NEW RECORD IN PRODUCTION OF FOODS FORECAST

Washington, Oct. 18. — Predictions of record-smashing food production this year are now being borne out as American farmers push the harvesting of late crops amid generally favorable weather conditions, the U. S. agriculture department reported today.

Crop production will be about 7 per cent below last year's phenomenal level. But this decline will be more than offset by an indicated increase of 12 per cent in the production of livestock and livestock products, such as cattle, hogs, sheep, poultry and eggs.

Milk output is expected to drop 1 per cent below the 1942 record, the department said.

To meet unprecedented demands for direct food crops there are bumper crops of potatoes, rice, beans, peas and peanuts. Production of the principal oil seeds as a group will be about the same as in 1942 and a third greater than in any other season.

The third largest corn crop on record—3,055,605,000 bushels—is now being gathered, the department said. Last year's corn crop of 3,175,154,000 bushels was the largest ever produced.

This year's wheat crop of 835,816,000 bushels is only about average. The total production of livestock and poultry during the current calendar year will be slightly more than 50,000,000,000 pounds live weight, the department reported.

It said that total production of all fruit crops was indicated to be about 10 per cent below last season's harvest.

Of Course
You're Thrilled, Young Lady!

... So many things have been happening since school started... so many new friends to talk to, and so much to talk about.

Certainly you're thrilled, young lady! But before calling, please remember that all telephone lines are crowded now. If you're a party line user, it's especially important to avoid unnecessary calling — and to speak briefly always. Telephone materials aren't available to build enough lines for everybody, so we must make the most of the facilities we have.

Your help in keeping the lines clear will be appreciated by a lot of people.

"Cutting
pulpwood is essential war work"

says Paul V. McNutt, Chairman of the War Manpower Commission

PULPWOOD is an essential war material, used among other things for making rayon parachutes, shipping containers and smokeless powder. Its many wartime uses have created a shortage which is rapidly becoming acute. With these conditions in mind, the War Manpower Commission has recently classified pulpwood cutting and production of pulp as essential war operations.

"May I urge every man engaged in this essential work, either part or full time, to give it the best he has in him. Let him remember he is wielding his axe and saw in the same struggle and to the same end that other men are wielding bayonets and machine guns.

"I know that the men who work in the forests and pulp mills and the farmers who cut pulpwood from their woodlots are just as patriotic and loyal as any other group of Americans. Now that they realize the importance of their part in the war, I am sure they will respond with the extra hours, extra days and extra effort that is the only possible answer to this dangerous shortage."
