

7-Day Week Permitted For Defense Workers

South Carolina Plants On War Orders May Begin Sunday Work.

A number of textile mills in the Piedmont section producing largely goods for defense purposes probably will start operating part of their machinery on Sundays within the near future, Dr. W. P. Jacobs, of this city, executive vice-president of the South Carolina Cotton Manufacturers association, has stated.

Sunday operations by industries producing goods for national defense is allowed by a measure passed Saturday by the general assembly. The law also permits women to work on Sundays in defense industries.

Jacobs pointed out that he and Rhett Harley, state commissioner of labor, with representatives of the American Federation of Labor and the CIO appeared before house and senate committees on commerce and industries at the request of Mr. Harley and recommended the move in view of the national emergency.

"The position of the manufacturers is that seven-day operations of machinery is not economically good but that if the emergency demands it, it should be done," Dr. Jacobs said. "Washington has been wanting a seven-day work week and in certain instances it is necessary to keep up production of necessary materials."

The spokesman for cotton manufacturers said there were several mills in the Piedmont section with heavy defense orders which would start operations of certain portions of their machinery on Sundays soon. The amount of machinery to be operated on Sundays will vary with the individual mills and in some instances much of the machinery may be operated seven days a week, he said. "A bill was passed last year permitting Sunday operations in Fairfield county and certain other counties where there were industries engaged in important defense production."

CLINTON HIGH BEGINS SEASON'S BASEBALL PRACTICE

Clinton high school started its baseball practice a few days ago and is fast rounding into shape for the first district league game with Gray Court-Owings here on March 31, according to an announcement made yesterday by D. S. Templeton, coach.

The team will enter league competition and play the following teams in the district: Gray Court-Owings, Jonesville and Whitmire. Other teams the Red Devils will likely play are Newberry, Greenwood, Connie Maxwell and Woodruff.

The following boys are trying for starting positions on the team for the opening game: John Earl Wilkingsham, Leaman Jones, Bruce Abrams, Herklyn Fallow, Bruce Stewart, Lloyd Huntington, A. M. Shumate, Bobby Boyce, Thomas Cox, Johnnie Fuller, Bobby Sanders, Howie Dawkins, Frank Simpson, Bobby Hamrick, Wallace Attaway, Fred Bragg, Pringle Copeland and others.

Huntington and Shumate are the only regulars from last season. The hurling will probably be done by Abrams and Huntington and the catching by Wilkingsham and Jones.

Senate Finance Unit Favors Sales Levy

Washington, March 14.—A majority of the senate finance committee expressed qualified approval today of a sales tax as a means of raising part of the $7,000,000,000 additional revenue being sought to aid in financing the war effort.

While most members said much would depend on prior house action, an informal canvass by the Associated Press showed 14 senators were willing under certain conditions to impose general sales levies. Six of these made it plain, however, they were prepared to follow such a course only if they became convinced that present methods of taxation would not yield sufficient revenues.

There have been indications recently that members of the House Ways and Means committee, which will act first on tax legislation, might turn to a sales levy as a partial substitute for the stiff increases recommended by the treasury in individual and corporate income taxes.
