Miss Duckett Entertains Friends Monday Evening

Miss Nellie Ruth Duckett entertained on Monday evening with a Christmas party, honoring the employees of Rose's store. The home was beautifully decorated with the season's colors, and a lighted tree completed the scene. Fruits, hot chocolate and cookies were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Neely Honor Col. and Mrs. Cummings

Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle Neely delightfully entertained on Saturday evening honoring Lt. Col. A. H. Cummings of Camp Roberts, Calif., who was home on leave, and Mrs. Cummings.

The home was beautifully decorated in the Christmas motif and a lighted tree added to the attractiveness of the scene. A buffet supper was served to a number of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson Entertain Employees

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ferguson entertained employees of the Industrial Supply company, their wives and husbands with their annual Christmas banquet on Monday evening at the Clinton Tea room.

The banquet table was handsomely appointed and decorated with candles, evergreens and bright berries. Attractive place-card favors with miniature candles completed the arrangement. A three-course turkey dinner was served.

Oak Grove Club Holds Meeting

The Oak Grove Home Demonstration club met at the schoolhouse on Friday afternoon. An interesting program of Christmas carols and recitations was given by the pupils, under the direction of the teachers, followed by a visit from Santa Claus, who distributed gifts to the children from a lovely Christmas tree.

After the program, the club held a short meeting. Members voted to buy a health bond. Gifts were exchanged.

Officers for the coming year are: president, Mrs. Will Bell; vice-president, Mrs. W. F. Irwin; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Rush Nabors; alternate, Mrs. George Penland; local leaders, Mrs. J. G. Roy and Miss Lidle Sloan; alternates, Mrs. David Blakely and Mrs. Bryan Goodwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Chaney Entertain Employees

Mrs. W. M. Chaney, proprietor of Chaney's Dress shop, and Mr. Chaney entertained with a dinner party, honoring the employees and their guests of the stores here and in Laurens, on last Wednesday evening at the Masonic Temple building.

The banquet table was attractively decorated with place cards and evergreens. Red carnations marked the places of the ladies and white bouquets for the men. A delicious four-course turkey dinner was served.

Mrs. Baker's Pupils Give Christmas Program

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Kenneth Baker presented her piano pupils in a Christmas recital.

For the occasion the Baker home was beautifully adorned with seasonal decorations. Particularly arresting was the mantel banked in bright-berried holly with groups of red bells cascading from it. A decorated tree held gifts for each pupil.

Little Kenneth Baker, Jr., met the guests at the door and gave them programs.

The following program was presented by the pupils:

Duet, "The Star-Spangled Banner," John Stafford Smith (arranged by Chester Wallis)—Joan Anderson and Cornelia Harris.

"Waltz," N. Louis Wright; "Leap Frog," Streabbog—Barbara Anderson.

"Nocturne Opus 10 No. 2," Chopin; "Sonatina Opus 35 No. 1," Clementi—Cornelia Harris.

"The Swiss Music Box," Lucile Burton—Norma Anderson.

"A Gold Fish Swims In My Lily Pool," Irene Rogers; "Melody in F" (arranged by Emerson), Rubinstein—Joan Anderson.

"Ta A Wild Rose," Edward MacDowell; "Chanson," Rudolf Friml—Myra Adair.

To conclude the recital, Norma Anderson played "Silent Night" and "Joy To the World" in which everyone joined in singing.

The guests were invited into the dining room for refreshments. Tall red candles in crystal candelabra burned at either end of the prettily-appointed table and a myriad of glistening red and gold balls cascaded from the chandelier. A delicious sweet course was served.

Little-Foy Rites In Columbia

Of interest to friends here, in Goldville and elsewhere, is the marriage of Mrs. Edna Riddle Little of Columbia, and Groover N. Foy of Goldville, which took place last Saturday afternoon in Columbia. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. C. Campbell, D.D., pastor of the First Baptist church, at the home of Mrs. G. Hertford Parks.

Immediately after the ceremony, an informal reception was given for the wedding guests.

The bride has made her home in Columbia for a number of years.

Mr. Foy, a native of Saluda county, has been superintendent of the Joanna schools at Goldville for the past 14 years.

Rose Employees Given Christmas Banquet

Employees of Rose's store were entertained with a banquet given by the company on Friday evening at Hotel Clinton.

Small tables, prettily centered with Christmas trees, were arranged for fifty-four, including employees and their guests. A three-course turkey dinner was served.

L. W. Rawl, manager, acted as toastmaster, and music was furnished during the evening by Joe Shay. Entertainment for the evening featured a puppet show by Richard Allen, a humorous skit, "Bloody War," by Rev. Hubert Wardlaw, the singing of carols and "America," amusing stories and jokes told by Mrs. Wardlaw.

Capt. E. E. Blakely Weds Miss Powell

Of interest to friends and relatives here of the groom is the following announcement:

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Bert Powell announce the marriage of their daughter, Ellen Irene, to Captain Elbert Erskine Blakely, United States army, on Saturday, the fourteenth of November, one thousand nine hundred and forty-two, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Captain Blakely is the son of Mrs. L. D. Blakely and the late Mr. Blakely of near here, and has resided in Washington for a number of years where he holds a position in the war department, quartermaster construction division. Captain and Mrs. Blakely are residing at 2511 Q street, Northwest, Washington, D. C.

Miss Finney Bride Of Nathan Brazel

Miss Frances Modene Finney, daughter of Mrs. Jesse Lee Finney, and William Nathan Brazel were married in a beautiful ceremony marked with simplicity, Saturday evening, December 12, at five o'clock at the Baptist church at Goldville. Rev. James Mitchell read the impressive ceremony.

The altar was attractive with pedestal baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli arranged against a background of fern. Cathedral candles in seven branch candelabra cast a soft glow over the wedding party.

A delightful musical program was rendered before the ceremony. Piano solo, "Serenade," Shubert, Mrs. E. G. Kay; violin solo, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," Miss Constance Sullivan; solo, "Because," D'Hardelot, Mr. Ervin Stroud; violin solo, "The Rosary," Nevin, Miss Sullivan; solo, "I Love You Truly," Carrie Jacobs Bond, Mr. Stroud.

The Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" was used for the processional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the recessional. During the ceremony "Libesträum" was played softly.

The usher groomsmen were Messrs. J. T. Carter, Otis Murphy, Rolfe Clark and Milard Murphy.

The bride entered on the arm of her half-brother, R. C. Lunsford, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Clifford Brazel, a brother of the groom.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white satin and lace with a full skirt and train. Her finger tip veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls. Her only ornament was a string of pearls. She carried a white satin covered Bible with orchids.

The maid of honor, Miss Sara Osborne, wore a gown of white taffeta; the matrons of honor, Mmes. Sudie Mae Hawkins and Lester Sweatt, were in pink taffeta gowns; the bridesmaids, Misses Agnes Tinsley, and Sabry Smith, were in blue taffeta. They carried shower bouquets.

Little Dot Carr was a picture in a floor length taffeta and lace gown.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held for the wedding guests at Joanna club. The bride's mother, Mrs. Finney, who wore black crepe with a corsage of red rosebuds, the bride and groom, and the bridal party received the guests before a background of feathery green and white chrysanthemums and gladioli.

Punch and green and white cakes were served in the library by Mmes. W. A. Moorhead, Edd Osborne, Roy O'Dell, and Robbie Francis. Mrs. James Mitchell had charge of the bride's book in which the guests signed their names.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Brazel left by motor for their wedding trip. For traveling Mrs. Brazel wore a gown of blossom blue with fuchsia trimmings and black accessories.

Her corsage was of Cattelya. Mr. and Mrs. Brazel have returned from their wedding trip and for the present are occupying the Dr. M. J. McFadden residence.

Training Course For Handicapped Men

James McClary, district supervisor of the Vocational Rehabilitation program, was in Clinton yesterday and states that his department is sending a number of physically handicapped men and women for aircraft training and work at White Haven, Tenn.

In order to be accepted it is necessary to have at least a sixth grade education and pass a simple mechanical learner's test. Persons subject to the draft will not be accepted. Persons with minor physical defects will be considered if draft exempt. Age limits are for men 18 to 55 and women 18 to 45.

All phases of aircraft training are taught, affording an excellent opportunity for all trainees. Any person accepted for training will be paid $90.00 per month, will be furnished transportation to the school, and will receive expense money for the first month of school. Those who have had six months experience in some type of mechanics will be paid up to $125.00 per month from the day they are accepted for training. After completing training, they will be sent to work in the Mobile Depot or one of the sub-depots in the Southern area.

Persons on a defense job, or any other essential job, should not apply for this training Mr. McClary stated. Men in class 4-F because of physical handicaps may be accepted. The types of disabilities which may be accepted are:

Leg disabilities if able to walk without a cane.

Ear disabilities if capable of instruction.

Eye disabilities.

Dwarfs.

TB cases if arrested for one year.

Cardiac cases if able to work 8 hours a day.

Anyone interested may apply to Mr. McClary through the local U. S. Employment office.
