

A MURDER ON THE HIGH SEAS.—New York, August 18.—On the arrival of the steamship Arizona, this morning, Erban Cattlow, an Englishman, was arrested for a murder committed during the passage of the vessel. Thomas Gilmore, the purser, charges that on the 15th, while the vessel was at sea, an altercation occurred between Cattlow and Owen Jones, the steward. Cattlow drew a knife and stabbed Jones in the right side of the neck, severing the jugular vein. Jones died in a few minutes, and, after a post mortem examination, the body was sealed up and cast into the sea. Cattlow was arrested and kept in the cell until the arrival of the vessel in port. He will be taken before the United States Commissioner this afternoon.

A SOUTHERN MERCHANT DIES IN NEW YORK.—New York, August 18.—Farley Ripston Sweet, a merchant of Savannah, Georgia, died at the New York Hotel Sunday morning after a short illness. He had come to the city on business and had been here only six days when he died. The body will be taken to Savannah for burial.

A RIOT IN IRELAND.—London, August 18.—At Lurgan, Ireland, Saturday, a force of police numbering two hundred charged on a mob with fixed bayonets. The police were beaten back and twenty of their number injured. The rival mobs fired at each other with rifles. One of the leaders of the Catholic party had some dynamite in his possession, which exploded, injuring him, it is feared, fatally.

A TERRIFIC STORM.—Wilmington, N. C., August 18.—A terrific storm of wind and rain visited this section early this morning. At 4 o'clock A. M. the velocity of the wind had reached sixty-eight miles per hour. A large number of shade trees were prostrated in the city. Seven houses and sheds were unroofed. No lives were lost.

The foolish man takes his wife to a church sociable and spends $5 for ice cream and cake. The wise man allows his wife to serve on the refreshment committee, and when the evening comes he goes to that church sociable with a market basket. If his wife has improved her opportunities, he comes away ahead of the game. —Huntington (Ind.) Democrat.

IN MEMORIAM.
On the 8th of August, 1879, at his residence, "Farm Hill," near Clarksville Ga., one of the noblest types of manhood we have ever known yielded up his immortal spirit—Dr. George Dugal Phillips. As Dr. Phillips' name for many years was a household word in old Union District, a brief sketch of him will doubtless be interesting to many in whose hearts his memory is still enshrined:

Dr. Phillips was born in Amherst, Va., in 1791. He removed to Union District South Carolina about the year 1812 and commenced the practice of medicine at Goshen Hill. When the troops were called to the defence of Charleston, not long after, Dr. Phillips was enrolled among the volunteers, and after being stationed at "Haddrells Point," he was appointed by Col. Hugh Means Surgeon of the Regiment. After peace was declared he returned to Goshen Hill, and soon after removed to Union Court House. His fame as a Physician was not confined to the district, and his practice became so extensive and laborious as to make serious inroads upon his constitution.

Unsolicited on his part, he was elected to the Legislature by the largest vote ever polled for any member in the district. About 1824 he married Miss Elizabeth Patton, daughter of Mr. James Patton of Asheville, North Carolina, abandoned the practice of medicine, settled upon a farm in Buncombe County, N. C., and devoted himself to Agricultural pursuits. But his reputation as a skilful physician had preceded him. He was frequently called upon, volens volens, to minister to the wants of suffering humanity, and in many a poor man's cottage in the mountain fastnesses he was known as the "Good Samaritan."

About the year 1830 Dr. Phillips removed to Habersham County, Ga., and settled upon a farm near Clarksville. He was devoted to Agriculture, and the quiet life of a farmer had an unusual charm for him; but the people were not content to allow him such enjoyment. He even discovered, too, that his reputation as a Physician had preceded him, and was often called upon, far and wide, as the friendly medical adviser—for he would keep no medicine nor receive any compensation for his services.

In all the improvements of the county he soon became acknowledged "facile princeps," and was consulted upon all matters touching the moral, political or financial progress of the county. Active, prompt, untiring and sagacious, he recognized at a glance the wants of the County, and set about devising the means for developing its resources and elevating the character of its people; and no man ever worked in a good cause more earnestly or more unostentatiously.

Dr. Phillips was repeatedly returned to both branches of the Georgia Legislature, by an almost unanimous vote of his county, and for many years, as Chairman of the most important committees, he discharged his arduous duties with a fidelity and fearlessness characteristic of the man. Unambitious as a Cincinnatus, firm as a Cato, chivalric as a Bayard, charitable in his opinions of those who differed with him, always with a "mens conscia recti," he passed through a stormy political life "sans peur et sans reproche," carrying with him into his retirement the admiration, respect and confidence of all parties.

But Dr. Phillips' private virtues shone even brighter than his public acts. He was always a friend to the poor, a wise and honest counselor, who never hesitated to speak out the truth. He was remarkable in his sagacity in discerning merit in young men, and many young men in South Carolina, North Carolina and Georgia are indebted to his sagacity and interest in them for much of their success in life. His home was ever a synonym for hospitality, and no man ever left his circle without regret. No man ever closed his life with a more unblemished record. "Requiescat in pace."

TO FARMERS!

The Macarthy Horse Power.

I HAVE purchased the C. E. Macarthy's Horse Power for this County and will be pleased to sell to any one the right. I can say with a great degree of confidence that it excels any other horse power I have ever used to gin cotton with. Any one who has old gear run down can attach the Macarthy Horse Power with very little expense. I will state that I can gin as much with three mules with this Power as can be done with four on any of the cogs or trundle heads. The inventor claims a greater power than this.

Mr. LEMASTER will be my Agent.
