Soldiers of Production

America's "soldiers of production," men and women working in the plants of American industry, have their uniforms, too. Some uniforms worn by G-E workers on vital production jobs are shown below.

1. Not a gas mask, but a special nose mask to guard his breathing, is worn by this spray painter at his job in one of the General Electric plants.

2. Like a man from Mars, the "cold room" research man is a strange sight as he tests airplane instruments for high-altitude performance in a G-E laboratory.

3. Frankenstein? No, just another G-E worker. His job is sandblasting big turbine castings for Uncle Sam's ships at one of the General Electric plants.

4. The helmet he wears is to protect him from light! The rays from a welder's arc could cause blindness if he did not wear this strange headgear.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

Inspection Lane Here For Cars

Car owners in Laurens county have only four remaining weeks in which to have their cars inspected for the second period of 1942. The state highway inspection station will be here through July 11, and all cars not displaying the second period sticker are required by law to be inspected at this time. The new sticker is silver with black letters and replaces the green sticker which expires May 1st, 1942.

The inspection station has been in operation in Laurens county since May 1, during which time more than 2,300 cars and trucks have been approved. This constitutes a majority of the vehicles in this vicinity but there are a number of cars and trucks still being operated with out-of-date stickers, which is a violation of the inspection law, officials state.

The highway department not only desires that the law be complied with but is particularly anxious at this time to have vehicle owners avail themselves not only of the regular free semi-annual inspection, but also of additional inspections in order to correct misaligned wheels so that excessive tire wear will be avoided.

The inspection station personnel will be glad to offer suggestions and give additional check-up on front end alignment and steering at any time, to bring about the conservation of gas and rubber.

head, violinist, of Goldville, rendered a lovely musical program. Miss Moorhead played Schubert's "Serenade" and "Liebestraum." Miss Timmons sang "Until" and just before the benediction sang "The Lord's Prayer." The "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" (Wagner) was used for the processional. During the ceremony "To A Wild Rose" was softly played.

Misses Betty Spratt, Betty Hunter and Henrietta Young lighted the candles.

The bridesmaids were Misses Cleo Ford of Georgetown, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Inez Young of this city. They wore blue organdy dresses having long fitted bodices, v-necklines, puffed sleeves and full floor-length skirts. Tiny Mary Stuart maline hats completed their costumes. Their flowers were mixed bouquets of carnations, roses, and delphinium. Miss Jane Carson, of Greenville, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a pink organdy dress fashioned like the bridesmaids' and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

The bride, a lovely brunette, given in marriage by her father, Dr. Roger L. Coe, was exquisite in her wedding gown of ivory silk net over taffeta, fashioned with a v-neckline, short sleeves and a very full floor-length skirt with self pleated trimmings. Her finger-tip veil of bridal illusion was caught with orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a seed pearl necklace which belongs to her grandmother. She wore lace mitts and carried a white satin Bible adorned with purple threaded orchids and showered with swansonia.

Francis Ford, of Georgetown, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mrs. Coe, mother of the bride, wore turquoise blue crepe with a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Albert W. Ford, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in beige chiffon, and her flowers were pink roses.

Mrs. Shands, grandmother of the bride, was gown in grey crepe with a corsage of red roses.

Immediately after the wedding the bride's parents entertained honoring the young couple. Receiving with the host and hostess were Mrs. Albert Ford, Sr., the bride and bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Shands, the wedding party, Mrs. Richard Kaminski, Mrs. F. A. Bell, Mrs. Ralph Ford, all of Georgetown, and Miss Louise Jacobs.

Assisting in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. John Holland Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. John Spratt. Misses Frances Simpson and Miriam Donnan presided over the bride's book.

The entire lower floor was beautifully decorated. Flowers in pastel shades were used in the reception and gift rooms. In the dining room the bride's table was centered with feverfew and gypsophylla in a silver bowl flanked by tall lighted tapers in holders. The chandelier was showered with feverfew tied with white satin ribbon. On the buffet were white flowers and candles.

A salad course, punch and decorated cakes were served.

During the afternoon the bride and bridegroom left for a wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a lettuce-green crepe dress with a coat of green and lavender jersey, and white accessories. Her corsage was of orchids.

Mrs. Ford is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roger L. Coe of this city, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shands. Her mother is the former Miss Evie Shands. She attended the University of South Carolina, where she was a member of Chi Omega sorority and the Senior Dams club. She is a recent graduate of Limestone college, where she specialized in interior decoration. She is an attractive and accomplished young woman, admired by many friends here and elsewhere.

Mr. Ford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ford, Sr., of Georgetown. His mother is the former Miss Marian Sutcliffe, daughter of Mrs. George Sutcliffe and the late Mr. Sutcliffe of Madison, Wisconsin. He is associated with his father in business in the firm of C. L. Ford & Son. He attended Presbyterian college.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Albert Ford, Sr., Mrs. F. A. Bell, Mrs. Richard Kaminski, Mrs. Ralph Ford, of Georgetown; Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Albright, Mrs. G. C. Albright, Sr., Mrs. Sydney Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Carson, Miss Jane Carson, Miss Mary Etta Henry, of Greenville; Mrs. James Fraser, of Blairs; Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, of Newberry; Mrs. Paul Austin, of Greenville; and C. H. Albright, of Rock Hill.

Mrs. Pringle Copeland Honors Miss Jacobs

Honoring Miss Louise Jacobs, who was married to Lieut. Robert F. Black on Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Pringle Copeland entertained beautifully at breakfast on Saturday.

A profusion of mixed garden flowers decorated the home: Centering the dining room table were snapdragons, roses and sweet peas. A delicious breakfast was served in buffet style. The guests found their places at small tables adorned with pink sweetpeas.

Guests included the wedding party and out-of-town guests.
