White-Murrah

In a wedding characterized by simplicity and beauty, Miss Jimmie White became the bride of Harmon G. Murrah, Jr., Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the parsonage of the First Methodist church in Clinton. Rev. J. H. Kohler was the officiating minister, using the ring ceremony, in the presence of relatives and close friends of the bride and groom. Miss Bobby Jean Carr gave a piano selection, "Reverie." Mrs. W. A. Moorhead sang "I Love You Truly," and after the prayer she sang "Seal Us, O, Holy Spirit."

During the rites Miss Carr softly played "The Rosary."

The bride was attractively attired in a dress of aqua romance crepe with fitted Redingote, a pink wide-brimmed felt hat and white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations, lilies-of-the-valley and fern.

Mrs. Murrah is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. B. White. She attended Lander college and was a member of the International club. She is director of the young people's choir of Epworth Methodist church.

Mr. Murrah, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Murrah, Sr., is assistant supply clerk for Joanna Textile mills.

The young couple will make their home in Goldville.

MOTORISTS TO SIGN FOR GAS CARDS JULY 1

Dates on which South Carolina motorists must register for their gasoline rationing coupon books have been announced by the state office of price administration. All passenger automobile operators except those falling in one of five specified categories, the OPA said, will register at school sites in their localities on July 1, 2 and 3.

The five groups who will not register at school sites, but at their county rationing boards during the period July 1 to July 15 are operators of (1) taxis, jitneys, and use for hire cars, (2) cars owned by federal, state or local government, (3) cars in fleets of four or more owned by businesses or charities, (4) cars held by dealers for re-sale, (5) ambulances and hearses.

Other passenger automobile operators—those not in these five groups—must go to the school sites to get their basic gasoline coupon books whether they intend to apply for supplementary allotments of fuel or not. They must get their basic coupon books before applying for extra gasoline allowances. The basic ration book "A" can be used by passenger automobiles only.

All truck operators must apply directly to their county war price and rationing boards for their gasoline coupon books during the period July 1-15.

Every motor vehicle of any kind whose owner applies for gasoline must be registered and the operator must present the highway registration card at the time he applies for his coupon book. This regulation will be enforced by school site registrars and by war price and rationing board officials.

County's First '42 Traffic Fatality

F. B. Morris Killed In Wreck On Princeton Road.

Laurens, June 14.—F. B. Morris, Jr., son of F. B. and Mrs. Bessie Roberts Morris of Tumbling Shoals, died at 7 o'clock Sunday morning at the Laurens county hospital from injuries received in an automobile accident on the Laurens-Princeton highway at 10 o'clock Saturday night.

Mr. Morris was the first person to die from injuries caused in an automobile accident in Laurens county this year.

Two other persons were hurt in the crash, Miss Vera Babb, daughter of Charlton Babb of Hickory Tavern, who suffered a fractured shoulder, and Albert Hopkins of the Princeton section, who sustained minor injuries. All were brought to the hospital, Morris in an unconscious condition with a fractured skull.

Officers reported that the car in which the three were returning from a neighborhood party at the home of W. C. Wilkies overturned on a down-grade curve near North Rabun creek bridge, apparently after the driver had lost control.

A coroner's jury was empaneled but an inquest was postponed, pending the outcome of Miss Babb's injuries.

Morris was an employee at Ware Shoals.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by a brother and five sisters.

Funeral services were held at 4 p.m. Monday from Bethany Baptist church east of Fountain Inn, the Revs. C. L. Boyter and J. Norman Long officiating.

Old Age Association To Meet Saturday

A meeting of the Old Age Pension association will be held in Laurens Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the court house. At this time delegates will be elected to the state convention to be held in Columbia July 13.

Officers state all members are invited to attend the meeting, as well as those who may desire to join the association.
