Two School Rooms Damaged By Fire

Fire Saturday night about 10:30, damaged the library and home economics rooms at the Clinton high school building. The firemen answered the call and soon had the flames under control without damage to other parts of the building.

It is thought that the fire was caused from the electrical storm earlier in the evening, since it started in the room furnished with electric stoves and other equipment.

Notes From The County Agent's Office

By C. B. CANNON, County Agent

Acid Phosphate and Limestone Profitable On Barley

J. Warren Tinsley, of the Trinity Ridge community, conducted a demonstration with barley in which he used 150 pounds of 4-8-6 fertilizer and manure at the rate of eight tons per acre at planting time. He top-dressed with 100 pounds of 0-10-10 and 50 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre. The yield was 28.3 bushels of Ownless barley per acre.

He planted a portion of the field to the same variety of barley, using the same fertilizer treatment, but no manure. He also used 400 pounds of superphosphate and one ton of agricultural limestone per acre. The yield was 31.9 bushels, an increase of 3.6 bushels per acre in favor of superphosphate and limestone.

On another portion of the field the same fertilizer treatment at planting time and top-dressing as described when the manure was used, plus 600 pounds of complete fertilizer as top-dressing. The yield was 28 bushels per acre.

The cold weather damaged the barley considerably.

Mrs. W. H. Pitts, Hickory Tavern community, states she thrashed 82 bushels of barley from two acres.

Poisoning Weevil Effective

Results obtained from poisoning bill weevil last week are encouraging. The records show on June 16 an average of 114 weevils per acre following the use of 1-1-1 sweet poison as compared with an average of 282 weevils per acre before poisoning.

began. Some of the farmers showed no weevils after two applications of sweet poison, although an infestation of 423 weevils per acre checked before any poison was used. Unless poison is applied at once, cotton will be so large and infestation of squares will make the sweet poison unprofitable.

Fourth Car Wheat Ordered

The fourth car of government feed wheat was ordered last week to be used in feeding livestock. The three cars received so far contained 4,667 bushels.

Notice was received the latter part of last week from officials stating an additional fifty million bushels of feed wheat had been authorized for sale. Farmers wishing to buy this wheat should pool their orders at once as the closing date is likely to be called at any time. The price of wheat is $1.09 per bushel, delivered in minimum cars of 1500 bushels.

Poultry Short Course

A poultry short course will be held at Clemson August 3, 4, 5. The course will be held mainly for training agents to qualify for pullorum-testing and selecting, but some of the subjects to be discussed will be of interest to general flock owners.

Green Feed for Poultry

Green ranges have been found to be high in nutritive value and to be excellent sources of protein, minerals, vitamins A, B, E, and G, and undoubtedly other unknown factors, since the addition of tender green foliage often improves rations that are apparently adequate.

Cowpeas, soybeans, and sudan grass are the best crops suitable for summer and fall grazing. One acre of either of these crops should be provided for each three to five hundred hens. A good grazing crop will save 10 per cent or more of the feed bill, help to control such vices as picking, and is a good sanitation measure.

Green feed is more important now than ever before, since all poultry feeds contain a much lower percentage of animal protein and a high percentage of plant protein than in former years.

If an abundance of green feed and sunshine is supplied, almost any kind of feed can be used with reasonable success.
