

4-H CLUB AWARDS MADE FOR YEAR

The Laurens county 4-H club held its spring rally meeting with the Youngs' 4-H boys and 4-H girls clubs at Youngs school house with Murray Madden county president, presiding.

Willard Gossett, president of the Youngs club conducted devotional exercises, following the welcome address by the county president. Carolyn Owens, head of the Youngs girls club, gave welcome to clubsters in behalf of the hostess club. Mrs. H. H. Abercrombie, member of Youngs home demonstration club, gave greetings, and the response was by Opal Copeland of the Brewerton community. Mrs. Floyd Coates brought greetings from the County Council of Farm Women. The flag salute was led by Murray Madden; Marian Lee led the assembly singing. Rose Godfrey, secretary, called the roll of various clubs.

The address of the day was made by H. H. Bruner, extension forester, Clemson college, who discussed the "Care and Value of Forests and Forest Products."

Recognition of local leaders was given by Miss Jennie Coleman, county home demonstration agent, and County Agent C. B. Cannon.

Miss Coleman delivered certificates to 194 4-H girls for successful completion of last year's program, and diplomas for four years work to Wilma Copeland, Carolyn Owens, Virginia Bailey and Ida Lou Davis.

Opal Copeland received the medal, offered by a spool cotton company, for outstanding work in clothing project, and a medal for record achievement given by Montgomery Ward company, for being adjudged best all-around 4-H girl last year. In addition she had won the same honor in the state contest, highest recognition ever given a Laurens 4-H girl, the reward of a visit to the National 4-H club camp in Washington.

County Agent C. B. Cannon presented 41 certificates to boys who had completed a year's work and one diploma.

C. C. Brannon, superintendent of the Thornwell orphanage dairy, was one of the first prize winners. Mrs. W. R. Brown of Long Branch, and Mrs. Beatrice Sloan of the State Training school staff, were presented women leaders' certificates.

There will be no admission charge and the public is invited to see the sports picture.

Behind the Men Behind the Guns

More than 1,000 Southern Bell employees now proudly wear the uniform of America's armed forces.

Behind them, ably doing their part, 26,300 intensively trained fellow telephone workers, efficiently serve their country at home. Not in uniform—but engaged in a task no less vital to the national war effort—constantly maintaining the efficiency of the far-flung communication lines of a country faced with its greatest emergency.

Nor have these loyal workers at home neglected the duty of every American. They have already bought $415,000 of war bonds, maturity value, and are subscribing over $117,000 every month for additional bonds—concrete evidence that these thousands of men and women are in every way "behind the men behind the guns."

Manning Favors County Road Plan

Sees State Control of All Highways As Blow At Local Government.

Columbia, May 10.—Wynndham M. Manning, gubernatorial candidate, said today he principally opposed any move to have the state highway department take over county roads because it would be a blow to "the principle of local government."

The Sumter county farmer, runner-up in the last gubernatorial race, said he had been asked to express himself on the controversial question of having the highway department assume the building and maintenance of all county roads—a proposal repeatedly broached in the general assembly.

"In some ways most important of all," he said, "is the question of local government. It seems to me that the principle of local government and local management of local affairs is important enough to warrant continuing the present method even were it somewhat more expensive, which is a debatable point. I feel that the trend away from local government and responsibility is dangerous and should be slowed up."

"The county road officials charged with building and maintaining the county roads are in most instances doing a swell job, and there seems to be no real reason to transfer their duties to other shoulders."

"The highway department is doing enjoyed this occasion. Mrs. Price was showered with many lovely gifts.

A salad course with tea was served by the hostesses.

an excellent job of building and maintaining the highway system, and is building as fine a highway system as there is anywhere. That system is far from completion, and, unfortunately, it looks now as if such completion will have to be postponed for a long time due to loss of revenue because of the gas and tire situation."

How The New Regulations Affect YOU In Buying Furniture

The new Government credit regulations on furniture DO NOT MEAN that you must pay for your purchases in two months (unless bought on an open charge account). Monthly payments on furniture may run as long as 12 MONTHS. Down payment must not be less than one-fifth or 20% of the amount of the purchase. Monthly payments not less than $5.00 per month or $1.25 week. Actually this is to YOUR advantage. Your down payment leaves less for you to owe. EXAMPLE: Your purchase amounts to $50.00. Down payment will be $10.00, leaving 8 monthly payments of $5.00 each.

YOU CAN STILL HAVE UP TO

12 Months to Pay

Any purchases you make in excess of $75.00 must also be paid out on the same basis, 20% down payment and the balance divided into 12 monthly payments. This means that you can still have a FULL YEAR TO PAY FOR ANY PURCHASE as long as the monthly payments are not less than $5.00.

THESE PRESENT REGULATIONS MAY BE SUBJECT TO CHANGE — IF YOU NEED FURNITURE, BUY IT NOW!

Manufacture of furniture containing steel will be stopped. Such items as steel porch furniture, innerpring mattresses, porcelain top tables, chromium and steel furniture, metal lamps, etc., will not be available after present stocks are sold. Survey your needs NOW and buy what you must have while we can still supply you.
