

EXCITEMENT IN MAINE—A MAN killed by a bullet has been created in Camden, Me., by the death of a young man named John Cousins, who was shot while in company with the Sheriff endeavoring to serve a process. An individual named Jewell had been occupying a farm belonging to Cousins, and a writ of possession was given to the Sheriff, who being resisted assembled a posse and returned to Jewell's house. The inmates discharged a gun the ball of which entered Cousins' head. The citizens threatened to burn Jewell out unless he rendered, which he did and is now in custody.

We hate some persons because we do not know them—and we will not know them because we hate them. Those friendships that secured to such aversions are usually firm, for those qualities must be sterling that could not only win our hearts, but conquer our prejudices.

When I hear a Northern Man say the "Glorious Union," methinks I hear the bugle of the robber band; but when I hear a Southern Man cry out the "Glorious Union," methinks I sniff treason in the tainted gale.—McDuffie.

A boy died in London lately from eating red wafers, as they contain red lead.

COUNCIL CHAMBER, May 14th, 1851.
THE Town Council of Camden having been informed that the Negroes and ill-disposed persons of the Town and vicinity, are in the habit of congregating at the Quaker Burying Ground on Sun-days, and acting in a very wanton manner, in destroying the flowers around the sepulchres of the dead.
Be it therefore Resolved, by the Town Council of Camden, That in future, it shall be unlawful for any negro to go to the Quaker Burying Ground on Sunday, without a written permit from his or her master, or employers, so to do—and the Marshal is therefore requested to place a guard on said Burying Ground, and if any negro is found there on Sunday, without a permit there to go; he, she, or they to receive twenty five lashes.
Also, Ordered, That the Recorder advertise the above Resolution in the Camden Journal.
By order of Council,
L. W. BALLARD, Recorder.
