

AROUND THE TOWN

Incidents, Unusual and Ordinary, Gathered On Our Rounds.

JOE EDWARD SHAW, son of Mrs. H. W. Steer, West Main street, is one of the midshipmen in the Naval R. O. T. C. unit from the University of South Carolina visiting naval establishments at Charleston this week.

While in Charleston the midshipmen are visiting the Sixth Naval District Headquarters, the Charleston Navy Yard, and the Inshore Patrol Section Base. They are also going aboard various warships in port and taking a two day cruise. The program provides, too, for their being shown educational films of naval activities. The students are being housed in the Naval barracks at the Navy yard.

Friends of PVT. ISAAC D. STONE, of this city, will be interested to know he has landed safely in North Africa. He is attached to a Coast Artillery anti-aircraft unit and before leaving for foreign service was stationed at Camp Stewart, Ga.

MISS THELMA HICKLIN and BETTY TAYLOR will represent the First Presbyterian church at the Young Peoples' Leadership Training School being held at Columbia College, Columbia, June 11-16, for the purpose of training the leaders of young peoples groups in the Synod of South Carolina.

Of interest to relatives and friends here will be the promotion of ROBERT M. VANCE to lieutenant, junior grade, in the United States Naval Reserve. Lt. (jg) Vance, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Vance, is a graduate of Davidson college and was commissioned an ensign in the Navy upon his completion of the midshipmen's course at Northwestern University, Chicago. He has served with both the Atlantic and Pacific fleet, being on duty at present on a heavy cruiser in the Pacific area.

GEORGE BROCKENBROUGH, Jr., of Kinard, on a recent visit with his mother to her niece, Miss Leola Burnett, in Sumter, was given a special treat, a real lesson in operating a Link trainer plane by one of the instructors at Shaw Field. He was delighted with the plane and conversed easily with his instructor through the telephonic communications system. George is a "regular fellow," interested in making model planes and in Scout work. At present he is studying to pass tenderfoot tests. He also has a small hand press and occasionally gets out a news sheet entitled "Kinard Bulletin."

The Chronicle has received an appreciated letter from CPL. RICHARD RUSSELL RAY, serving with a weather squadron of the air force, in which he states: "A letter from home and The Chronicle are tops with me."

We quote in part: "I have done quite a bit of traveling and have seen lots of interesting things since I last saw the Statue of Liberty, but there is nothing yet that will compare with the dear old U.S.A. I have been from one end of the British Isles to the other and have been in Africa now for some time but, unfortunately, have not met a single boy from the old home town."

"The first time going to the city after getting to Africa a pal of mine and I were walking up the street talking about how different things are here than back in the states. We saw to women covered with robes from head to feet. When they passed us one of them said in perfect English, 'Hello, boys, what do you say?' It was such a surprise we crossed the street and walked the other way."

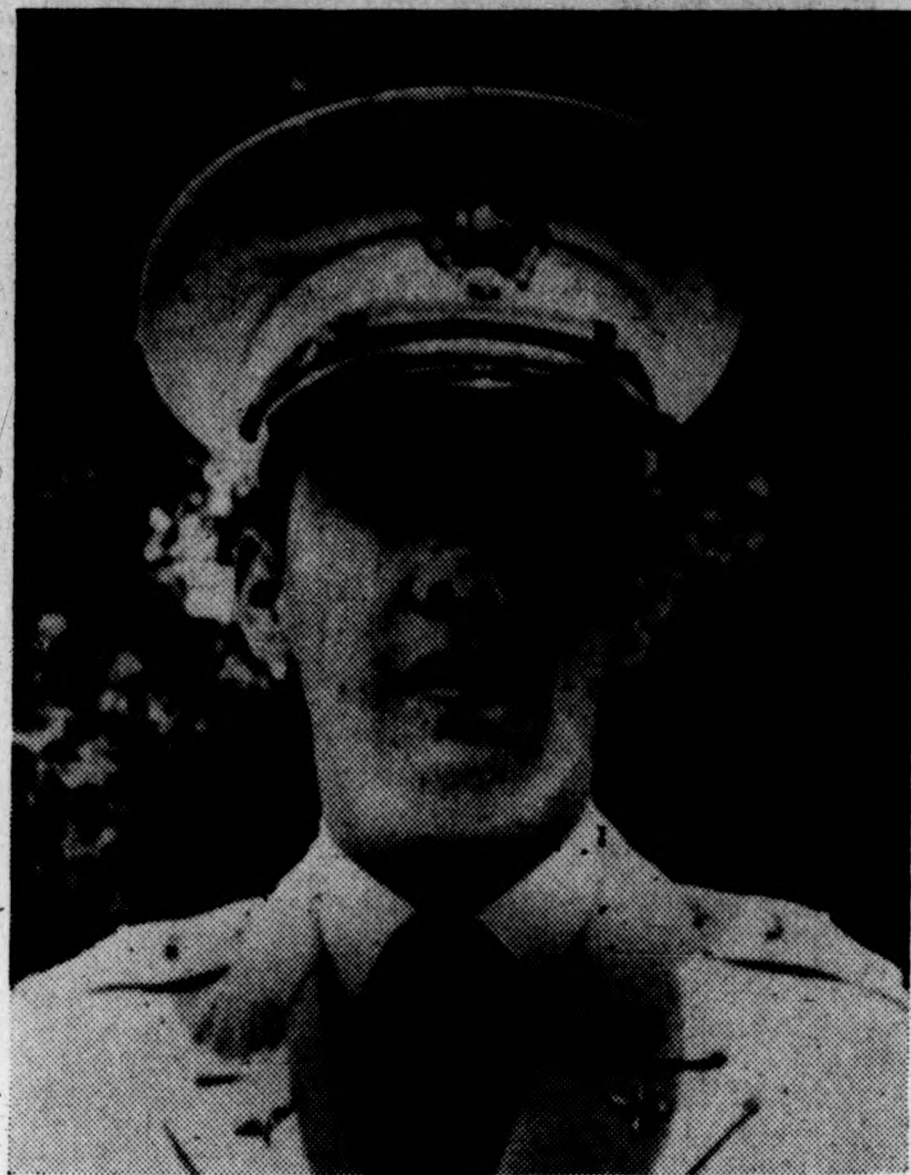

"A few days ago one of the sergeants and I rode down to the creek to wash the jeep. We were surrounded in mid-stream by a dozen or more little Arab boys. We couldn't understand a word they said but gathered they wanted to do the job for us. After a short while we left with the jeep washed and minus five francs apiece, a few cigarettes, matches and bonbons."

"I can't say where I am, what I'm doing, or how long I'll be here, but I will say I have never felt better or ate more in my life; but after it's all over I'm ready to come back to that weather-beaten house on Sloan street. You people over there 'keep 'em flying' and we (the weather squadron) will tell them when to fly 'em."

"Respectfully,
"KELLY RAY."

Welcome news came to the M. J. McFadden home in Goldville Saturday. A letter from their son, CAPT. D. H. McFADDEN, army medical corps, saying he had landed safely in Africa after an uneventful ocean

MEMBER OF CADETS' STAFF AT COLLEGE

Lieut. Barnes was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., and his family moved from there to Chicago and St. Louis, where the young man attended high school and Washington university in St. Louis. He also studied at the University of Havana and spent considerable time traveling in France.

Lieut. Barnes, who is supply officer for the detachment, was a member of the R.O.T.C. in college. On April 13 of last year, he was called to active duty and transferred from the Infantry Reserve to the Air Corps. After preliminary training at Maxwell field, he went to Dorr field in Arcadia, Fla., where he was intelligence officer and assistant commandant of cadets. In June he was transferred to Janesville, Wis., where he aided in the formation of the 16th AAF GTD. Leaving the 16th he went to Craig field in Selma, Ala., where he held several posts. From Craig field he came here in March when the 39th detachment unit was established and has made made friends at the college and in the city.

granddaughter of Mrs. B. M. Dutton, Sr., of this city. Her mother is the former Miss Marie Simpson. "Sis" probably inherited her love of horses from her grandmother, who was known for her affection for horses and riding ability in her younger years.

CADET 'E' GROUP GOES TO NASHVILLE

Eighty graduates of the 39th College Training detachment at Presbyterian college left Sunday at noon for Nashville, Tenn., to further pursue their training as cadet candidates in the air corps.

Graduation exercises were held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 before an audience of relatives and friends of the city. A speech was delivered by a flying officer from Hawthorne Flying field, Orangeburg. The exercises ended with the remaining men of the detachment passing in review before the flying quintile. Captain. Carl M. Turner, commanding officer, was in charge, and introduced the speaker.

In the evening the grand finale of the graduation events occurred with music, dancing and entertainment at the Clinton armory.

An interesting program was presented through the efforts of Cadet Candidate Fletcher, chairman of the entertainment committee. Cadet Candidate Andes, director of the glee club, served as master of ceremonies. "Beaver" McElroy started the entertainment by playing several piano solos. A monologue on the "discourse of the fourth dimension" was enacted by Cadet Candidate Parker. Cadet Candidate Segner rendered two tenor solos, "Just As Though You Were Here" and "Everything Happens To Me." A bracing skit featuring "Beavers" Jordan and Lebrock was given in preparation for "Black Friday." A jam session was held featuring three talented musicians: Cadet Candidates Wetling, drums; Behler, trumpet; and McElroy, piano. The trio gave out with "Stardust," "Dinah," "Honeysuckle Rose" and "Freneisi." The entertainment ended with the glee club singing several popular songs.

Tennis Tournaments Open In City

The Southern boys and junior tennis tournaments of the Southern Lawn Tennis association opened yesterday at Presbyterian college under the direction of E. J. Harbett, professional at the Bath club Miami Beach, Fla., and John Steven of Augusta.

The defending champion in the junior division is Jack Tuero of New Orleans, La. Last year's boys champion, Wade Herren, of Birmingham, Ala., is playing in the junior division. Those directing the tournament said yesterday that a field of about 60 is expected.

Mobile Unit Here Friday, Saturday

Many vacancies now exist for men 17 to 50 years in the army, and for women 21 to 44 in the Women's Army Auxiliary corps, according to Capt. Martin V. Brinley, Jr., of the state mobile recruiting unit. For the convenience and information of those who are interested in either of the above branches the mobile unit will be stationed at the courthouse in Laurens and at the Clinton post office Friday and Saturday, June 11 and 12.

KWANIS CLUB TO HONOR DR. LYNN

The regular meeting of the Kiwanis club will be held this evening at 7:30 at Hotel Clinton, with President F. M. Boland presiding.

Taking cognizance some time ago of the resignation of Dr. L. R. Lynn as president of Thornwell orphanage effective next month, this evening's program has been arranged in his honor. Mrs. Lynn and other members of the family will be guests of the club.

The address for the occasion will be delivered by Dr. A. E. Spencer, beloved member of the club, and an intimate friend of Dr. Lynn for a number of years. Dr. Lynn is a member of the club and this evening's special meeting is in the nature of a "farewell" for him. All members of the club are urged to be present by the committee in charge.

Small Number Of Draftees Selected

Of the 62 white draftees sent to Columbia last week by the local draft board for army induction, it is reported that only about 20 of the group passed the physical examinations and were accepted. Those who were accepted will return to Fort Jackson this week for induction.

At the recent graduating exercises at Erskine college, MISS REBECCA SIMPSON of Whitmire, was presented the Mattie Boyce medal in religion given each year to the senior outstanding in religious work. Miss Simpson was graduated in February and has accepted a position in Charleston. She is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bobo and Mrs. G. W. Cunningham of Clinton.

MAJOR LAWRENCE BUSBIN, a former resident of Clinton, has recently been promoted to his present rank in the army. He is stationed in Washington, serving as liaison officer between the A. S. F. under General Somervell and the agencies of the War Production board. Major Busbin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Busbin and brother of the former Mrs. Colie B. Adair of this city.

The other day a colored man was trying to borrow money on a war bond. He was told he could cash it in if he wished and, although he didn't exactly understand how government finances are run he had the right idea, for he replied, "No, sir, when I bought this bond they told me I was giving a soldier a gun, and I shore don't want to turn around and take it away from him now."

MISS ANN MARIE (Sis) RAMSEUR the toast of Greenville's younger riding set, captured individual high place honors in the 10th annual Greenville Horse show in Cleveland Park Saturday. Miss Ramseur, riding her horse, "Sweet Dixie," was awarded three first places. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Ramseur, Sr., of Greenville, and
