburg, where he distinguished himself by organizing the first standard college course in Negro history in any colored school in the South. He has also contributed articles to the Journal of Negro History, characterized by its editor Dr. Carter G. Woodson, as a "contribution to American history", and by publishing a book on the history of the colored people of South Carolina, the well known "Sketches of Negro Life and History".

"The Georgia Negro" which he announces will come from the press of one of the nation's outstanding publishers of college textbooks during the next five or six weeks.

At Columbia university this term Dean Gordon will not only complete all required courses for the Ph. D. in American History and the writing of his doctor's dissertation on "The Negro Slaves Struggle for Physical Freedom in the United States," but he will also take certain courses in the technique of historical and sociological research preparatory to carrying forward the program of the newly formed "Division of Research and Publication" at the Georgia State college of which he is the originator and present director.

Bishop and Mrs. Wright To Sail November 6th

At midnight, Friday, November 6, Bishop and Mrs. R. R. Wright, Jr., will sail for Capetown, South Africa on the S. S. Europa, where the bishop will begin his work under the auspices of the African Methodist Episcopal Church for the next five years.

Bishop Wright was elected bishop at the last General Conference of his church which met in New York City in May, 1935, after having served as Acting President of Wilberforce university, America's oldest Negro newspaper and oldest Negro college. Bishop Wright holds the distinction of being the first Negro holding the degree of Doctor of Philosophy to be elected to the office of Bishop.

Mrs. Wright, formerly Charlotte Croghan, is the daughter of the late Dr. Wm. H. Croghan, for many years President of Clark university in Atlanta, Ga. Before her marriage, Mrs. Wright was also a teacher of Latin in this university.

Under his jurisdiction, Bishop Wright will have nearly 500 churches in a territory in which there are fifty million Negroes. His district extends over Cape Colony, Natal, the Transvaal and Southern Rhodesia, also the protectorates of Swaziland and Bechuanaland, which comprise the Fifteenth Episcopal District of the A. M. E. Church. In this district are sixty-five schools and one college, Wilberforce Institute.

Preceding Bishop and Mrs. Wright, have sailed Revs. J. Y. Pantis, Jonathan M. Makone, T. M. Tilo, E. M. Gow and Mrs. Eva B. Morake, who were in this country as delegates to the General Conference. Mrs. Morake, a graduate of Wilberforce and Columbia universities, has been serving as principal of Wilberforce institute in South Africa. Mr. E. C. Maxke, a recent graduate of Wilberforce university, also sailed last week to take up work in his native land.

In his final statement before sailing, Bishop Wright said: "I look forward with a great deal of pleasure to the work to which my church has assigned me in South Africa. I know there are many difficulties we will have to overcome. There will be a lack of trained workers, lack of equipment, lack of funds and a lack of many things, but there will be great faith and great determination, and both my wife and myself are thrilled over the opportunity for service we will have. Just the thought of a great mission to fifty million people is enough to fire the imagination and steel the determination of any man. I believe that my work is just beginning, and I ask for the prayers and consideration of our friends in America."

Bishop Wright will be the eleventh bishop sent to South Africa by the A. M. E. Church since it began work there in 1896 under Bishop H. M. Turner.

Penn School Club of N. Y. C. Scores Again

By Julia Braxton Clark
New York, N. Y., October 26—The Penn School club of New York City through the untiring efforts of Martin V. Washington, president have been able to carry on all during the economic changes.

On interviewing Mr. Washington about the old historic school which will celebrate its seventy-fifth anniversary next spring, he spoke of things that happened in Penn school over thirty years ago as if it were yesterday. The fond memories he had for his former teachers that had tried to mold and shape the lives of some of the outstanding men in the race who received their first instruction from Penn School with inspiration to go higher.

School Founded 1862
Penn School, St. Helena, S. C., was founded in 1862 by the late Misses Laura M. Towne and Ellen Murray (white). Their broad vision and their friendly interest in these untutored natives of St. Helena, inspired these pioneers to develop an institution which would adequately care for the elementary, academic and industrial needs of these people. They were untiring in their efforts to stimulate in the inhabitants the desire to acquire knowledge and skill and to grasp the opportunities for training offered to them through medium of this school. Penn school is a living monument to their efforts and objectives evidence of their vision.

Misses Towne and Murray were succeeded at their passing about twenty-nine years ago, by the present incumbents, Miss Rosa B. Cooley and Miss Grace B. House, (white) principal and assistant, respectively. Under their able leadership many improvements have been made at the school. The curriculum has been revised and brought up to standard, and to the courses in Sewing, Cooking, Printing and Carpentry have been added other industrial departments. Also a School of Agriculture.

The students at the school as well as the natives on the island are happy to live and study under the creative influence of their leaders. The well trained teachers have maintained an institution of which they may very justly feel proud.

The purpose of the club is to stimulate and maintain an interest in the scholastic welfare of the students at Penn School and in the general welfare of the school. This interest is manifested by two annual scholarship grants made to two students at the school who have consistently maintained high scholastic ratings. When the club reaches a higher financial status additional annual scholarships will be awarded.

The club meets on the third Sunday of each month in the Urban League building, 202 West 136th street at 5:00 p. m.

Officers: Martin V. Washington, president; James V. Gardner, vice-president; James V. Greene, financial secretary; Rosa Long corresponding secretary; Edward Jackson, chaplain; William Sealbrook, sergeant-at-arms.

Main Exhibit Left at Colored State Fair

EXHIBIT SHOWS FOREST FIRE SCENE, EXTENT OF DAMAGE CAUSED AND EFFECTS

Columbia, S. C., October 26th—The exhibit of the South Carolina State Forest Service now on display at the Colored State Fair, is drawing considerable interest. The exhibit was originally divided into three sections. Two of the exhibits, however, have been transferred to other County Fairs, but the main division has been left at the Fairgrounds for exhibit the close of the Colored Fair.

The outstanding feature of this exhibit is an electric action scene of a forest fire in Southern woods which is depicted in a vividly realistic manner and which attracted large crowds daily during the white Fair. In front of this scene and leading up to it is an actually burned area in long leaf woods, appropriately marked with signs showing extent of damage by forest fires, including a quail nest with eggs, also burned some. While the exhibit portrays the losses caused by forest fires, it also brings out that a solution of the problem is available in county-wide "Protection." In cooperation with the State and Federal Governments. In this connection it will be interesting to the colored people to know that nine counties in the state are already under county-wide forest protection, and both the white and colored citizens of these counties are cooperating splendidly in forest fire prevention and control.

The exhibit also points out such fire losses as the destruction of timber, of soil fertility, of game and birds and of natural beauty, the exposing of soil to erosion, and of trees to insects and diseases, etc.

"This forestry exhibits is considered an educational feature of considerable importance, and as such, both grown-ups and young are urged to study it carefully, realizing that "forest fires make idle lands, idle industries, idle hands", and all are urged to "stop fires—grow trees—keep forest land working."

The final and closing speech was made by President Whittaker of State college welcoming the groups and telling them the value of a teacher in a community. The following board members attended: W. W. Wilkins, vice-president; J. P. Burgess, executive secretary; Mrs. Alice LaSaine, treasurer; Prof. C. A. Johnson, Columbia; Mrs. M. A. Broadnax, Charleston; Prof. Z. Townsend, Aiken; Mrs. Alice W. Anderson, Anderson; Prof. J. T. W. Mims, Clinton; S. L. Finley, Chester; Prof. J. L. Cain, Darlington and Prof. C. V. Bing, Allendale.

Bing, Allendale, after making favorable comments of its work and editorials both declared to reach all the teachers in the state the house of delegates should take over this strong magazine and by common consent a committee was appointed by President Howard to inquire and get all information as to its status and present their finding to the house of delegates.

Favorable comments concerning the fine spirit of the board and impartial ruling of the newly elected president.

Prof. J. D. McGee, a veteran newspaper man and a professor of Benedict college was seen on the campus and spoke very favorably concerning the system of education.
