STIMSON FINDS WILL TO WIN AMONG U.S. TROOPS

Washington, Aug. 3.—Secretary of War Stimson, back from a three weeks tour which took him to Iceland, Great Britain and North Africa, reported today a "sober, determined will-to-win" among American troops he visited.

"I have just returned from an aerial trip to our military establishments in Iceland, Britain and North Africa," Stimson said in a statement on his return by plane.

"I have had talks with Lieut. Gen. Jacob Devers, commander of the European theater of operations, and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander in chief in North Africa.

"I have seen our men in training and ready for action and others who have been in action. They are well equipped, well trained men. There are no finer soldiers.

"Everywhere there was demonstrated a sober, determined will-to-win, fortified by our successful operations in Sicily and Tunisia, and in the air over Germany and occupied Europe."

Real Invasion To Be From Britain, Says Davis

Allied Headquarters, North Africa, August 2.—Elmer Davis, director of the U. S. Office of War Information, declared in a series of broadcasts to the peoples of occupied Europe tonight that the decisive invasion of the continent will be launched from England.

Speaking directly to the people of the German-controlled countries, Davis promised that the coming invasion would smash the fiction of German invulnerability on the continent.

At the same time, he called upon anti-Nazi elements in Germany itself to demonstrate their feelings by action now, warning that "mere words after they lose the war will not be enough."
