

DRAFTING FATHERS WILL START SOON

Fathers of this community with pre-World War children will not be called by the local selective service board before November, officials stated yesterday. It may be that heavy drafting of fathers will not begin until later. The October call for the 11th will not include any of this group, it is stated.

The number of 18-year-old youths registering on their birthdays is relatively small, it is stated, and will make very little difference in the general draft picture.

The position of fathers in this draft picture has long been obscure, the army saying fathers are needed and other factions saying drafting of fathers will not be necessary. Congressional debate on the subject continues.

The local board has completed inventories of all registrants which will be forwarded to national headquarters for compilation.

Another Scrap Metal Drive Now On In State

Columbia, Oct. 5.—Every man, woman and child in South Carolina will again be enlisted in an all-out scrap metal drive, now on and continuing through November 15.

Donald M. Nelson, in announcing the national drive, stated that present inventories in the steel mills are not adequate to insure full production throughout the winter months, and asked that the entire nation again respond by contributing every pound of dormant scrap metal.

Judge Harry M. Lightsey, chairman of the South Carolina State Salvage committee, in announcing South Carolina's part in the drive, stated: "All our salvage committee are asked to mobilize every school child, civic club, and fraternal organization within their counties into one big salvage army."

The state has been given a quota of 87,500 tons of scrap metal.

A series of meetings is being held in 17 cities throughout the state at which plans for the drive are being outlined. Captain Horace E. Crouch, army flier who took part in the historic bombing of Tokyo, will speak at these meetings. A showing will be made of the official navy sound film, "The Life and Death of the Hornet"—the carrier from which Captain Crouch, General Doolittle and other bombers took off for the Tokyo raid.

Mrs. Addie Taylor Dies Near Clinton

Mrs. Addie Langston Taylor, 63, wife of Joe B. Taylor, died at her home near Clinton after several years of declining health.

She was a native of Anderson county, but had lived in Laurens county for 20 years. She was a member of the Presbyterian church.

She is survived by her husband, two sons and one daughter, Harold Taylor of Clinton, Curtis Taylor, in the army overseas, and Miss Thelma Taylor, teacher in the public schools of McColl. Also a brother, Walter Langston, of Starr.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home near Clinton by the Rev. H. G. Wardlaw. Interment was in Rosemont cemetery.

OCCUPIES PULPIT

Rev. John E. Osman, of the Presbyterian college faculty, occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist church Sunday for both morning and evening services.

AROUND THE TOWN Incidents, Unusual and Ordinary, Gathered On Our Rounds.

In a newsreel shown recently at a local theatre, another girl of this vicinity, PVT. ETHEL WRIGHT, was recognized modeling uniforms for the Woman's Army corps. Miss Wright, of Lanford, made her home in Clinton for a number of years, and is now stationed at Sherman, Texas.

Friends of WILLIAM SIDNEY DENSON, of this city, will be interested to know he received his commission as second lieutenant in the coast artillery upon successfully completing the officer candidate course at the anti-aircraft artillery school, Camp Davis, N. C., the past week. Lt. Denson will take up his new duties at Camp Stewart, Ga., after spending a few days furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Denson.

Among the twenty-five Winthrop girls appointed as sophomore Y.W.C.A. commission members were MISSES AME JACOBS and MARCIA GALLOWAY of this city. MISS EMILY DILLARD, also of Clinton, was a member of the staff of the '43 Tatler, Winthrop college yearbook, which won the highest honor rating of All-American in the grading of yearbooks by the National Scholastic Press association. On the staff of typists was MISS WILSON HAMMOND, of Batesburg, who, since her graduation, has become a member of the Clinton high school faculty.

LT. C. C. BRANNON had the honor of shaking hands with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt when she visited his outfit on her recent tour of the Southwest Pacific. He writes that she has a very pleasing personality and is a charming person. Mrs. Brannon was very much surprised the other day to receive a large coconut in the original hull, unwrapped with just her name printed on the shell. It came from a coco palm in a garden near Lt. Brannon's camp in Australia.

MRS. JULIAN S. BOLICK returned yesterday from Hartsville where she attended a meeting of the board of trustees of Coker college. While there she visited her sister, Annette Moorhead, a student at Coker. Mrs. Bolick's little daughters, Margaret Ann and Julie, enjoyed a visit with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moorhead, in Goldville while she was away.

The silver wings of the army air forces and a commission as second lieutenant were presented October 1 to JOHN L. SLOAN, of this city, by Colonel Edgar R. Todd, commanding officer, at the graduation exercises of class 43-1 at the Stuttgart army air field, Stuttgart, Ark. Lt. Sloan, a son of Mrs. E. B. Sloan, was a student at Presbyterian college before entering aviation cadet training.

Lt. Sloan is spending a ten-day leave here with his mother before going to his new assignment at McDill field, Tampa, Fla.

STAFF SERGEANT THOMAS E. BALDWIN is now the engineer of a Flying Fortress crew at the Walla Walla army air base, Washington, where he and his crewmates are receiving last phase training before being transferred to an overseas combat area. Sgt. Baldwin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Baldwin, received his early training at Keesler Field, Miss., and Wendover Guntery school, Wyoming.

On last Wednesday evening more than 200 members of the Presbyterian church family attended the "church loyalty" meeting. Rev. Julian Lake of Rock Hill, who was the guest speaker, brought with him Miss Jane Little and Miss Emily Dillard, students at Winthrop. Mrs. W. C. Twitty, and Miss Sara Hupier, Presbyterian student worker at Winthrop, to attend the rally. So well did members of the circles prepare to feed the guests that after supper boxes were sent to the girls from the church who are attending Winthrop. This thoughtfulness was greatly appreciated, the girls have reported, since nothing tastes quite so good to a college student as a "box of food from home."

This column is in receipt of a letter from CPL. HAROLD L. O'DELL, of Goldville, who has been overseas for a year serving with the marines in the south Pacific. "It is a little hard over here," he writes, "but we don't mind as long as we get more Japs." He also sent the following definition of a marine: "The United States marine is a military phenomenon who looks like a soldier, talks like a sailor, fights like a wild cat, and thinks like a princess of the royal blood. Always a modest fellow, the marine describes himself as a soldier who can read and write."

SGT. CHARLES LEAMAN recently received battlefield promotion to the rank of second lieutenant, according to information received this week by his wife, Mrs. Lucile Gilliam Leaman of Whitmore, and his mother, Mrs. J. E. Leaman of Cross Hill. Lt. Leaman, a member of the Newberry national guard, was inducted into the army in February, 1941. He received his training at Camp Stewart, Ga., with the 431st coast artillery, anti-aircraft. He has been in foreign service since October, 1942. At the time of his promotion, Lt. Leaman was with the army in Sicily.

Friends of R. P. WILDER, who recently moved to Hogansville, Ga., will be interested to know he has accepted a position as coach and director of physical education at Brevard Junior college, Brevard, N. C. Mr. Wilder began his work there yesterday.

CPL. IRBY S. HIPP, JR., of the marines, stationed at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Cal., writes home that he was pleased and surprised to learn of the P. C. victory over Clemson from a San Diego paper. Also that he and Mr. and Mrs. George Cody (the former Miss Rosa Bailey Little of this city) had a nice visit recently when they chanced to meet on the street in Los Angeles.

Pilot Life Buys $6,000,000 Bonds

On September 26 the Pilot Life Insurance company of Greensboro, N. C., purchased $6,000,000 worth of war bonds. To date this was the largest single purchase in the state of North Carolina. W. O. Derrick is the local representative for the Pilot company.

Three Clinton Boys Enlist In the Navy

Three boys from the Clinton area enlisted in the navy during September, it was announced yesterday by D. L. Jones, chief specialist, who is in charge of navy recruiting in this district.

The boys were William Arthur Scogin, 30 Owens street; James Edward Cobb and Benjamin Franklin Harvey, Lydia Mills; They are now at a naval training station preparing themselves for service with the fleet.

A representative of the navy recruiting service will be at the local post office each Thursday for the purpose of interviewing and giving application blanks to interested parties for the navy, naval reserve, Seabees and Waves.
