

Mrs. Dora Timmons Dies Suddenly

Resident of Community For 30 Years Passes At Home. Last Rites Friday.

Mrs. Dora E. Timmons, 71, wife of D. A. Timmons who resides near Clinton, died suddenly at her home last Wednesday afternoon. While she had been in declining health for several years past, her passing came as a great shock to her family and friends and brought sincere regret to all who knew and admired her.

Funeral services were held from the residence Friday morning with Rev. W. N. Long and Rev. J. H. Kohler officiating. Interment followed in Rosemont cemetery. The services were attended by a large number of friends, with many floral designs placed upon the grave indicative of the love and esteem in which she was held.

Pallbearers were: Hugh Ray, C. W. Cooper, James Anderson, Russell Cooper, Edwin Templeton and William League.

Mrs. Timmons was a native of Georgia, but had made her home in this community for the past thirty years. Of a quiet and unassuming nature, she was always kind and unselfish and thoughtful of others. A true Christian, a beloved wife, mother and friend.

In addition to her husband, the deceased is survived by four sons, L. A., Er and friend, she leaves many to M. F., S. A. and R. B. Timmons, and one daughter, Mrs. B. H. Ferguson.

TIME FLIES

The stress and strain of a fast-moving world demands of us the best of health.

Take care of what you have, and neglect no opportunity to improve it.

NATUROPATH

No. 1 National Bank Bldg.
CLINTON, S. C.

Dear Mr. Farmer:

Remember that resolution you made last year about poisoning the weevil? You resolved to poison EARLY in 1942, and profit by your mistakes in 1941.

WELL, the Boll Weevils are sitting in the top of your cotton now eating the buds and fattening up for a good egg-laying season.

A good FAT WEEVIL lays about 10,000 eggs. KILLING ONE WEEVIL now is worth a hundred a little later.

See us, or your nearest dealer for Molasses and Arsenate AT ONCE. If you dealer hasn't got it HE CAN GET IT from us.

Both Molasses and Arsenate are SCARCE, but we have just received a CAR LOAD of each. This won't last long, as other towns are begging us to divide them.

WHAT are you going to do about it?

COMMENCEMENT SEASON CLOSES AT THORNWELL

at the outset that God has always chosen those for great deeds and accomplishments whom we look upon as ordinary, and portrayed several Biblical characters showing how ordinary men became great men. All great deeds are not yet accomplished, he said, and God is still looking for men and women to plan and work to promote His cause throughout the world.

Continuing, he said, there is an unlimited field of service for those who will enter. This war brings the acute problem of food—of feeding the world. God is looking for men and women to help provide this food. This and other problems confronting the world today will become more acute, he said, as the war continues. This calls for the use of skill and ingenuity on the part of those who possess such talents.

There is the need of the conservation of natural resources God has given us, the speaker said. Touching upon relationships one to another, he told the young graduates, you must live together in a friendly, harmonious relationship.

War is a horrible reality, the speaker said. The great Prince of Peace came to teach mankind the need of brotherly love, and yet two thousand years later we have not yet learned to live in peace.

There is untold human suffering in the world today, Mr. Lynn said, because of ignorance of the laws of health. God is still looking for those from the ordinary walks of life who will dedicate themselves to alleviating suffering and distress. Speaking of the influence and supremacy of the home, he said God is still looking for men and women who will recognize the importance not only of the physical, but of the social, mental and spiritual development of the children of our homes.

In closing his thoughtful message to the graduates, Mr. Lynn urged them to assume places of service and leadership in the communities where they are to reside. God is still calling young men and women to proclaim the Gospel. Wherever and in whatever you invest your lives, he said, there will be the tendency to say "I can't do great things, I am only ordinary. You are wrong if that is to be your attitude toward life, he said, for God has done his great deeds through ordinary people. The call to you young men and women, he said in conclusion, is to "Go and work in my vineyard"—it is a clear ringing command that will mold and magnify your lives for Christian living and usefulness if you are willing to accept the challenge.

LADIES PROCLAIM COOKING SCHOOL A BIG SUCCESS

Three Day Event Sponsored By The Chronicle Attended By 650. Baskets and Other Prizes Awarded.

THE CHRONICLE'S free cooking school closed Friday afternoon following three days of demonstrations of various recipes and household hints by Miss Kathleen Crow, noted lecturer and home economist.

The school was attended by 650 ladies with all speaking in the highest terms of Miss Crow, the programs and prizes given away daily.

Miss Crow, field representative of the Spry Research Kitchens, Cambridge, Mass., won her audience from the very start by her pleasant manner. As she talked she worked, giving expert advice on the preparation of various foods, and at the end of the pleasant hour each afternoon had prepared a number of delicious dishes which were given away to ladies in the audience.

Each afternoon ten baskets of groceries and household products were presented to various ladies. The baskets were made possible through the cooperation of several manufacturers, together with J. C. Todd Grocery, I. C. Boland and Rogers store of this city.

At the concluding session the large audience was asked if they would like to have another cooking school next year. There was an instant raising of hands. The second question was then asked, how many would like for Miss Crow to come back to conduct the school? Every hand in the audience went up and as Miss Crow reappeared on the rostrum she was enthusiastically greeted. She graciously expressed her appreciation for the splendid attendance and cooperative spirit and interest shown.

"I have never conducted a school anywhere," she said, "where I had a finer audience than the lovely Clinton ladies, and I hope I may be able to come back again."

Through the courtesy of Prather-Simpson Furniture company, a beautiful Norge electric range was used throughout the school.

The Colonial Baking company of Augusta, presented 170 loaves of good Colonial bread with their compliments to a large number of ladies each afternoon.

Those receiving grocery baskets on Thursday and Friday were: Mrs. Gary Dillard, Helen Anderson, Mrs. Copeland Blackwell, Mrs. Earl Horton, Mrs. C. Bynum Betts, Miss Fero-line Seay, Mrs. Kay Mills, Mrs. H. R. Jones, Mrs. J. W. Crawford, Mrs. W. J. Duncan, Miss Katherine Blakely, Mrs. T. P. Owens, Mrs. J. H. Hunter, Davis Young, Miss Evelyn Henry, Mrs. B. H. Suddeth, Mrs. Earl Chaney, Miss Mary Ella Bailey, Miss Bessie Jones, Mrs. A. Ross Blakely.

The cakes, pies and other food prepared on the two days by Miss Crow were given to Miss Pearl Hitt, Betty Taylor, Mrs. Fayette Ramage, Miss Bessie Jones, Miss Arva Henry, Mrs. D. S. Templeton, Mrs. R. S. Truluck, Miss Frances Jones and Mrs. C. M. Spencer.

The following prizes were given by several local merchants with their compliments: J. C. Penney company, sheets and pillow cases, Mrs. James P. Sloan; Clinton Flower Shop; flowers and vase, Miss Mary Blakely; Smith's Pharmacy, heating pad, Mrs. L. B. Marion; Chaney's Dress Shoppe, lingerie, Mrs. T. M. Sease; Moore's Dress Shoppe, hose, Miss Hazel Sims; Bell's Department store, bath mat set, Mrs. Stewart Brown; Hamilton's, pitcher, Mrs. William Brooks Owens, the grand prize.

The Chronicle wishes to express its appreciation to the hundreds of ladies for their attendance at the school and to all who assisted in the arrangements. Also to the merchants who cooperated in the special cooking school edition of the paper, to the manufacturers and local firms who contributed articles for the market baskets, to the seven local firms giving prizes with their compliments during the three-day event as listed above.

We also desire to publicly express our thanks to Prather-Simpson Furniture company for the use of the Norge range, to Supt. B. R. Austin of the city water and light department for installing the range, and to Supt. W. E. Monts of the city schools for his cooperation and courtesies shown in providing the high school auditorium for the school.

Big June Sale At Smith's Pharmacy

Smith's Pharmacy, the popular "Rexall Store" of this city, announces their June health and beauty sale in today's paper. This special event, the management states, will offer new low prices on many household items in which the general public will be vitally interested.

Entertainment were: Sara Ayers, Chestnut Whitaker, Sara Roberts, Athleen Dover, Jimmie McDonald, Henry Rhodes, Betty Darnelle, Chalmers DuBois, Richard Allen, Shirley Grube, Jerrell Davis, Barbara Patton.

The cast in the second part of the program included: Frank DuBois, Clyde Rogers, Susie Mae Hart, Dorothy Rodgers, Carl Schultz, Thomas Boone.

Lt. Col. Strong Ordered To Duty At Presbyterian College

Lieut. Col. Paul D. Strong of Savannah, Ga., has been appointed professor of military science and tactics at Presbyterian college effective June 1. The new commanding officer has already arrived in the city to enter upon his work.

Lieut. Col. Strong will succeed Lieut. Col. Alexander H. Cummings, who has been assigned here for several years past. A transfer of Colonel Cummings has not yet been announced by the War department but it is expected that he will at an early date be given an assignment to active duty for which he volunteered several months ago.

Colonel Cummings came to the college in 1937 as assistant to Col. Robert E. Wysor. In the summer of 1938 he was promoted to the position of commandant, and in the fall of 1940 was promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

Colonel Strong is a native of Georgia. He was awarded the "Silver Star" decoration for bravery in action in the last World war.

Milam To Stand For Re-election

Representative Charles L. Milam of the Mountville section was in the city yesterday and formally placed his announcement in today's paper for re-election to the house in this summer's primary.

Mr. Milam, who is well known throughout the county, is now completing his third two-year term as a member of the general assembly.

"I am asking the voters to re-elect me on my record," Mr. Milam said. "For the six years I have been in the house I have endeavored to give honest, conscientious service. I have worked for both my county and state. I feel that my experience will enable me to serve my people better in the future."

Mr. Milam added that he had been confined closely at home in recent weeks, since two sons, Corp. H. W. Milam and Private Cecil F. Milam, are now in army service stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., and Fort Logan, Colorado.

Appeal For Rooms For War Veterans

D. B. Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday reported that little response had been given to the appeal for rooms for the Spanish-American war veterans and Auxiliary members who will be here the nights of June 21 and 22 for their annual convention.

About 200 will attend the convention and few accommodations have as yet been offered. It is urgent, Mr. Smith stated, that facilities be arranged before the meeting. Delegates attending are willing to pay at the rate of $1.00 per night.

Those having rooms they can offer are asked to call Mrs. Clifton Adair, secretary, at once, at phone 108.

No 18-19 Draft Planned Just Yet

Washington, June 9.—There will be no immediate move to draft youths of 18 and 19, President Roosevelt disclose today. He indicated that if any such step is taken, it will not be for several months.

Young men in this age bracket are not now subject to compulsory military service and legislation would be required to remove the exemption. Asked at a press conference whether he had reached a decision on drafting such youths Mr. Roosevelt responded in the negative.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the fine vote given me in the primary election for alderman from ward 6. I ask your support in the second race.

ROY TRAMMEL.
