Unsung Hero

One of the yet unsung heroes of the magnificent resistance on Bataan peninsula, is Lieut. Col. Jack Schwartz, of Fort Worth, Texas, who is shown outside the crude operating room of Hospital No. 2. In one night and a day Lieut. Col. Schwartz and staff handled 420 major and minor operations.

Furloughs To Be Given New Draftees

Washington, April 18.—Men expecting to be inducted into the army may now expect furloughs shortly after being sworn in, to wind up their personal affairs.

Under a new policy described as "greatly liberalized" furloughs up to fifteen days will be granted on request, to begin not later than five days after induction.

Requests for such leave should be made in advance to local draft boards.

Under the new procedure, men accepted for military service will be sworn in immediately upon their induction at reception centers with the result that they will not be eligible during their furloughs to enlist in the navy or marine corps.

The war department advised that the high rate of physical rejections by army examiners made it undesirable for every selectee to assume that his order for induction would mean immediate military service.

In event of any doubt a man receiving induction orders should not release his position, or wind up his affairs, but should file a furlough request with his draft board.

Spartanburg Taxi Slayer Given Chair

Spartanburg, April 21.—A general sessions jury late today convicted John K. Robinson, former army corporal, without recommendation of mercy of murder in connection with the gunshot slaying of Kenneth J. [illegible], taxicab driver, the night of January 4. The verdict was returned after 55 minutes deliberation.

The verdict automatically carried the death penalty, which Circuit Judge M. M. Mann set to be imposed on June 12.

Judge Mann refused a defense motion for a new trial, argued on the ground that photographs of Wofford's bullet-pierced body were improperly used.

The youthful defendant, a native of Ottawa, Ill., and formerly stationed at Camp Croft, went on trial this morning for a second time. The first trial ended in a deadlocked jury.

Robinson was indicted in January, along with his wife, on the murder charge. They had been apprehended at Corbin, Ky. Robinson's wife's case has not been called for trial and Solicitor Sam R. Watt has not indicated when it would be. She is free on $1,000 bond.

Wofford was found shot to death on a lonely country road ten miles from Spartanburg.

SUGAR SHORTAGE AIDS BOLL WEEVILS

Clemson, April 19.—Boll weevils can be thankful for the sugar shortage.

The scarcity has "greatly reduced" the supply of molasses "and the available supply is being sold at almost prohibitive prices," Clemson Extension Agronomist H. A. Woodle said today. "We have not yet found a good substitute for molasses or syrup in mixing sweetened poison for boll weevil control.

"Our farmers can meet this situation by planting additional sugar cane and sweet sorghum in 1942."

MASONS TO MEET FRIDAY

Campbell Lodge No. 44, A. F. M., will hold a regular communication Friday, April 24, at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.
