Demitri-Spencer Announcement

Of interest to friends here of the groom is the following announcement:

Madame Tamara Demitri of Washington, D. C., announces the marriage of her daughter, Olga, to Charles Flave Spencer on Friday, December 26.

Mr. Spencer, who is a member of an observation unit of the air corps at Langley Field, Va., formerly resided here. He is the brother of Carroll M. Spencer of this city, who was in Washington to attend the rites.

Mrs. Bailey Hostess To Actaean Club

Mrs. C. M. Bailey entertained members of the Actaean Book club at her home on Saturday afternoon.

Guests were entertained in receiving rooms adorned with poinsettias, holly and other evergreens. The dining room was attractive with garlands of holly combined with red candles and other greens. Centering the table was a lovely arrangement of red carnations and fern around a silver candelabra bearing tall red tapers.

Mrs. W. L. Marshall, Jr., of Wadesboro, N. C., who is spending the Christmas season with her mother, assisted in serving an attractive salad plate and a sweet course, carrying out the holiday motif.

Oak Grove Club Has December Meeting

The Oak Grove Home Demonstration club held its December meeting on Thursday afternoon, December 18, at the school with twenty-two attending.

Roll call was answered with favorite Christmas thoughts or poems.

For the devotional, a number of school children gave an interesting short Christmas program, after which the song, "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks By Night," was sung.

At a lovely Christmas tree which had been trimmed by the teachers, gifts were exchanged by the club members.

The retiring president, Mrs. J. G. Roy, was presented a gift by the club in appreciation of her excellent work the past two years.

The hostesses, Misses Lidie Sloan and Lizzie Sloan, served Russian tea, cakes and Christmas candies.

Miss Katherine Taylor Weds Wilbur Weir

Of cordial interest to a wide circle of relatives and friends was the wedding of Miss Katherine Taylor, youngest daughter of Mrs. Charles W. Taylor of Laurens, to Wilbur Weir of this city, which was solemnized Friday evening, Dec. 19, at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. R. F. Johnson, in Greenville. The Rev. Dean Crain, pastor of the Pendleton Street Baptist church, officiated.

The bride wore a lovely tailored suit of dusty pink with brown accessories. She will continue to reside in Laurens while Mr. Weir is in military service.

Mr. Weir, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Weir of this city, is stationed with the local national guard unit at Camp Stewart, Ga.

Miss Helen Hollingsworth Weds John A. Davis

Miss Helen Hollingsworth and John A. Davis were quietly united in marriage Thursday, December 25, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. M. K. Medlock, in Jonesville.

The bride, an attractive brunette, wore an aqua dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Davis is a young woman of pleasing personality and has endeared herself to a host of friends who unite in wishing the couple much happiness. She is the daughter of the late Andy Hollingsworth and Beulah McCrary Hollingsworth. Since completing a business course she has held a position with the Clinton Production Credit association.

Mr. Davis is the son of Mrs. J. A. Davis and the late Mr. Davis, well known residents of the Hopewell section. He is connected with the Joanna Mercantile company of Goldville.

After a wedding trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Davis will reside in the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Copeland on Ferguson street.

Miss Edith Henderson Bride of Marion Brown

The following announcement will be of interest to many friends and relatives here and elsewhere.

"Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Shelton Henderson announce the marriage of their daughter, Edith, to Marion Newton Brown on Wednesday, the twenty-fourth of December, nineteen hundred and forty-one, Clinton, South Carolina."

The quiet wedding ceremony uniting Miss Henderson and Mr. Brown was performed in a lovely Christmas setting at the home of the bride's parents at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening by the Rev. W. N. Long, with only the immediate families of the couple present.

The vows were spoken before the living room mantel which was banked with pine and holly, and tall lighted tapers cast a soft glow over the wedding scene. Bowls of red roses were used elsewhere in the room.

For her wedding costume the bride chose a becoming ensemble of soft beige with black accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of red rosebuds.

The bride, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, is a popular member of the younger set. She was graduated from Clinton high school and pursued a business course at Presbyterian college. She holds a position in the office of H. D. Payne & Company.

Mr. Brown is the son of Mrs. George F. Brown and the late Mr. Brown well known residents of the Wadsworth community. He is also a graduate of Clinton high school and holds a position with the Joanna Textile Mills, Goldville.

After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Brown are residing on East Carolina avenue where they have taken an apartment in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Finney, Sr.

Miss Christina Sowers Weds Don W. DuBois

On Friday afternoon, December twenty-sixth, at five-thirty o'clock Miss Christina Sowers became the bride of Don W. DuBois of Goldville. The marriage was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sowers in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends. Reverend John K. Roberts pastor of the bride, officiated, using the impressive ring ceremony.

The vows were spoken before an altar improvised at French doors where tall baskets of white gladioli and candelabra holding white tapers were effectively used against a background of green. The arch above was covered with hemlock and centered by a cluster of wedding bells and mistletoe showered with fern.

Miss Annette Moorhead rendered a program of nuptial music, playing the wedding march from "Lohengrin," and during the ceremony "To A Wild Rose." The candles were lighted by Miss Carolyn Mitchell of Asheville, N. C., niece of the bride. The bride and groom entered together unattended. The bride wore a dress of white satin with fitted bodice and long sleeves and a finger-tip veil of illusion. She carried a quaint bouquet of white gladioli showered with fern.

Immediately following the ceremony the guests were entertained at an informal reception. During the evening the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip.

Mrs. DuBois is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Sowers and holds a position in the office of Presbyterian college. Mr. DuBois attended Presbyterian college and is now employed in the clerical department of Joanna Textile Mills company of Goldville. His is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. DuBois of Goldville and Oswego, N. Y. They will make their home with the groom's parents in Goldville.

Out of town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. John R. DuBois of Goldville, Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Cooper, Misses Louise and Mildred Cooper, Leonard Cooper, of Oswego, N. Y.; Mrs. John Norris, Misses Carrie, Leila and Ola Norris of Newberry; Mrs. Lee Morgan, of Charleston, and Miss Carolyn Mitchell, of Asheville, N. C.

Davis-King Rites At Newberry

A wedding of simple beauty was that of Miss Macie Davis and Lieut. William T. King of Camp Claiborne, La., which took place Tuesday, December 23, at 5:30 o'clock in Central Methodist church, Newberry. The bride's pastor, the Rev. Herbert O. Chambers, officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

A large floor basket of white gladioli and white candles burning in tall candelabra against a background of stately palms, made a lovely setting for the service.

A program of wedding music was given by Fred Bauknight, organist, and Miss Jeanne Johnstone, soprano. Mr. Bauknight played "Liebestraum" (Liszt) and "Intermezzo" (Mascagni). Miss Johnstone sang "At Dawning." The bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" was used for the processional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the recessional. "To a Wild Rose" was softly played during the ceremony, and during the prayer, when the couple knelt on a satin-covered prayer bench, Miss Johnstone sang the hymn "O Perfect Love."

Ushers were Robert Schwanebeck of Savannah, Ga., Jimmy Lindsey, uncle of the bride, Heyward Davis, brother of the bride, and Fred Harmon.

The maid of honor and only attendant of the bride was her sister, Miss Nell Davis. She wore a becoming gown of cerise satin with tight bodice and full skirt. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, pink carnations and Dutch iris.

The bride entered with her father, Walter H. Davis, by whom she was given in marriage. Her wedding gown was of traditional white satin with lace yoke outlined with seed pearls, fitted bodice, and full skirt that ended in a train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a bandeau of gardenias. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and gladioli.

The bridegroom's best man was Edward Overcash of Charlotte, N. C.

Mrs. Davis, mother of the bride, wore a dress of sheer black crepe and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. King, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of rose crepe and a corsage of pink gladioli.

During the evening the couple left for a wedding trip to Florida. For traveling the bride wore a light blue spring suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Following the rehearsal at the church Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Lindsey entertained members of the wedding party at their home on O'Neall street. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and coffee, sandwiches and cakes were served.

Mrs. King is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Davis of Newberry. She is a graduate of Newberry high school and Newberry college and for the past few years taught successfully in the city schools here. She is active in church work among the young people.

Lieut. King is the son of Mrs. F. W. King of Orlando, Fla., and the late Mr. King. He is a graduate of Presbyterian college where he was a popular student. He is at present stationed at Camp Claiborne, La.

AROUND THE TOWN

Incidents, Unusual and Ordinary, Gathered On Our Rounds.

The "Seen Here and There" column of The State carried the following deserved item a few days ago:

"Our sincerest and best set of congratulations to Dr. and Mrs. Almon Edwin Spencer of Clinton who will observe their fiftieth wedding anniversary with a reception at home Tuesday afternoon . . . Doctor Spencer is a popular member of the Presbyterian college faculty with a long and proud record of service . . . He was president of the college at one time . . . Taught SH and T Bible, and was a language professor, too . . . Some of the New Jersey soldiers here describe things they like as being "solid" . . . That's the Spencers—solid—good as gold."

Included in the first class of aviation cadets to arrive at Shaw field, the new army air corps basic flying school at Sumter, reporting on December 15, was WALTER THOMAS CARTER of this city. He was graduated from Clinton high school, attended Lees-McRae college, Banner Elk, N. C., and graduated December 13 from the Embry Riddle company elementary flying school at Arcadia, Fla.

MR. and MRS. CLYDE S. LANKFORD are guests of the latter's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Johnson, in Ferriday, La. On New Year's day they will attend the Sugar Bowl game in New Orleans, returning to the city about January 4.

The following item from the Spartanburg Herald will be read with interest by members of the Clinton Kiwanis club:

"A. B. (Drew) Vogel, secretary of the Spartanburg Kiwanis club, is now the oldest secretary in the Carolinas district, in point of service, the Carolinas Kiwanian, district publication, reported yesterday.

"Mr. Vogel also has one of the longest attendance records in the district and in the nation, having missed no meetings since the local club was founded 22 years ago.

"Mr. Vogel ranks as the longest duty secretary in the district with the retirement of Hunter Marshall as secretary of the Charlotte club."

MISS VIRGINIIA GRAHAM, of Charleston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Graham of this city, was cast in the role of Mary, for the pageant, "The Nativity," presented Sunday, December 21, by the young people's department of the First Baptist church of Charleston. The director of the play says, "Particularly lovely was the Madonna, Miss Graham, draped in soft folds of blue and white."

On Christmas eve the writer of this column was presented by Mrs. J. D. Coates with a lovely lapel bouquet of violets. These flowers, unusual at Christmas time, carried quite an interesting history. Given Mrs. Coates by a relatives when she was a small girl at Ninety-Six, the plants were later moved from Greenwood county to Laurens county and have followed her now for more than fifty years. They have been transplanted numerous times, and still bloom abundantly and are very fragrant.

The best sports stories of the season are about two local men who went rabbit hunting. One shot the dog instead of the rabbit, and another (told by the hunter himself) reports that the rabbit which he brought home ran into a fence post and killed himself.

CENTURY CLUB TO MEET
