Christian Endeavor Group Has Party

On last Tuesday evening the Pioneer group of the First Presbyterian church Christian Endeavor, enjoyed a party in the recreational rooms of the church.

Miss Thelma Hicklin led a number of games and contests including outdoor entertainment. Later in the evening punch and cookies were served to about twenty-five guests.

Informal Party Friday Honors Reese Young

Mrs. Ansel B. Godfrey entertained informally Friday evening honoring Reese Young who left Monday for army service. He was inducted at Fort Jackson and has been assigned to a tank corps at Fort Knox, Ky.

Covers were laid for nine guests, friends of the honoree and a delightful supper was served. Lovely arrangements of mixed garden flowers were used in the dining and living rooms of the home for the occasion.

Younger Group Enjoys Picnic At Cabin

On Tuesday evening a group of the younger set enjoyed a picnic at the Copeland cabin on the George A. Copeland place near here.

A delightful picnic supper was served to twelve, after which the young folk attended a local movie.

Scout Troop To Have Overnight Camping Trip

Members of the local Boy Scout Troop 111, are planning an overnight camping trip this evening to Yarrowburg's Mill. The boys will bicycle to the camping site where tents and provisions for two meals will be carried.

About fifteen Scouts are expected to go on the outing chaperoned by Scoutmaster Hugh Eargle.

Presbyterian Business Girls Circle Meets

The business girls' circle of the First Presbyterian church held their June meeting at the church on Monday evening with twenty-two members attending.

Mrs. Grady H. Chandler, chairman, presided. The devotion was given by Miss Elsie Johnson, followed by the Bible study from 1 Kings, by Mrs. A. M. Copeland.

During a social hour the hostesses, Mrs. J. Hamp Stone, Mrs. R. E. Jones, and Mrs. Copeland, served refreshments.

Miss Rainwater To Wed Dr. John Stewart

Of cordial interest to friends here and in Goldville, is the approaching marriage of Miss Annie Marguerite Rainwater and Dr. John Stewart, which will take place Saturday at the First Baptist church in Florence.

Miss Rainwater was head of the music department of the Joanna school at Goldville the past year. Mrs. W. A. Moorhead and daughter, Miss Annette Moorhead, will attend the rites, being week-end guests of friends in Florence. Miss Moorhead, violinist, will play at the wedding reception.

Sara Glenn Circle Meets With Mrs. Milam

Mrs. W. C. Milam, Mrs. J. G. Pitts and Miss Allene Copeland were hostesses on Monday evening at the home of the former to members of the Sara Glenn circle of Broad Street Methodist church.

Bouquets of summer flowers were attractively used in the living and dining rooms where guests were received.

Mrs. Clyde S. Lankford, chairman, presided, and Mrs. B. B. Ballard, presented a program on the rural work that is being promoted by the Home Department of the Woman's Division of Christian Service. Four projects typical of the work were discussed by Mrs. J. B. Wolder, Mrs. S. D. Dawkins, Miss Madeline Adair and Mrs. J. B. Arnold. Mrs. J. H. Kohler gave an interesting Bible study on Michael, first wife of David. The program was concluded with prayer by Mrs. Lankford.

During a social hour the hostesses served ice cream and cake.

Miss Martha Mae Monroe Weds Lt. W. C. Littlefield

Miss Martha Mae Monroe of Johnsonville formerly of this city, and Lt. Warren Candler Littlefield of Folkston and Camp Wheeler, Ga., were married here Saturday afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. Ross Lynn.

Dr. Lynn officiated using the ring ceremony in the presence of close friends and relatives attending the rites.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Luva McDonald, pianist, and B. S. Pinson, vocalist, who sang, "Because." The traditional wedding marches were used.

An improvised altar, formed before the living room mantel, using baskets of white gladioli and candelabra, made a lovely setting for the ceremony. The candles were lighted by Misses Evelyn Hamilton and Jean Graham. The bride and groom entered together unattended.

The bride was becomingly attired in an ensemble of cream colored crepe and off the face hat. Her flowers were a corsage of pink roses.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was given. A beautifully decorated two-tiered wedding cake containing the emblems centered the dining table above which was suspended from the chandelier a shower of flowers. Elsewhere in the living and dining rooms arrangements of mixed flowers and baskets of hydrangeas were used.

Misses Hamilton and Graham assisted in serving punch and cake.

During the afternoon Lt. and Mrs. Littlefield left for a wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Macon, Ga.

The bride is a graduate of Thornwell high school and Winthrop college. She has been teaching home economics in the Johnsonville high school.

Lt. Littlefield, a native of Folkston, Ga., is stationed at Camp Wheeler, Ga.

Out-of-town relatives here for the wedding were the bride's mother, Mrs. Martha Reid Monroe, her brothers, Earl Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Monroe, of Monroe, N. C., and sister, Miss Gladys Monroe, of Charlotte, N. C.

Miss Dorothy Morton, Walter D. Beeman Wed In Quiet Ceremony

At six o'clock on Wednesday evening, June 9th, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. Ross Lynn, Miss Dorothy Ophelia Morton became the bride of Walter Devere Beeman of this city, with Dr. Lynn officiating.

The vows were spoken in the living room before an altar formed of white floor baskets holding pastel gladioli and fern, and tall candelabra with white tapers which were lighted by Misses Ruby and Jean Morton, younger sisters of the bride. Miss Chloe McClure attended the bride as maid of honor and the groom had as his best man Robert D. Lynn.

A program of wedding music was furnished by Miss Luva McDonald, pianist, and Miss Effie McCown, vocalist, who sang "I Love Thee, Dear" by Grieg.

The bride was attired in blue with white accessories and wore a corsage of pink rose buds and gypsophila.

Immediately after the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Lynn entertained with an informal reception in honor of the bridal couple and the wedding guests. A color scheme of green and white was carried out in the dining room where Miss Betty Jean Idol served punch and cookies from a beautifully appointed table.

During the evening the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home on the Thornwell campus.

Mrs. Beeman is a graduate of Thornwell high school and attended Presbyterian college. Recently she has held a clerical position in Portsmouth, Va.

Mr. Beeman is a graduate of Thornwell high school and Presbyterian college and for the past several years has been in charge of the poultry department at the orphanage.

CREED FOR CIVILIANS TO HELP WIN THE WAR

1. I can be outspoken in my loyalty to the United States of America.
2. I can practice "the courage of the commonplace."
3. I can be serene in my office and home, thus spreading calmness and confidence.
4. I can laugh heartily at least once each day.
5. I can offer a silent prayer each day for personal strength and divine guidance.
6. I can oppose rumors and destructive criticism of our war effort wherever I hear them.
7. I can report disloyal statements and subversive acts to the proper authorities.
8. I can purchase government war securities.
9. I can contribute liberally to the Red Cross and other relief agencies.
10. I can have faith that "right makes might."

In other words, I can be a decent American citizen.

AROUND THE TOWN

Incidents, Unusual and Ordinary, Gathered On Our Rounds.

Friends of MISS EMILY MARTIN will be interested to know she left this week for Baltimore, Md., where she has accepted a chemical position with a commercial firm. Miss Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Martin, graduated at Presbyterian college two weeks ago.

PFC. DARRELL FRANKS, son of Mrs. J. M. Adair, has landed safely in the North African area with a parachute infantry unit. Darrell writes, "I'm still waiting for that letter from home which hasn't arrived yet. Probably some day my mail will catch up with me. Please send me some coca-colas and The Chronicle." His friends and relatives here will be glad to learn of his safe arrival.

PVT. OLIN H. SHEELY, JR., of this city, who was recently inducted into army service at Fort Jackson, has been assigned to a special service unit of motion picture operators for training at Fort George S. Meade, Md. Before entering service Mr. Sheely was connected with the local theatres. The area where he is stationed at Fort Meade, he writes, is headquarters for army entertainment groups and he has met many interesting people, musicians and other public performers.

L. E. BISHOP, chairman of the committee for the service men's center, last week received the following letter with a check for $100 from a gentleman who was here recently to visit his cadet son in training, and attended the opening of the recreational center uptown for the young men:

"Perhaps you will recall that on last Saturday Mrs. — and I had the pleasure of a short chat with you in your drug store. I regret that in the heat and hurry I failed to get your name. I was, however, very much impressed with the fine job you and the committee have done for the boys and I hope the enclosed check will be found acceptable and helpful in furthering your splendid work.

Yours very truly,

New York City.
June 7, 1943.

In addition to this, Dr. Bishop also received a check for $25 from a local patriot.

Friends of MASTER SERGEANT JAMES K. HATTON, JR., will be interested to know he has arrived in England. Sgt. Hatton is attached to a bombardment group of the army air force and has received training in Washington, Texas, Colorado, and was stationed at the army air base, Presque Isle, Maine, before leaving for foreign service. While flying over Maine he dropped a note asking the finder to please mail it to his mother, giving her Clinton address. The other day she received the note, which had been found by a farmer near Ontario, Canada. The note, wet when found, was dried and mailed immediately to her, asking that if she received it to please write and let him know that it had reached its destination.

BOTHWELL GRAHAM, M. D., has been promoted to the rank of full lieutenant in the medical corps, U. S. Naval Reserve. Lt. Graham, who left Parris Island last July, is on duty at a marine station hospital on an island in the Pacific. He writes that it is very beautiful and occasionally they have a picnic and the natives put on a show for the event. Of all the publications to which he subscribes the only ones that reach him, he writes, are The New York Times and The Chronicle. Lt. Graham's friends and relatives will note with pleasure his promotion.

ENSIGN ERNEST C. HIPPI is spending several weeks here following his graduation at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., before reporting to Jacksonville, Fla., for active duty. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Hipp, and sister, Miss Margaret Hipp, attended the graduating exercises.

OLIN C. JOHNSON, of this city, who has recently completed a government radio course in Atlanta, was chosen to receive a course in radar at Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Johnson was among those selected for the special training who made the highest averages in the group. Mrs. Johnson is visiting relatives and friends here for a few days before joining her husband in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Norwood C. Harrison have as their guest for several weeks Mrs. Harrison's cousin, MISS RACHEL SOLTAU, an interesting and attractive visitor. Miss Soltau's parents, although English, were born in France, and her birthplace was London. Her father, Roger Henry Soltau, is professor of economics at the American University, Beirut, Syria. She received her education in France and England and attended the Institute of Child Psychology, University of Geneva, Switzerland.

The spring before war was declared she joined her parents in Syria and attended the University at Beirut, where she received a B.A. degree in education.

Syria is governed by the French mandate and was under Vichy control after France fell, so Miss Soltau, along with her parents and other residents, then went to Palestine. Her parents returned to Syria after the Free French and British took control, but she left Palestine in June, 1941, with American friends coming to the States. From Egypt they journeyed through the Red Sea on a British transport to South Africa and after several days stay there crossed the South Atlantic and landed at Curacao, an island off the coast of South America. The travel agency through which she and her friends obtained travelers checks had no office in Curacao, so after cabling and waiting for money from New York they sailed on an American ship, arriving in New York in August, 1941.

Both Miss Soltau and Mrs. Harrison speak equally well in English and French and the former also speaks German and Arabic.

At present Miss Soltau is a member of the faculty of the Media Friends school, Media, Pa.

Mrs. Harrison's father and Miss Soltau's mother are brother and sister and many of their childhood vacations were spent together in England, France and Syria. Many of the Soltaus' friends at the university in Beirut were Presbyterian missionaries, she states.

Mrs. Harrison's life also has been filled with interesting and unusual events. Born Monique Whelpton, in Paris, France, her mother being French and her father English, she was educated in Paris and came to Furman university, Greenville, in October, 1939, on an exchange scholarship where she graduated in 1941. She received an assistantship in French at Duke and was studying for a master's degree at the time of her marriage to Mr. Harrison, a native of Calhoun Falls, who is managing editor of the Beta Club Journal and also connected with Jacobs Press.

Her father, who was a Methodist minister near Paris, was interned at the fall of France by the Germans, as were all British citizens. Her mother and other French relatives are in Paris and she has had no word of them for some time, receiving only a few letters directly after the German occupation.

"Maybe you need VITAMINS!"

That's a safe conclusion; of course. We all need vitamins. Life can't be maintained without them. But if you have recently undergone unusual stress or strain, you may require more of certain vitamins than the normal diet supplies. Go and talk with your Doctor. He will be able to detect the specific vitamin deficiency, and to prescribe accordingly. Then, remember, this pharmacy features only dependable vitamins:
