AGRICULTURAL PUPIL OF PENDLETON WINS $30 PRIZE.

Frank J. Lee, a 9th grade pupil and member of the Agricultural class of the Anderson County Training School was recently awarded two prizes for his record in cotton growing during 1937. The first prize amounted to $10 was awarded for the best acre of cotton entered in the contest in the Piedmont district. The next one amounting to $20.00 was the State Sweepstakes. These prizes are awarded annually by the Chiclean Nitrate Educational Bureau of which Mr. H. E. Sauly is State manager.

Frank is 18 years of age. Previous to entering high school at Pendleton, he attended school at Piney Grove and Smith schools. He lives with his father Mr. Jackson Lee, about 8 miles east of Pendleton. Frank is grateful to Chiclean Nitrate and is putting forth double efforts to carry out not only the best cotton project in the State during this year, but the best all around supervised practical program in Vocational Agricultural activities. He is investing the money received as prizes in his 1938 program, which includes 3 acres of cotton, 1 acre of corn, 1 acre of cow peas, 1-3 acre peanuts, 1-4 acre sweet potatoes, 1 pure bred gilt to be used as a brood sow, as well as a number of home improvement jobs.

IN MEMORIAM
In sad but loving memory of our wife and mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Scott, who departed this life one year ago, April 8, 1937 although it seems but yesterday.
Mother dear you left us here to weep and mourn
And you are gone to fair a n d brighter home,
Where there shall be no more death, sorrow nor pain.
Sleep on mother dear, and take thy rest,
We love you but God loves you best.
Devoted husband and children:
Mr. Green Scott, Mrs. Lena Jackson, Mrs. Annie Grant, Mrs. Dolly Smith, of Columbia; Mr. J. T. Scott, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. Ollie Mae Grant of New York City

Oscar "Slim" Hogan and His Orchestra Will Play for Easter Parade At Auditorium Monday, April 18th.

The Savoy Ballroom in the heart of Harlem says that it is okay to swing and sway the Harlem way to the tunes of Oscar "Slim" Hogan and his Rhythm Rascals.

Slim Hogan coming direct from the Savoy Ballroom was highly recommended by the management of the Ballroom to the local dance promoter and that is why he was secured to play for the Special Easter Parade, Monday Night at the Auditorium.

The Easter Parade is held annually and this year it is expected to be a much greater affair than it has in past years, due to the selected Orchestra picked to furnish the music for this particular occasion.

Hogan has in his orchestra members that have played with Benny Goodman, Cab Calloway, Noble Sissle and many other well known bands.

The Easter Parade this year will be the biggest event of the year with this outstanding band and the Special price of Dancers 84c and White Spectators 44c. The Dance will start at nine o'clock with the doors of the auditorium opening at seven.

Exhibition of Paintings by Negro Artists

Dillard University, New Orleans La., announces its second annual exhibition of paintings by Negro artists, which will open to the public with a tea at 4:00 p.m. on Sunday, May 1, and will close on Saturday, May 21.

The exhibition will consist of original works by living American Negroes in oil painting, water color and tempera and will contain only those works which have never been publicly shown in New Orleans.

South Carolina will be represented by the "Mosquito Fleet" a painting of a widely known group of Negro fishermen of the South Carolina Lowlands by Charles Spears, the famed Carolina painter.

Mr. Spears is also widely known as a poet and writer being a feature columnist of the Associated Negro Press which serves over 125 papers with over seven million readers.

The jury of selections and awards is as follows: Aaron Douglas, Conrad A. Albricie and Will Herby Stevens. Arrangements for the exhibit have been entrusted to a faculty committee on art at Dillard University. The members of the committee are: Rudolph Moses, Division of Literature and Fine Arts, chairman; Jane Martin, instructor of art, Paul Ninas, instructor of art.

Dr. R. B. Frederick Locates in Greenwood.

By Mrs. E. J. Ford

Five years and two months has passed since we have been agent and reported to this very valuable paper, The Palmetto Leader, and I thank those of you who have given us your splendid cooperation. It has not been all roses in the path, nor sunshine overhead these past years. It was a pleasure sometime, a displeasure most of the time for we have been criticized quite a bit, mostly by people who never buy a copy of the paper, but see the other man's paper. While criticism is good we admit, when its used to correct ones mistakes, for it prevents the second mistake being made. For we all know that pruning a tree causes it to bring forth better fruit. Now on the other hand when criticism come from you did not put my name in the paper, I was at that meeting too, or I was on program, but I see sister Amanda's name. Nine times out of ten these persons only saw the other man's paper or was told what was in it. Now listen years, this correspondent compensation comes when she is able to sell and collect for every copy of paper received on Friday or Saturday, and the paper is only a side issue from our regular work which is a hairdresser as most of you know and while its a pleasure for us to get news of interest for the paper, and get it on time too. We cannot remember everything that happens. Nor is it necessary to try write every thing for other correspondents must have space. We would have long ago stop with the paper, as others have done, but we would like the man who owes the grocery man a big bill and stop spending what little he has there but will go elsewhere to buy so that's why I am sticking and I love the paper and always boasts of its value. Again we thank those who have cooperated so nicely with us these few years, and am asking a little better cooperation from others. As said, sometime ago I have no surplus money and must be requested to pay for these papers each week.

Thanks.

In the write up last of the womanless wedding at Bethel the name of one of the principal characters was left off not intentionally. He sang the first solo, entitled "I am Calling Thee". A music that took in the twenty-six letters of the alphabet. This he lady sang from A to Z. It was much enjoyed. The name is Mr. W. H. Robinson, the chorister of Bethel choir or the Senior choir.

Last week Wednesday night the Howard school sponsored a Health Program at Bethesda Bapt. church with an address by Dr. W. S. Thompson, local dentist and Dr. G. S. T. Peoples, county physician. Music was furnished by the Howard school choir.

Sunday afternoon the second public health program took place at Bethel A.M.E. church with an address by Dr. U. G. Teale and Mrs. A. W. Simkins of Columbia, director of Negro program South Carolina Tuberculosis association. Each year Howard school celebrates health week with daily exercises in the school and one or more public programs. In this way the health program is brought vividly before the public and the desired goal is reached. Prof. Beck and Dr. Clarke added much to the program Sunday afternoon. The music on this occasion was very good.

Prof. G. W. Howard spent last Saturday in Columbia where he attended a meeting in interest of Adult Education. A state organization was perfected.

The Sunday schools are all getting ready for a glorious Easter. Quite a number left the city this week for Charleston to attend the funeral of Dr. L. R. Nichols.

It is said this is or was one of the poorest shad seasons the fishermen have had for many years. They are hoping to make good with the sturgeon. May they succeed.

MASONS CONDUCTS INITIATION

Orangeburg, S. C., April 12—Edisto Lodge No. 39, Free and Accepted Order of Masons recently completed the most extensive initiation held in recent years.

The following men were raised to the status of Master Masons after having received the third degree last Tuesday night: Messrs. Mendell Coger, L. H. Dawkins, Denton High School instructors; M. L. Newton, local undertaker; George Williams and Doscoe Byrd Claflin college; Harvey L. Haigler, assistant county agent Orangeburg; J. A. Ellerbe, principal the Bowman Junior High school; W. C. Lewis, Clarence Clinkscales, James H. Birnie, Reginald Thomasson, C. E. Dickinson, Jr., John L. Blanche, James H. Green, Thomas J. Crawford and Paul R. Webster, Jr., members of the State College faculty.

Dr. Seibels R. Green, Worshipful Master, is leading the lodge in an excellent program of expansion and reclamation. According to Dr. E. B. McTeer, secretary, in addition to the sixteen men initiated, eleven members have been reinstated in 1938. The other officers of Lodge No. 39 are: John Williams, Senior Warden; T. K. Bythwood, Junior Warden; Paul V. Jewell, Senior Deacon; W. W. Williams, treasurer; James McPherson, Lecturer and E. L. Stewart, Tyler.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS' ANNUAL SPRING EXERCISES

The elementary schools of the Columbia system will present their annual spring exercises on the following dates:

Monday, April 25—8:00 p.m.—Dramatic Tournament.

Monday, May 2—3 p.m.—Spelling Match.

Friday, May 6—6 p.m.—May Day Exercises.

The Dramatic Tournament and Spelling Match will be held in the auditorium of Allen university. The May Day exercises will be carried out on the athletic field of Benedict college.

This is the only time during the school year when the elementary schools appear as a group before the public. The exercises are devised so that each grade, from the first through the sixth, is represented. The May poles, one for each school, are played by pupils from the primary grades, a few older children taking part in some of the other May Day parts. The dramatic tournament includes pupils from all grades. The spelling match is confined to pupils in the sixth grade.

The dramatic tournament is composed of original one-act playlets. These playlets are school products and in each instance grew out of some school or class room activity.

A silver loving cup is the coveted prize offered each year for the spelling match. The school winning the cup three successive times retains it permanently. Waverly school is in permanent possession of the first cup offered and is the custodian of the second cup offered last year and won by that school. All schools are doubling their efforts to win the cup this year. All schools agree that the primary object of this spelling match is being achieved in the improvement of spelling generally in the schools.

This year the Lee school will have the privilege of carrying out the exercises of crowning the May Queen.

The public is cordially invited to attend all these exercises.

REV. W. M. DOWNS CLOSES SUCCESSFUL MEETING IN CHICAGO.

Broadcasted Sunday Morning and Night.

In spite of the inclement weather consisting of wind storms and very heavy snowstorms in Chicago, the Pilgrim Baptist church, of which Dr. J. C. Austin is the pastor, closed a successful meeting with the Rev. W. M. Downs of this city as the guest evangelist.

Aiding Rev. Downs with the ministry of music was the senior choir of Pilgrim; and with the music rendered and the soul-stirring messages delivered by Rev. Downs, fourteen persons were added to the church's membership Sunday of the first week, and many others since.

Sunday morning over the Chicago broadcasting station, Rev. Downs sang; and Sunday night at 11 o'clock, he made a lecture which many Columbians heard.

Enroute from Chicago to this city, Rev. Downs will be accompanied from Asheville by his father, Mr. William Downs, who will be the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Downs at Easter.

We are glad to hear that Columbia was represented by our youngest Negro pastor in such a successful religious meeting, and we are grateful to him for representing us in this way.

HON. THOS. E. MILLER PASSES

colored pupils in the public schools of Charleston, S. C. The bill was passed, but not enacted, white teachers continued in the colored schools for nearly 30 years, after which he was assisted by Dr. J. H. Thompson, Rev. C. C. Jacobs, Mr. Harleston, Dr. Johnson, Dr. J. F. McFall, Rev. Sterrett and many of the leading Negro men and women of Charleston, thereby securing from the legislature the enactment which was necessary to place Negro teachers in the Negro schools of Charleston. For this achievement the citizens of Charleston awarded Dr. Miller a silver loving cup.

In 1874, he married Miss Anna Hume of Charleston, who died almost two years ago. Seven children survive: Mrs. M. J. M. Earle, dean of women at South Carolina State College; Dr. J. Hume Miller, Chester, Pa.; Dr. Thomas E. Miller, Charleston; Mrs. M. A. Edwards of Atlantic City N. J.; Mrs. Pansy E. Maxwell of Philadelphia; Mrs. Anna M. Cooke of Gary, Ind.; and Mrs. H. C. Miller, Colleton County Agent, Walterboro, S. C. Twelve grandchildren and four great-grandchildren survive. All of his children, except Dr. J. H. Miller were at the bedside when he died. Dr. Miller and his family attended the funeral.

As the oldest graduates of Lincoln University, Dr. Miller, Mr. Archibald Grimke, and Dr. Brooks were to have been entertained last summer by the college at a dinner, but as fate would have it, both Mr. Grimke and Dr. Miller were ill. Mr. Grimke died last September. Now the second member of this trio of pioneers has answered the final call.

Peace be to his ashes and may inspiration be accrued from the memory of his many outstanding feats.

ANNUAL HEALTH DAY CELEBRATION PICKENS CO. RURAL TEACHERS

Hats off! to Miss V. V. Waters Co. Supervisor of Pickens. As a result of her untiring efforts, on Saturday, April 2, about 15 rural schools and patrons witnessed one of the most colorful and spirited "Health Days" in the history of Pickens Co. teachers.

This gala affair was held on the campus of Norris school, Norris, S. C.; Mr. G. H. Holland, principal as the efficient host. The program was as follows: Invocation Rev. F. L. Lawton; Health Rules, Norris school; Introduction of speaker, Mrs. R. Reed; Address Miss Eloise Miller, field nurse of South Carolina Tuberculosis Association. Miss Miller's address was on "Health" which is the most essential word that needs more emphasis. Her address was very interesting and timely.

Miss Sarah Cureton one of our very efficient workers—Home Demonstrator of Pickens Co. gave timely remarks. We were highly honored in having these kind white ladies to come visit our program.

The exhibits were judged by Miss Mary Mauldin and Miss Evelyn R. Hutcheson awarded the prizes to the following schools: 12 Mile 1st prize, Miss Julia Wakefield, principal; 2nd prize Mrs. Cordelia B. Kirkeev, Norris school; Montana Haines Crosswell school; R. Jackson.
