Coca-Cola Bottlers Begin New Series Of Advertising

Bottlers of Coca-Cola are using 1612 newspapers in 1379 cities for a new advertising campaign launched the past week. The Chronicle is included for this campaign by the Greenwood Coca-Cola Bottling company, distributors of the popular drink in Clinton.

H. S. Pyatt, manager of the Greenwood firm, emphasized the universal coverage that is provided by newspapers and stated that more than 900 Coca-Cola bottling plans throughout the country are represented in this nation-wide use of this medium of advertising.

"The part played by Coca-Cola in the daily life of American soldiers and sailors around the world and the fact that 'Coke' is the recognized abbreviation only for Coca-Cola, form the theme of this new program," said Mr. Pyatt. "Our armed forces have found Coca-Cola being bottled at many points throughout the Allied nations. They look upon 'Coke' as one of those little things that remind them of home."

In pointing out that the new advertising features "Coke," the friendly abbreviation of Coca-Cola, Mr. Pyatt recalled the famous decision written by the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, of the United States Supreme Court, to the effect that "Coke" means Coca-Cola.

Following the introduction of the campaign in the nation's press, the theme will be featured in magazines, radio script, posters and other media.

Have a Coca-Cola = Saludos, Amiga

(GREETINGS, FRIEND)

... from Minnesota to Mexico

Down Mexico way you'll hear a new kind of saludo. It's Have a "Coke". It means "Howdy, neighbor" from Terre Haute to Tampico. All over the globe Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become the symbol of welcome between friendly-minded folks.
