

HIGHWAY BODY MOVES TO END CAR INSPECTION

The state highway commission at its regular September meeting decided to recommend suspension of the motor vehicle inspection law to the 1943 general assembly.

The resolution, as passed by the commission, is as follows:

"Whereas on account of gasoline and tire rationing it has been necessary for the motor vehicle owners to reduce their travel to the minimum, and

"Whereas, the travel generally on the highways of the state is at a slower rate of speed and the total travel is less, making it less likely that accidents will occur, therefore

"Be it resolved that the chief highway commissioner be authorized to recommend to the legislature at its next regular session the passage of a joint resolution authorizing and directing the state highway department to suspend the inspection of motor vehicles for the duration of the war."
