Cub Scouts Enjoy Fishing Trip

The Cub Scouts, accompanied by their den mothers, Mrs. John H. Hunter, Mrs. P. M. Pitts and Mrs. Henry Young, enjoyed a fishing trip to the Lions Den at Happy Acres on Thursday afternoon.

After a generous picnic supper watermelon slices were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pitts and Mrs. John G. Barden also accompanied the group.

Joint Hostesses Honor Mrs. Speake

On Friday afternoon Mrs. W. M. Walker and Mrs. Roy Gasque entertained with a delightful party honoring Mrs. J. B. Speake, at the home of the former.

Amid a lovely setting of roses and gladioli, tables were arranged for cards. High score prize was won by Mrs. John W. Little. The honoree was remembered with a handsome linen gift. After the games the hostesses served a light dessert.

Little Girl Has Birthday Party

Little Miss Ada Ann Furr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Furr, celebrated her sixth birthday with a party at her home on Thursday afternoon.

Sixteen little boys and girls attended the party and remembered Ada Ann with gifts. After games and contests were enjoyed, a delicious birthday cake was cut and served with ice cream. Each guest was remembered with a souvenir of the occasion. Mrs. Furr was assisted in entertaining and serving by Miss Jean Rumph.

Little Folks Enjoy Party For Guests

Little Misses Maudalene and Leanna Young entertained with a party on Friday afternoon honoring their cousin, Rosalie Redding, of Richmond, Ky., who has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Pinckney Sullivan in Laurens.

Twenty-two little friends enjoyed games and stories. Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cookies were enjoyed. Tiny baskets filled with candy were presented each guest as favors.

Lana Copeland Dick and Margaret Dick of Raleigh, N. C., were out-of-town guests.

Copeland Announcement Of Interest Here

Mr. and Mrs. John Calhoun Copeland of Columbia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sara Linda and Louis William Gilland, lieutenant, United States army, of Columbia and Camp Perry, Ohio. The wedding is to take place in August.

Miss Copeland was graduated from the University of South Carolina in June past. Her mother before marriage was Miss Eva Gary Goggans of Newberry. Her father belongs to the Clinton Copeland family, a son of the late John Calhoun and Sara Elizabeth Young Copeland, pioneer residents of this city. He is known here to many friends and boyhood companions as "J. C."

The bride-elect is also pleasantly known here where she has visited relatives and friends on a number of occasions.

Every enlightened school child knows that disease germs are ever present, doing their deadly work. They infect all we eat and the air we breathe. But the normally healthy person can throw off these disease germs without harm or hindrance.

It is when we become "all run down"—when our resistance is low—that danger lurks. Then, we become easy prey for colds and infections. So, watch your step! If you are not feeling physically fit, better go see your physician right away. Let him prescribe for your particular condition. And be sure to bring his prescription here for precise, careful compounding.

Temperance Group Meets With Mrs. Cauley

The Woman's Christian Temperance union met on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Cauley, Sr.

The devotion was given by Mrs. L. S. Henderson. The program was in charge of Mrs. T. L. W. Bailey, who gave some interesting extracts from the "Union Signal." A business meeting was held after the program. Mrs. Bailey will be hostess for the August meeting.

Rounds-Boylam Rites In Tampa, Fla.

Miss Georgia Rounds and Lt. Albert Boylam, of Newark, N. J., were quietly married in a simple home ceremony Saturday morning, July 25, at Tampa, Fla.

Mrs. Boylam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Rounds, former Clinton residents, and a granddaughter of Mrs. C. L. Rounds of this city. The bride received her education in the Tampa schools and Southern college at Lakeland. At present she is doing war work in Tampa and holds the rank of lieutenant in the Red Cross motor corps.

Lt. Boylam is a graduate of Amherst college, Massachusetts, and is with a pursuit squadron of the army air corps, stationed at the Sarasota Air base, Sarasota, Fla.

Williams-Taylor Rites At Fort McClellan

Lt. George Aiken Taylor and Miss Blanche Williams of Chattanooga, Tenn., were quietly united in marriage by the chaplain at the Silver chapel at Fort McClellan, Anniston, Ala., on Saturday afternoon, July 25, at 4 o'clock.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Ruth Turner of Chattanooga, and Lt. Dan L. Henry acted as best man.

Mrs. Taylor is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Williams of Chattanooga and a graduate nurse of Erlanger hospital, Chattanooga. At present she is stationed at Fort McClellan, as a member of the Army Nurses corps.

Lt. Taylor is the son of Mrs. George W. Taylor of this city. His father, the late Rev. George W. Taylor, was head of a college of the Southern Presbyterian church at Recife, Brazil, where Lieut. Taylor was born. He was graduated from Presbyterian college in 1940, and at present is on maneuvers with the 36th Infantry division near Wadesboro, N. C.

Mrs. Arnold Patient At Local Hospital

Mrs. J. B. Arnold, a member of The Chronicle's staff, underwent an appendix operation last Wednesday at Hays hospital. Her friends will be glad to know she is satisfactorily convalescing and expects to be removed to the home of her sister, Mrs. L. W. Rawl, in the next few days.

SAY, "I SAW IT IN THE CHRONICLE." THANK YOU.

WOMAN OF THE WEEK: Miss Lulu Fairbanks has been writing for 18 years for an Alaska weekly published in Seattle. But she is so much a part of the Alaskan scene that anyone there would know whom you mean if you mentioned "Fairy." That's what her 30,000 correspondents up there in Alaska call her. Just ordinary residents, they keep her so well informed that she is able, at a moment's notice, to help locate anyone among 10,000 of them.

RADIO OPERATOR: Anne Kathryn Porter was 15 when her brother obtained his radio operator's license and she set to work to get hers... At 19 she won her first-class radiotelephone operator's license and was ready for a job. From Kansas City to Victoria, Texas, to the U. S. army signal corps to the "dream job" she had hoped for has taken only three years. Now, at 22, she is a junior radio operator for Eastern Air Lines, one of the first women to hold such a position.

NAVY CORPS: Rear Admiral Randall Jacobs, chief of navy personnel, recently described the need for a women's naval reserve as "acute." In a report to the senate naval affairs committee, he urged the creation of a women's reserve to replace the men on shore duty. Citing the navy's experience in the last war, he said that it is absolutely necessary for the women to serve in, rather than merely with, the navy, and he explained that limiting the number of women serving to 12,000 is also "necessary."

SUNNY SIDE UP: Mrs. Bruce Baird, wife of a Washington banker, has solved the problem of whether or not to wear them again by embroidering a design in colored thread on her stockings when mending a run.

WAAC DIRECTOR: The attractive, 37-year-old director of the new Woman's Army Auxiliary corps is a career woman who has successfully combined work and marriage. She is the wife of William P. Hobby, former governor of Texas, and the mother of two children. With her husband she is co-publisher of The Houston Post. She is a lawyer, too, and was formerly parliamentarian of the Texas legislature. For the past eight months she has worked closely with army officers as chief of the women's interests section of the war department bureau of public relations. As director of the WAAC, she will hold a rank corresponding to that of major in the army.

ALPHABET WAR: Do you find the WAAC a little confusing? Do you have a hard time remembering the initials? Then you will sympathize with the British women (English, Canadian, Australian) who have to remember the difference between the WAAF, the CWAAF, the WAAAF, the VAD, the WRNS, the ATS, and the WCAC!

NAVY CORPS: Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts is the man behind the bill to create a naval auxiliary. The corps will probably have the initials WANR and will differ from the WAAC in that the women will serve in the navy rather than with it. The WAAC, you know, is not part of the army.

BOTTLED STOCKINGS: You will be glad to know that you really can buy liquid "stockings." Comparatively new, they were developed by a nurse. She knew that the liquid used would have to be pure and something that wouldn't irritate a sensitive skin.

V-Letter Forms Now Available At At Local Postoffice

Printed "V-Letter" forms are now available at the Clinton postoffice to parents, relatives and friends of boys in the armed services. They may be obtained free of charge from windows selling stamps with each person limited to three of the forms a day.

"V-Letter" service is available to provide the most expeditious dispatch and reduce the weight of mail to and from the personnel of United States armed forces outside continental United States.

When addressed to points where micro-film equipment is in operation, a miniature photographic negative of the message will be made and sent by the most expeditious form of transportation available for reproduction and delivery.

Messages addressed to or from points where micro-film equipment is not in operation will be transmitted in their original form by the best means available.

The printed form has a space for writing a message of average length, for the address, the censor's stamps and instructions. It is to be folded so that no envelope will be necessary.

Instructions on the form are: Write the entire message on the other side below the double line. Write plainly.

Address exactly as you would an ordinary letter, printing the address in the two panels provided.

Fold according to instructions, seal and drop in any postoffice letter drop or street letter box.

If it is desired to send more than one sheet a separate form must be completed. Enclosures must not be placed in this envelope.

The original will be destroyed after the corresponding form has been delivered at the destination.

Typewriter, dark ink or pencil, written plainly, can be used.

Decision Reached To Hold S. C. Fair

Columbia, July 25.—Secretary Paul V. Moore of the State (South Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical Society) Fair said today the decision of the society to hold the annual fair this fall had been reached with "consideration being given all the factors entering into the problem... of the nation's supreme war effort."

"Should the officers and directors feel that such a decision could be interpreted as indicating a lack of patriotic devotion, in a time of national stress," Moore said, "that could be easily avoided by a (later) decision not to carry on, and thus take no risk of misunderstanding."

"But with the whole picture before us, brought into focus by Mr. (National Defense Transportation Director) Eastman's suggestion that fairs be abandoned for the duration, we have come to the unanimous conclusion that the State Fair will serve, rather than hinder, the war effort in its (the fair's) background of morale, agricultural production and wholesome entertainment."

MASONS TO MEET THURSDAY

A called meeting of Campbell Lodge No. 44, A. F. M., will be held Thursday (tonight) at 8 o'clock. F.C. degree will be conferred. All members are urged to be present.
